COPPERS UP ON METAL'S RISE TO 20C

Lowering of Call Money Rate to 6 Per Cent Also Influence in Stock Market Advance.

MORE DIVERSIFIED BUYING LATE IN DAY

Temporary Employment of Large Surplus of Funds Accumulated for Mid-Month Use.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Lowering of the call money rate from 7 to 6 per cent and a further advance in domestic copper prices to 20 cents a pound provided the background for a general advance in prices in today's stock market after an opening period of irregularity. Trading was relatively light in volume, indicating that many traders and investors preferred to stay out of the market until current easiness over the credit situation had disappeared.

Buying became more diversified in the final hour when pools found an abundance of money available at comparatively lower rates. Coppers continued in the front rank, Miami reaching 50¾ in contrast with last year's low figure of 17¾. Commercial Solvents rose 4¾ points, Electric Auto Lite 6¾ and Rossia Insurance 21¾.

The average of 50 industrial stocks closed .7 of a point higher, 20 rails .3 of a point lower and 20 utilities 1.6 points lower.

Sales aggregated 3,061,750 shares.

The drop in call money was attributed to the temporary employment by banks here of the large surplus of funds accumulated in preparation for the heavy mid-month disbursements and federal income tax payments.

Time money ruled firm around 7¾ per cent with little money available below that figure.

Wall Street Expects Rate Raise.

Wall Street generally expects an increase in the New York Federal Reserve Bank rediscount rate either this week, or next. It was reported that a large short interest had been built up in expectation of the higher rate, and that the rally today represented the driving in of over-extended "shorts" in some of the volatile issues.

Public Utilities were in the forefront of the early afternoon rally. One block of 15,600 shares of Pacific Gas & Electric changed hands at 55¼, or ¾, followed by an advance which wiped out the early loss.

American Express jumped 8½ points; American Railway Express 4¼ and Electric Power & Light, American & Foreign Power and Western Union sold 2½ to 4⅜ points higher, closing unchanged to 3⅜ points net higher.

Radio (new stock), which is now traded in against the delivery of actual certificates, again changed hands in large volume, climbing 3 points. The old stock, which will disappear from the list a week from Friday, jumped 13½ points, closing 6 points net higher. The new stock finished 1⅝ points net up.

Coppers Move Forward

Coppers moved forward under the leadership of Anaconda, Chile and Kennecott, all of which sold 3 to 4 points above last night's closing quotations. Rossia Insurance soared nearly 22 points to a new high at 289¾ and Foundation Co. moved up 5½ to a new top at 61. National Cash Register, Union Carbide and A. M. Byers sold 3 to 5 points higher, closing up 2½ to down 1 net.

There were a few soft spots. Case Threshing Machine broke 16 points to a new low for the year at 435 and Victor Talking Machine sold nearly 7 points lower. At the close, however, Case showed a net loss of only 1 point and Victor 4 points.

Irregularity at Opening.

Anaconda opened with a block of 10,000 shares at 150½, off 1¼, and Canadian Pacific dropped 1¾. Union Carbide, which is expected shortly to announce a stock split-up, opened 3½ points higher. National Cash Register showed an initial gain of 3 points and U. S. Steel common, Packard Motors and Chrysler advanced a point or so. Radio (new stock) opened fractionally lower.

Closing stock prices with other tables and market news will be found on pages 31, 32 and 33.

C. H. BURKE, COMMISSIONER OF INDIAN AFFAIRS, RESIGNS

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Commissioner Charles H. Burke of the Bureau of Indian Affairs has tendered his resignation and it was indicated today that it would be accepted by the President.

The commissioner has been under continuous fire by members of Congress for some time during an investigation of the administration of Indian affairs.

Burke himself had made charges that certain members of Congress were conspiring to oust him, but later withdrew an assertion that Senator Pine (Rep.), Oklahoma, was involved.

He said today that he would serve until a successor is appointed and then would be "very happy indeed to get out."

At the office of Commissioner Winfield Scott of the Pension Bureau it was said that his resignation had been accepted and that he had left office.

TWO CONVICTED OF ARSON IN FIRE AT CLUBHOUSE

Jacob Robinson and William Esche of Valley Park Get Five Years Each.

Jacob Robinson and William Esche, both of Valley Park, were found guilty of arson in the third degree by a jury in Circuit Judge Mulloy's Court in Clayton this afternoon. They were sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. Charles St. John, jointly charged with them in an indictment, was acquitted.

Witnesses testified the men had piled leaves against a vacant club house belonging to Ben Laretta of Valley Park and set fire to them. The fire was extinguished before it caused any considerable damage.

Robinson and Esche testified they had been drinking and that possibly one of them had dropped a lighted match in the leaves after lighting a cigaret. They denied piling the leaves or deliberately firing them.

CHURCH MEMBERS PLEDGE SELVES TO BUY NO LIQUOR

Movement Started in Nashville Based on Hoover's Statement In Inaugural Address.

By the Associated Press.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 12.—Sixty-six members of the First Presbyterian Church men's club signed a resolution last night pledging themselves to abstain from buying liquor. This action followed a sermon delivered Sunday by Dr. James I. Vance, pastor, who indorsed President Hoover's stand on the eighteenth amendment in his inaugural address.

The resolution, signed last night, reads: "I hereby promise my God, my country and my own soul neither to purchase nor procure liquor in violation of the law."

DRY AGENT WHO LAID KILLINGS TO CHICAGO POLICE IS FIRED

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—F. D. Silloway, who charged that Chicago police were involved in the gang murder there last month, has been dismissed from the Prohibition Bureau's staff.

Silloway, who was assistant prohibition administrator at Chicago, was removed from that position and ordered East shortly after he was unable to substantiate the charges made against the Chicago police.

Prohibition Commissioner Doran said he had been dismissed because he had embarrassed the bureau and because the commissioner was not satisfied with his explanation.

LAUNDRIES' PRICE WAR ON; LAID TO ASSOCIATION PLOT

SPYING ON RIVALS' TRUCKS IS CHARGED

Smaller Concerns Appeal to Patrons to Remain Loyal—Also Use Strategy to Keep Names Secret.

A price war to force independent laundries to meet the higher price scale of the St. Louis Laundrymen's Association, or to "starve them out" of business, has been waged for nearly six weeks by members of the association.

The independent operators, about seven of whom are concerned, told the Post-Dispatch today that their company trucks had been followed by private investigators, hired by members of the association, who obtained the customers' addresses. Later, the independents charge, the business of these customers was solicited by dummy companies set up at the homes of employes by members of the St. Louis Laundrymen's Association. The dummy concerns, it is said, quote prices considerably lower than could be profitable to any laundry.

Warren J. Morgan, proprietor of Morgan's Laundry, 3027 Park avenue, formerly a member of the association, but now an independent, said that since Feb. 1 his trucks had been followed and his customers approached by an organization representing itself as the State Laundry, which, Morgan asserts, is in fact a temporary station of the Excelsior-Leader Laundry, his chief competitor and member of the St. Louis Laundrymen's Association.

Price on "Wet Wash" Varies.

"The main difference in price between association laundries and independents," Morgan said, "is on 'wet wash.' The price charged by members of the association is six cents a pound, and we charge five. We can operate at a good profit at five cents and so can they, but they don't want to and they don't want us to.

"If we go up to their price, the larger laundries with greater facilities for getting business provide competition too stiff for the smaller operator.

"But we have been prospering at 5 cents and it has cut into the business of the larger laundries. That's why we refused to go into the association. We feel we should be allowed to run our own business. The big fellows couldn't beat us on a competitive scale and this is what they've done:

"At least five laundries have set up 'offices' in the homes of employes. Business taken at those 'offices,' which largely consists of the customers they persuade to leave the independents, is done at regular prices except for that one item—wet wash. Any independent laundry's customers can have their wet wash done for 3 cents a pound at 'The Peoples' Laundry,' 912 Eastgate avenue; the 'State Laundry,' 5606 Lisette avenue; 'The Fair Laundry,' the 'White Star Laundry,' 4675 Farlin avenue, or the 'Coronado Laundry,' 4435 Kossuth avenue.

Charges "Freeze-Out" Attempt.

"No one can make a profit at that price, and it has been made solely to drive us out of business or to make us raise our price as high as that charged by association members. We are damned if we do, and if they succeed we are damned if we don't. We can't compete at the higher price, and some of the independents, at least, will be forced out of business if the price war continues."

I. Rudman, president of the Acme Laundry Co., 2912 Easton avenue, and Leonard Boal, proprietor of the Hy-Grade Laundry of 2724 Park avenue, both independents, have sent letters to their customers advising them that the "price war" has brought a temporary decrease in the wet wash price and asking for support and loyalty.

Rudman told a Post-Dispatch reporter that for a time he had thrown the "spies" for the association members off the trail of his trucks, by hiring five new delivery trucks without signs. But the investigators countered by phoning fake orders.

"When the trucks arrived at the call," Rudman said, "the detectives would be there to write down the truck license number and thumb their noses at the drivers. They've taken $160 a week off my business for the last three or four weeks."

$4,300,000 TAX INCREASE BILL KILLED IN HOUSE

Governor Requests Laying Aside of Rural Members' Proposal to Saddle Extra Levies on Cities.

ECONOMY PROGRAM TO TAKE ITS PLACE

By CURTIS A. BETTS,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 12.—The $4,300,000 taxation increase bill, providing for large increases in the corporation franchise and income tax rates definitely was killed in the House this morning, through the influence of Gov. Caulfield. Informed that the Governor was unalterably opposed to the bill, its authors postponed action on it indefinitely.

This was decided upon late yesterday at a conference of the Governor, Speaker Parker of the House, Representatives Elmer of Salem, and Freeland of Forsyth, majority floor leader. The two latter were among the authors of the measure.

The bill was set as a special order for final passage in the House at 10 o'clock this morning. As soon as the House convened, Elmer made the motion that it be postponed indefinitely. He said: "There have been several conferences with the Governor. He thinks the State can get by without increasing taxes at this time, that economies which can be inaugurated will take care of the situation. He wishes the bill postponed, and, if later on, it is found that more revenue is needed, the matter can then be taken up."

Not a Dissenting Vote.

The motion was carried without debate and without a dissenting vote, the House realizing that over the opposition of the Governor it would be impossible to enact the legislation, and that even if the bill was passed it probably would be vetoed.

In attempting to provide more revenue for the State, rural members framed the bill, which provides for an increase of 50 per cent in the corporation franchise and income tax rates, and an increase of the rate on property from 5 cents to 8 cents on the $100 valuation. The increase would have fallen principally on the five larger cities of the State, St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph, Springfield and Joplin. It has been estimated that in excess of 90 per cent of the corporation franchise tax is paid from these cities, and more than 80 per cent of the income tax. The property tax payments are about equally divided between the cities and the remainder of the State.

For a week it has been the expectation that the measure would fail of passage. It was set for a special order for last Wednesday, but action on it was postponed at the request of the Governor, who asked that he be given time to consider it. He indicated that he might have suggestions to make to the Legislature.

No Increased Taxes This Year.

The Governor's study of the bill and conferences he had with State officials of the revenue departments apparently led him to the conclusion that there should be no increase in taxation this year.

He followed his usual policy of making no public statement of his views on legislation, and as late as 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon said at his conference with newspaper men that he would issue no statement on the tax bill. An hour later he met the House leaders.

His attitude, as explained by one of them, was that he believed economics in all of the departments would effect a sufficient saving to enable the State to meet urgent needs during the next two years, and that if it was found that additional money was needed, the question of increasing taxes could be considered then.

He is said to have suggested that the bill be not pressed and the House leaders agreed, in view of the Governor's power to veto the bill if passed.

Intense opposition has developed to the measure, and its support never was particularly strong. Business interests in all of the larger cities of the State have deluged legislators with telegrams opposing it, and vitually all members from the larger cities are lined up against it.

Its support originally was prin-

CALLES ADVANCES 30 MILES ON WAY TOWARD TORREON

His Army of 18,000 Proceeding as Rapidly as Repair of Railway Lines From Canitas Permits.

REBELS WRECKED BRIDGES ON ROUTE

Objective Held by Gen. Escobar With 6000 Men — Revolutionists Move on Mazatlan.

By the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, March 12.—A rapid approach on the rebel headquarters at Torreon from the South was reported in an official Government bulletin this afternoon. It stated that Federal troops were near that important city which the rebel, Gen. Escobar, holds with 6000 men.

The communique said that the troops were continuing northward as rapidly as repair work on the railroad lines would permit.

Troops of the advancing army of 18,000 are taking repair trains for work in turns. Gen. Calles, commander of the chief Government forces, has moved his headquaters to the town of Rio Grande, about 30 miles northwest of Canitas, in order to be in a better position to watch the advance.

Railway Bridges Destroyed.

The rebels reported destruction of railway bridges between Camacho and Torreon, which would hold the Federals up several days, giving the insurgents an opportunity to gather reinforcements for Gen. Escobar.

Events of yesterday hoistered optimism in Government circles. Between Canitas and Durango City the Federal Gen. Rodrigo Quevada caught up with the rebel general, Francisco Urbalejo. One hundred and thirty-five of his followers surrendered leaving him with only a few followers, with whom he himself escaped. The surrender occurred between the railroad stations of San Felipe and Pasterlera. Among those surrendering were Lieut. Col. Luis B. Duenas and nine other officers.

Rebel General Surrenders.

At Santa Lucrecia, Southern Vera Cruz, Gen. Alejandro Manje, from the Tehuantepec area, received the voluntary unconditional surrender of Gen. Simon Aguirre, brother of Gen. Jesus M. Aguirre, leader of the revolt in Vera Cruz.

Twelve lower ranking officers and 13 soldiers surrendered with Aguirre. The prisoners were taken to Agusto, Vera Cruz, to await court martial. Troops continued close pursuit of Gen. Jesus Aguirre, who was said to have but two men with him.

Surrender of these officers and of the only remaining large contingent of rebel troops in Vera Cruz at Juanita yesterday definitely removes the south from the revolt.

A Government statement said Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan was leaving Monterrey for an offensive against Saltillo. The wording of the statement indicated a body of rebel troops was operating in that district. Almazan had been previously reported to have occupied Saltillo, which is the capital of Coahuila but rather far removed from other rebel activity in the state.

Rebels Advancing on Mazatlan.

Official announcements said a rebel advance guard of 400 or 500 of the army of Gen. Roberto Cruz had reached Quila, south of Cuiliacan, Sinaloa, and was continuing its advance toward Mazatlan, west coast seaport held by Gen. Jaime Carillo.

A manifesto condemning the present revolution was issued last night by the Obregonista bloc of the Chamber of Deputies, which was considered significant here in view of the fact that some former followers of the late Alvara Obregon are leading the revolution in Sonora.

The manifesto was signed by all officers of the bloc and was addressed to all social classes of the republic. It called upon everyone for effective collaboration with and support of the Government in the existing crisis and declared that Mexico never had known a military coup or attempted revolution so destitute of ideals as the present one.

"What slogan or even what subterfuge, can the authors of the rebellious movement invoke in explanation of their attitude?" the manifesto asked.

The legitimacy of the Government of President Portes Gil was declared to be free from the slightest blemish and to have been recognized by the entire country, including the army and all foreign nations. The activities of the Government in carrying out the social

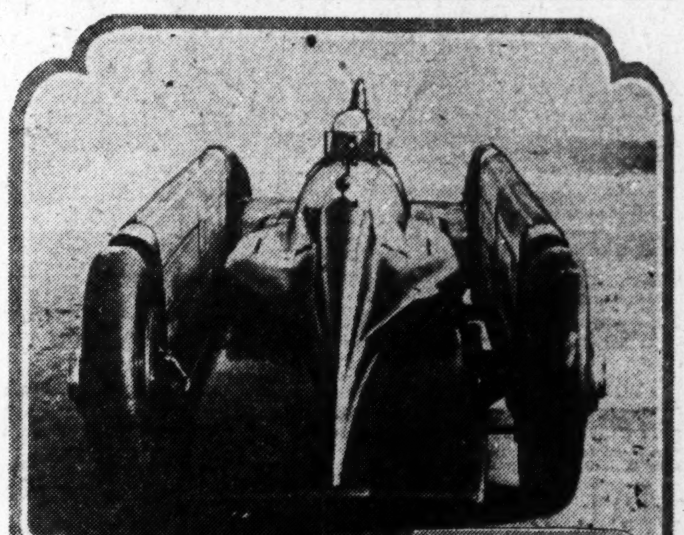
Speed Car and Driver



"THE GOLDEN ARROW."

MAJ. H. O. D. SEGRAVE.

HOW SEGRAVE DROVE 231 MILES AN HOUR

Steered at Swinging Targets Which He Followed Through Telescopic Sight.

By the Associated Press.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 12.—Adverse weather conditions today caused a postponement until tomorrow of the speed trials of Lee Bible, driver of J. M. White's triplex racing car, who hopes to break the world's record of 231 miles an hour, set here yesterday by Maj. H. O.'s Segrave of England.

Bible made a test run north over the course, flashing over the measured mile at a speed of 190.67796 miles an hour. Visibility was extremely poor.

Segrave was not satisfied with his mark. He said last night he thought his "Golden Arrow" could attain a maximum speed of 240 miles an hour and indicated today that if weather conditions tomorrow were favorable he might make another run.

Never before was technical arrangement so perfected for a speed trial as that of yesterday. Not only was the mechanical perfection of the machine taken into consideration but the weather, tide, beach condition and even targets at which the car was aimed by its driver, all had a place in the arrangements which made the record breaking run possible.

To be officially timed, a driver must make two runs, one north and one south on the beach, with and against the wind, to determine the average speed.

Steers to Two Bull's Eyes.

At the far ends of the beach speedway two great bull's eyes were set up. Suspended between posts the great targets swung while far down the beach a human eye, traveling at nearly bullet speed, was glued on them during the tests through a regular telescopic sighting arrangement similar to that which might be found on a big gun.

The second run was easier for Segrave as the driver not only had the targets at which to aim his car but had his previous tracks to follow if he lost momentarily in the mist the sight of his targets.

Through all this co-ordinated effort and pre-arrangement the new and amazing world's automobile speed record went back to England at the hand of the first man who drove a car 200 miles an hour in official trials.

When Segrave finished his tests yesterday he first declared under the stress of the strain that he would never race again unless White beat his present record. Later in his hotel, after he had thought things over, he decided he wanted to drive the "Golden Arrow" at its highest speed and if his managers will sanction him, he may try again.

Beats Record Keech Set.

With his 12-cylinder machine, Segrave eclipsed by 23.81 miles an hour the former record of 207.55 set here last year by Ray Keech in the Triplex. The new mark also surpassed by 28 miles an hour the record of 203 which Segrave set here in 1927, with his Sunbeam special.

On his first official run north, Maj. Seagrave made the measured mile in 15.55 seconds for the amazing speed of 231.51125 miles an hour. His second trial, made southward over the course, was clocked at 15.57 seconds for a speed of 231.21387 miles an hour. His average elapsed time was 15.56

JUDGE REBUKES JURY FOR SPEEDY VERDICT

Out Less Time Than It Took to Read Instructions, Calhoun Says.

A jury which returned a verdict in a damage case today after only 10 minutes' deliberation was rebuked for its speed by Circuit Judge Calhoun, who indicated that he might set their decision aside and grant a new trial.

"Your duty as jurors is to give consideration to the law and evidence in the case," the Judge remarked. "But apparently you have not done so when you return a verdict in less time than it took the court to read its instructions. When a litigant comes into court he is entitled to have the case considered by the court's jury."

The case was a suit for $10,000 by Mr. and Mrs George Schlueter, 2119A South Twelfth boulevard, against Paul O. Stewart, 22, 3315A Missouri avenue, for the death of their 4-year-old son, Thomas, who was killed Sept. 17, 1926, by Stewart's automobile at Missouri avenue and Withnell street. The jury returned a verdict for Stewart, disregarding testimony that the boy was visible in the street for 100 feet before he was struck while attempting to cross with his father. Stewart declared he was driving at 15 miles an hour and tried to stop 15 feet from the child.

EX-GOV. SMITH GRINDS OUT OLD TUNES ON HAND ORGAN

Buys Green and Red Hurdy-Gurdy and Plays It in Suite at Hotel Biltmore.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The Evening Post says former Gov. Alfred E. Smith has bought a hand organ and installed it in Hotel Biltmore where he has a suite.

For days other occupants of the Biltmore wondered whence came those ancient strains—"Darling I am Growing Old," "Ach, Du Lieber Augustine," "East Side, West Side" and "When You and I Were Young, Maggie." Today the secret was out. It was Smith playing his grind organ.

It seems that the John J. Raskob children have a barrel organ. Smith saw it and wasn't happy until he had one himself.

The Smith hurdy gurdy is bravely painted in green, with fine red trimmings. It has spindly legs with rollers and an old-fashioned hand crank.

"Now if I only had one of those monkeys from my old Albany zoo," the former Governor is quoted as saying to his guests on the evening the organ arrived. "I could go out and make a good living."

ELIHU ROOT'S FORMULA SERVES AS BASIS FOR IT

COMPLETE DRAFT READY TOMORROW

Sub-Committee Which Includes American Proponent of Plan Agrees on First Three Articles.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, March 12.—League of Nations officials announced this evening that an agreement virtually had been reached on the main points of the protocol for adherence of the United States to the World Court of Justice.

The agreement is based upon the formula of Elihu Root, modified in line with suggestions made by Sir Cecil Hurst of Great Britain and Nicholas Politis, Greek delegate.

It emphasizes the holding of negotiations with the United States as soon as the Council decides to act for an advisory opinion.

Complete accord was reached on the text of the first three articles. A subcommittee, which includes Root, is expected to bring in a complete draft tomorrow.

The committee of jurists examining the question of American adhesion today discussed the position that the United States Government should deal primarily and mainly with the Council of the League of Nations on the problem of advisory opinions.

Several of the jurists insisted that there should be a clear distinction between the political and juridical aspects of the question, and thought there should be a clear understanding that the political side should be handled at Geneva.

Nicholas Politis, the Greek elegate, introduced a proposal based upon the formula of Elihu Root, which emphasizes this point and arranges for a swift consultation between Geneva and Washington to determine whether the American Government has any objection to calling for an advisory opinion on a particular subject.

The noted Greek statesman thought that no one must lose sight of the fact that the privilege which the Council possesses of asking advisory opinions is political in character and should not be interfered with or retarded when once in operation. Hence he wanted a quick consultation with Washington at the start rather than to await for the time when the Court, having received a request for an opinion from the Council, notified the United States and had received the American view.

The Root formula provides for both kinds of consultation, but tends to emphasize those negotiations which would be held after the Court was juridically in possession of any question.

The committee was much struck by a speech of Arnold Raestad, former Norwegian Foreign Minister, who made three points:

(1) That the United States does not want to interfere with internal problems; for instance, to concern itself with the debated question of whether opinions should be asked by a majority or unanimous vote of the council.

(2) That in case of a difference of opinion, the United States was ready to talk things over.

(3) That the United States does not claim an absolute right of veto, but merely the right of negotiation, and the right of resignation from the Court if an agreement should be found impossible.

HOOVER'S FARM PLAN TO STRESS CO-OPERATIVES

DETAILS TO BE GIVEN IN OPENING MESSAGE

President Expects to Reduce Public Receptions at White House to One a Week, to Save Time.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Carch 12.—With the special session still a month away, President Hoover is turning his thoughts toward the development of plans for dealing with farm relief in his message to Congress when it assembles in extraordinary session.

Already the President has given much thought to the problem and his views largely are being followed by the committees of the Senate and the House in planning hearings to work out the legislation. These will be opened several weeks before the special session starts.

Although Mr .Hoover is reserving public disclosure of his plans for his message to Congress, it is known that the committees are preparing to approach the task largely from the co-operative marketing angle.

Also for Tariff Revision.

In several of his speeches last summer Mr. Hoover stressed the part that he feels co-operative marketing must play in assuring the farmer a proper price for his product. Along with co-operative marketing, he placed tariff revision an the development of cheaper transportation to markets.

Some of those who have been closely associated with the President and appear to hold views similar to his own think that success in dealing with the farm problem can come only when the marketing of agricultural products has been developed to keep pace with production. They recognize that there are wide differences in the marketing systems that must be established for handling different crops and that methods must vary between perishable and staple products.

Co-operative Fund Proposed.

One of the proposals advanced for dealing with the problem has been creation of a fund to aid co-operative organizations, but the method of promoting the growth of these marketing agencies must be evolved largely after the testimony of various experts has been submitted to the congressional committees.

In the midst of his consideration of farm relief, however, the President still finds time for innumerable conferences on patronage, Federal appointments, immigration, prohibition and other subjects.

Mr. Hoover is planning to cut to a minimum the public receptions which for years have been a daily feature of the White House program. This week, instead of the customery six the number has been reduced to two, and later, the President expects to hold but one each week.

It has been customary for the chief executive to receive each day all who call at the White House with a letter of introduction from their Senator or Representative, and at times the number of these has run into the thousands, with the result that they have consumed much of the President's time and interfered with conferences.

Texan Urged for Shipping Board.

The appointment of William E. Lea of Orange, Tex., to the United States Shipping Board to fill the vacancy which will occur with the expiration of Commissioner Smith's term in June, was recommended to Mr. Hoover by Senators Sheppard and Connally, both Democrats, of Texas, who also indorsed the suggestion that Samuel McCorkle of Mexia, Tex., be placed on the proposed law enforcement commission.

Representative Cramton (Rep.) of Michigan discussed prohibition briefly with the President and asked that he appoint Judge George Young of the New York Customs Court to the United States Court of Customs Appeals. Representative Robison (Rep.), Kentucky, recommended the appointment of Charles I. Dawson as Solicitor General.

Congressmen Call.

Several members of Congress called yesterday to pay their respects. These included Senators Goff and Hatfield of West Virginia, both Republicans; Senator Copeland (Dem.), New York: Pine (Rep.), Oklahoma, and Thomas (Rep.), Idaho.

The President also conferred with Secretaries Kellogg, Mitchell and Hyde on routine matters involving their departments, except that the Secretary of State brought latest advices from the Mexican revolution. Attorney-General Mitchell has yet to turn over to the President the opinion he has requested upon the mandatory provisions of the national origins clause of the immigration laws, although he expects to have it ready for the Chief Executive within a few days.

Thousands of spectators lined the sand dunes for miles parallel to the course.

Visibility was not perfect, however, and the beach course was a little rough in spots. A brisk east wind was blowing directly off the ocean, which tended to help Segrave to keep his machine from running too far out of the course while traveling at such a tremendous speed.

Electing to make his first official run north over the course, Maj. Segrave drove his powerful car southward over the beach at a clip of 177 miles an hour to make sure it was working perfectly. Mechanics made a hasty, last-minute check of the giant machine, filled the cooling system with ice and pronounced it ready for the official trials.

When word was received that Segrave was ready to start his trials, the spectators were on their feet in an instant and craning their necks to catch the first glimpse of the powerful car as it burst into view far down the course.

Car Appears Like a Blur.

Far down the course, the roar of the giant machine could be heard. A few seconds later the car flashed by the grand stand at the start of the official mile, gaining such tremendous speed that it seemed the machine fairly skimmed over the hard packed sands. Traveling at such a fast clip, the machine appeared like a blur before the eyes of the spectators, as it sped down the course and came to a stop four miles away. So fast was it going that it was impossible to distinguish the driver in the cockpit.

When Segrave's speed was announced, a wild cheer rose from the stand.

After a short delay at the north end of the course, during which time Segrave changed all four wheels and tires and replenished the ice supply in his cooling system, the driver notified the officials he was ready to make his second run over the course.

Jumping to their feet as the car appeared far down the beach, the spectators again assumed a tense and motionless posture as their eyes followed the machine back down the course. With a tremendous burst of speed the car crossed the mile at the north end of the course, gaining momentum rapidly as it neared the stands and flashed by the spectators with another deafening roar.

Almost in an instant it had disappeared far down the beach in light mist that had been kicked up by the surf. The second run, 2-100ths of a second slower than the first, was as replete with thrills as his initial trial.

After stopping for a few minutes at the south end of the course, Segrave drove his machine slowly back up the beach and stopped in front of the grandstand. Immediately he was surrounded by hundreds of cheering spectators. Segrave climbed out of his car, shook hands with many of his admirers and observed he was glad to have been able to establish a record.

Wife Covers Eyes During Trial.

The first person to reach his side was his wife. She had sat in the grandstand during the trials, but would not witness the race. She kept her hands over her face, fingered nervously with a handkerchief and occasionally put a smelling salts vial to her nose.

When Segrave brought his machine to a stop in front of the grandstand, she rushed out on to the course, embraced him and congratulated him. Then she posed with her proud husband, while cameramen recorded the scene.

Among the first to rush out and grasp the driver's hand was Keech, who set the former record of 207 miles an hour here last year. Others included Tommy Milton, veteran American race car driver, who set a record of 156 miles an hour here several years ago; Bob McDonough, protege of Milton, and White, Philadelphia, owner of the Triplex.

Sprayed by Water.

Segrave said on his two trials he did not have his motor wide open and that he thought he could have set a record of from eight to 10 miles faster than he did. His car performed "wonderfully well," he said.

"There was only one time when I was in trouble," he added, "and that was on my first run north. A tap on my cooling system came off and allowed water to spray over me, but I fought it off successfully."

Segrave said the beach was not in perfect condition for the trials and that the visibility "was worse." There were two bad bumps near the middle of the measured mile, which gave him a scare when he hit them, he said, but he had no difficulty in keeping his car under control.

The driver said he did not think the ocean speedway here would do for speeds much higher than 240 miles an hour, because of poor visibility due to the mist of breakers and lack of enough length for the requisite running start.

"I really expected something serious—you know what I mean—a skid—a bump. That would have placed me in danger," he said.

"At least 11 times during the run back and forth I ran into the water. I could feel the car slow up each time my wheels dipped into the surf.

Hurled 30 Feet in Air by Bumps.

Segrave said the reason he ran through so much water was because he found the sand harder nearer the surf than higher up on the beach.

"At one time," he said, "I attempted to run higher but got into soft sand and this caused me to have considerable difficulty with steering until I got back near the water.

"The perfect construction of my car is attested to by the fact that several times I struck bad bumps near the middle of the mile course which caused my car to leave the ground and hurtle through the air 30 or 40 feet before I came back down on the course. The steering apparatus worked perfectly and at no time was I in danger."

Immediately after the race, Segrave telephoned his father in London and told him of the success of the venture.

200-GALLON STILL FOUND IN HOUSE AT 3015 BELL AV.

Triple Condenser, Six Vats With 25,000 Gallons of Mash, and Alcohol Seized —Man and Boy Held.

A large distilling plant was uncovered last night when prohibition agents and police raided a three-story house at 3015 Bell avenue, which had been under surveillance for several days. Two arrests were made.

A triple-condenser whisky still with a daily capacity of 200 gallons was found in operation on the second floor. On the second and third floors were six wooden vats containing approximately 25,000 gallons of corn mash; an electric pump operated by a four-horsepower motor; 35 gallons of alcohol; 15 empty cans, and 13 sacks of coke.

To support the heavy vats and still, the building had been reinforced with timbers on the inside. From the outside the house seemed unoccupied.

The raiders arrested a man who said he was Samuel Di Bartolo, 21 years old, a cab driver, 5440 Botanical avenue, and a 14-year-old Negro, Adell Lyons, who has no home. Di Bartolo said a stranger hired him last Sunday to run the still. The boy said he had been hired to stir the mash, for which he was to be paid $15 a week and permitted to sleep in the house.

The man was held for Federal prosecution. The boy was taken to the House of Detention.

DEMOCRATS NOT TO ENTER ANYONE AGAINST NOLTE

Louis Nolte will serve a fourth four-year term as City Comptroller, the Democratic City Committee this afternoon having decided not to file a candidate against him for election next month.

The Democratic Committee agreed Nolte had made an exceptionally efficient Comptroller. As no candidate filed for the Democratic nomination subjject to the recent primary, it was within the province of the Democratic City Committee to designate a candidate against Nolte in the April election.

Mayor's Miller's plurality over former Mayor Kiel, in the Republican mayoralty primary last Friday, was 13,919, as shown by the official count of that part of the primary vote, completed by the Election Board today. The unofficial count, made by clerks employed by the newspapers, and published Saturday, gave Miller a lead of 13,900, or 19 less than he is now shown to have. The official vote is: Miller, 91,895; Kiel, 77,976. The official figures do not change the ward results, 18 wards for Miller and 10 for Kiel.

Nolte, unopposed for the Republican nomination for Comptroller, got 170,626, or 751 more than Miller and Kiel combined, their total vote being 169,871.

WOMAN HURT BY FALLING GLASS

Mrs. Minnie Ohlsen, 4243A Red Bud avenue, walking west in Olive street today, suffered fractures of the left forearm and right ankle when a high wind shattered a window in the second floor of the Arcade Building, Eighth and Olive streets, and showered glass on the crowded sidewalk below. Other passersby escaped injury.

The window was in a part of the building occupied by the Bond Clothing Co. Mrs. Ohlsen was treated at the downtown emergency hospital in the Arcade Building.

CASHIER HELD UP, $3060 STOLEN, AT GRAND AND PARK

Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. Branch Employe Robbed in Lobby of Building at 10 A. M.

Joseph Langhammer, cashier for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. branch in the Nicholas Building, southeast corner of Grand boulevard and Park avenue, was held up in the lobby of the building at 10 a. m. today and robbed of $3,060 in cash.

The robber, a young man, had loitered in the narrow corridor with his hands in his pockets for almost two hours and had aroused the curiosity of the elevator operator. Langhammer descended from the fifth floor offices of the company and stepped into the lobby when the robber stepped close to him and pressed a pistol against his neck.

"Cut it out!" snapped the cashier, thinking for a moment that another employe was teasing him. The robber pressed the pistol against his neck and snatched three envelopes from under Langhammer's arm. As Langhammer realized he was being robbed, the robber dashed for a rear door, behind the elevator, locked the door behind him and fled into the alley.

Langhammer and other men who were in the lobby ran out the Grand boulevard exit and around the corner to Park avenue in time to see the robber running east past Harris Teachers' College. A crowd of 10 or 15 men chased the robber two blocks east, a block south and into an alley where he disappeared.

At the time of the robbery, Langhammer was on his way to the Shaw State Bank, directly across the street, to make a regular daily deposit. The company's loss was insured.

cipally from members representing rural districts, and they were by no means united for it, many objecting to any increase in the direct property tax rate, which would fall on all property in the State. They did not object to the larger cities paying more through income and corporation franchise taxes, which reach the rural districts to a very limited extent, but they did object to any higher taxes in the country.

Decision to kill the measure can have no other effect than to limit appropriations for educational and eleemosynary institutions to approximately the amounts they received two years ago, and will preclude any material progress in correcting the inequalities of the public school system of any improvements in the eleemosynary institutions.

It is understood to be the Governor's intention to continue to urge the passage of his bills providing for the creation of commissions to make a survey of the school situation, and a survey of the State institutions to determine accurately their needs as to new buildings and increased equipment.

program of the Calles and Obregon administrations and the energetic attitude of the Government in the interests of the agrarian and laboring classes was reviewed. Portes Gil as President was declared to have been completely aloof from partisan politics and to have afforded effective protection to all presidential candidates to conduct legitimate campaigns.

The Government announced today that it had confiscated Mexico City property belonging to prominent rebel leaders and would sell at auction to help defray costs of suppressing the revolution.

Among those named were Gov. Fausto Topete, Gen. Cruz and Gen. Francisco Manzo, all of Sonora, and Gen. Jèsus M. Aguirre.

The Cruz property was valued at about 300,000 pesos (about $150,000). Gen. Manzo's property included two houses as did Gov. Topete's. Gen. Aguirre had a house and furniture. All bank accounts also were confiscated.

The seizures were made under the terms of a recently promulgated regulation providing for confiscation of property of those guilty of sedition.

FEDERALS TAKE NACO BY TRICK

By the Associated Press.

BISBEE, Ariz., March 12.—Gen. Augustino Olachea, who had been entrusted by Mexican rebel leaders with the command of 2000 Sonora Indian troops, today took possession of Naco, Sonora, in the name of the Federal Government.

Gen. Olachea's troops had been destined for Torreon to reinforce the rebel armies preparing for battle there.

Reports from Naco, border rail town 12 miles south of here, said Gen. Olachea had pretended to join the revolutionary movement, but in fact had remained loyal to the Mexico City Government. He executed his coup when he had gathered 1200 of his followers in Naco.

Gen. Olachea announced he was dispatching 400 men eastward to capture Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas, Ariz. He was also preparing to move on the rebel stronghold of Nogales, Sonora.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., March 12.—A counter move by rebel leaders to recapture Naco, Sonora, was launched from Agua Prieta, across the border from here. A body of 500 troops was dispatched to Naco.

EL PASO, Tex., March 12.—Col. Alvarado Reyes of the Mexican Federal army died today of wounds suffered last Friday in the fight for control of Juarez.

NOGALES, Ariz., March 12. — Mexican revolutionary leaders along the border were silent today as they awaited the drawing of battle lines near Torreon and Mazatlan and the approach of the crisis in their attempt to overthrow the Mexico City Government.

An army of 2000 rebels, consisting largely of Yaqui and Mayo Indians, was camped at Agua Prieta, Sonora, this morning. They were recruited from various points in Sonora and are being moved into Chihuahua. From there they are to move South to join the armies of Gen. Escobar, commander-in-chief of the Revolutionary forces in an attempt to stem the advance of the Mexican Federal froces under Gen. P. Elias Calles.

Revolutionary leaders said this detachment would need at least two days to effect a junction with Escobar's men and that the rebel general needed the 2000 fighters to face Calles.

In the West, attention was centered on the cautious advance of rebels toward Mazatlan Sinaloa, where the loyal Federal General Jaime Carillo is entrenched with 2000 men. This advance was being conducted by Gen. Ramon F. Iturbe. About 5000 rebels are said to be converging upon Mazatlan from various points.

Many Americans crossed the international line to see the Revolutionists at Naco. Attention was centered on the equipment of the insurgents which consisted of late model Enfield and Winchester rifles. Every soldier carried two or three cartridge belts and a bayonet. All were warmly dressed, many of them wrapped i Indian blankets but wearing straw hats with the crimson band. They were either fitted in sandals or barefooted.

Newspaper men who visited the camp were surprised to find a large amount of American money in circulation among the rebel soldiers. A total of $10,000 was packed in money bags near detachment headquarters, occupied by Generals Augustun Olochea and Roman Yocupicio, the latter, a Yaqui Indian.

U. S. RUSHING ARMS TO MEXICO

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The State Department announced yesterday that the United States Government does not recognize the Mexican revolutionists as belligerents.

Such recognition would give them a formal standing in their fight to overthrow the Government at Mexico City which the United States is aiding in its efforts to put down the rebellion.

Drawing encouragement from the latest dispatches from Mexico, administration officials speeded up the work of getting arms and ammunition to the Southern Government from the surplus stocks of the Army. It was understood that 10,000 rifles and 10,000,000 rounds of ammunition would be shipped South, but Secretary of War Good declined to go into details either as to quantities or the route over which they would be shipped.

The War Department head explained that this information might be regarded as a military secret by the Mexican Government and that for the Washington administration to divulge it might bring forth justified criticism.

State and War Department officials concerned themselves with the disposition of the 300 Federal troops which formed the garrison at Juarez and their families which were taken to Fort Bliss after the rebels captured the Mexican border town opposite El Paso. Final decision on this will await official word from Mexico City as to the wishes of that Government.

FEWER AND BETTER CAMPAIGN MEETINGS

Only "Real Speakers" Will Be Used to Aid Miller, Committee Decides.

Fewer and better mass meetings in the coming brief mayoralty campaign, are planned by the Republican City Committee, the finance subcommittee of which met at City Hall this afternoon.

Chairman Pape said that, according to present plans, only five or six meetings for the public would be held by the Republicans in the campaign. They will be good-sized meetings, each for a group of wards rather than one ward, and will be addressed by "real speakers." Candidates for Aldermen who have not a flair for oratory will be invited to sit on the stage, but will not be asked to speak.

"We want to assure those who attend our meetings that they will hear something worth while," Pape said, "and not a lot of men getting up and apologizing for their inability to make a speech." The opening meeting will probably be held in North St. Louis Turner Hall, Twentieth and Salisbury streets, some night next week.

The finance subcommittee voted to assess Aldermanic candidates $300 each, or one-tenth of one year's salary, and the nominees for Mayor and Comptroller $1000 each. The Mayor's salary is $10,000 and the Comptroller's $8000. The assessment will total $6200.

Charles R. Gillespie, treasurer of the City Committee, said after a talk with Chairman Pape that $40,000 would be the amount the committee would try to raise for the campaign. Before talking with Pape, he had estimated that $75,000 was needed.

Asked whether city employes would be expected to give to the Republican fund, Gillespie said, "We will let them know we need money, and they can give what they wish to. There will be no assessing them. What they think they can give, we will take.

"We will send out an appeal to the people on our mailing list," the treasurer continued, "and what we receive, we will spend on the campaign."

CHILDREN VIEW SKELETON, THINK IT IS MOTHER'S

Sons and Daughters Tentatively Identify Body as That of Mrs. Ella Brady Espinos.

FALSE TEETH SENT TO WOMAN'S DENTIST

His Opinion Expected to Complete Identification—Will Seek Missing Young Husband in Mexico.

The four children of Mrs. Ella Brady Espinos, 57 years old of East Chicago, Ind., today tentatively identified a skeleton found Sunday under the brush beside the Telegraph road near Oakville as that of their mother who disappeared here last September while on a honeymoon trip with her 19-year-old Mexican husband, Rudolph Espinos.

The children, Frank, Ralph and Anne Brady and Mrs. Florence Bluck, accompanied by the latter's husband, William Bluck, drove here overnight from East Chicago and viewed the skeleton at an undertaking parlor at 744 Lemay Ferry road.

Owing to decomposition and the faded and torn condition of the garments, the children were not positive, but they have given up hope that their mother is alive.

Further identification will rest with Dr. Anthony Sirlin, an East Chicago dentist, who made for the mother an upper plate of false teeth mounted on aluminum, with two of the teeth filled with gold to make it look natural. A similar plate, found beside the skeleton, will be sent to Dr. Sirlin who informed the children of Mrs. Espinos that he could identify his own handiwork. The children have ordered the skeleton sent to East Chicago for burial, contingent on identification of the dental work.

Hair "Looks Like Mother's."

It was a saddened group of children—incidentally, they are all older than the missing Mexican—who viewed the remains at the undertaking establishment. Their mother had bobbed red hair which she dyed brown. The hair on the skull was about six inches long and a faded red.

"That looks like mother's," they said.

Their mother wore a bronze button inscribed "Hollow Tree Gang, W. S. M.," indicating membership in a readers' club of the Western Story Magazine. Such a button was found beside the skeleton.

"It was a button like that," one daughter said. "Of course, there must be hundreds of those buttons."

The children carried a photograph of their mother, which showed a coat, dress and shoes corresponding with the remnants found with the skeleton. The coat was trimmed with fur at collar and cuffs and had only one button; the shoes had open-work effects; and the dress had decorative stitching in the shape of diamonds.

Son Tells of Romance.

Circumstances of the romance of the 57-year-old widow and the youthful blue-eyed, curly haired Mexican were related by Frank Brady as follows:

"Our father died March 8, 1921, leaving mother two houses worth about $40,000. She made her home with three of us children and we were all happy until she met that Mexican last May.

"Mother was going to her summer cottage at Kilbourn, Wis., and I hired Espinos to move some furnishings there. I hired him because he was cheap—he had a truck and did light hauling and express work. Mother returned home in a few days because it was too cold up north.

"About that time the Mexican began to call on mother. He never called at night when my brother and myself were at home, but came during the day when mother and my sister, Anne, were there. We protested to mother. I told her I'd kill the Mex if I ever found him in our house.

Says She Wouldn't Listen.

"The latter part of August mother announced she was going to marry the boy. We asked her to consider the difference in their ages, but she wouldn't listen and threatened to kill herself if we interfered. She said: 'I like that young man.' He had told her he was a high-blood Spaniard from Mexico.

"About Aug. 20 they went to the county seat, Crown Point, Ind., and got married. Mother mortgaged one of her houses for $1000 to get traveling expenses. On the night of Sept. 1 they left in her Ford coupe on their honeymoon, intending to go through St. Louis on their way to California.

"She promised to write, but we never heard from her."

The Ford was found abandoned here, near Grand boulevard and Gravois avenue, five days later. It was identified and taken back to East Chicago by the children, who feared their mother had met with foul play. A partly filled bottle of whisky, an extra coat and some insurance papers were in the car. Mrs. Espinos' money, a pistol, an extra dress and a half dozen Indian blankets, of which she was a collector, were missing.

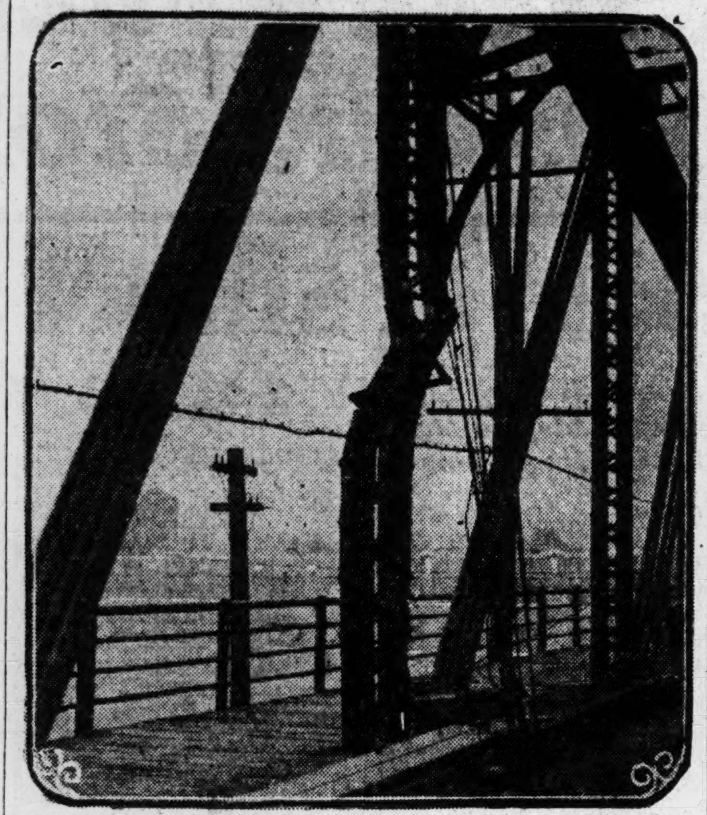
Alfred Espinos, a brother of the young husband, was employed as a drug clerk in East Chicago. He left there a few days before the honeymooners. On his return several weeks later he was questioned by police. He said he had visited his parents in Del Rio, Tex., and had seen his brother Rudolph there on the Wednesday following the Saturday that Rudolph and his bride left East Chicago. Alfred asserted he did not know about the marriage at that time, and Rudolph had told him he was going to Mexico City to engage in the fur business.

Mrs. Espinos' children declared they would request authorities at Washington to negotiate with the Mexican Government to have Espinos arrested and extradited.

Viaduct Support Bent by Collapse Of Another Part of Structure



THIS upright column on the west side of the Twenty-first street viaduct over the Terminal Railroad yards collapsed when a passing load of structural steel failed to clear and broke a steel support below the floor of the bridge, throwing an added stress on the column.

CITY REJECTS RAILWAY OFFER TO FIX VIADUCT

Its Engineers Favor Replacing Closed 21st St. Structure With Concrete Bridge.

A proposal by the Terminal and Missouri Pacific railroads to spend $50,000 in repairing the Twenty-first street viaduct, which has been closed to vehicular traffic since last July, was rejected yesterday. Engineers for the city believe more extensive repairs are necessary before the bridge can be made safe. They prefer the construction of a new concrete viaduct.

The bridge was closed last summer because the action of cinders and sulphuric acid in the smoke blasts of passing locomotives during the 36 years of its existence had eaten into the steel parts of the structure.

A month ago the bridge was further weakened when the steel bars on the west side, which tie together its upright columns and support the bridge floor, were broken by a load of structural steel on a passing flat car which failed to clear. The broken bars below the bridge created an extra stress on one of the upright columns which it was unable to bear, and the column was badly bent.

After the bridge was closed the city called on the two railroads either to make suitable repairs and take over the maintenance of the structure, or to participate in the cost of replacing it with a concrete viaduct. The city offered to pay $100,000 of the estimated cost of $616,000 for the new bridge.

The proposal of the railroads rejected yesterday made no mention of maintaining the bridge and offered to repair the damage done by "gases from locomotives." LeRoy Bowen, engineer in charge of bridge design and construction for the city, considered this too vague and on his recommendation President Kinsey of the Board of Public Service rejected the offer.

If further negotiations fail the city may ask the State Public Service Commission for an order directing the railroads either to repair and maintain the old bridge or to help pay for a new one.

RAPHAEL PAINTING SOLD TO BANKER FOR $600,000

$100,000 Profit for Sir Joseph Duveen, Who Bought It in Berlin in 1925.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 12.—A four-century-old oil painting of Giuliano de Medici by Raphael, now hangs in the private collection of Jules S. Bache, New York banker, transferred there from the studio of Sir Joseph Duveen for $600,000. The painting is the only Raphael portrait of a man in private hands.

The painting was purchased by Duveen in Berlin in 1925 for $500,000.

It was painted in 1514 but disappeared half a century later and was not found until 1867, when it turned up at the house of an art collector in Florence.

WILD GEESE RAID CROPS; FARMERS APPEAL TO COURT

Request to Judge Passed on to Game Warden Who Is Out of City.

Unusually large flocks of wild geese have invaded their wheat fields and are digging up the sprouting seeds, farmers of Stoddard County, Missouri, reported in appealing today to Federal Judge Faris here for advice and assistance.

As spokesman for his district, in Southeastern Missouri near the junction of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, Charles Lisles, lawyer of Dexter, telegraphed Judge Faris describing the situation and asking if there was any loophole in the Federal migratory bird law which would permit destruction of the birds.

Judge Faris knew of nothing he could do and referred the query to United States Attorney Breuer, who sent it along to Harry Barmeier, Federal Game Warden for this district. Barmeier, of course, knows that the United States Biological Survey at Washington has authority, after investigation, to direct the destruction of game which is destroying crops.

LAUNDRIES' PRICE WAR ON; LAID TO ASSOCIATION PLOT

charged two private detectives, who were following him, with peace disturbance. The detectives brought cross charges against the driver. The cases were continued until March 26 without testimony.

"That's what happens when we have them arrested," Boal said. "Sometimes it's more trouble than it's worth. Anyway, it seems that we've lost that recourse too, as last Thursday when we took one of them to the Magnolia Street Station, the Captain told us he had 'orders from above' not to arrest any more men in these laundry cases.

"They haven't been able to trace a lot of my customers, though. My drivers are delivering bundles at back doors. They park in front of one house, go to the back, jump a fence if necessary, and run to the back door of the house they are delivering to. We'll keep the opposition on the run, anyway."

Reports Fund of $10,000.

Morgan, who has asked Chief of Police Gerk to mediate between the factions, told the Post-Dispatch that Chester Schaum, secretary of the Laundrymen's Association and president of the Excelsior-Leader Laundry Co., has informed independent proprietors that he has $10,000 to spend to bring the independents to terms, and that "there is more where that came from."

Schaum refused to affirm or deny the charges of the independent laundrymen when they were laid before him by a Post-Dispatch reporter.

"None of it is true so far as I know," Schaum said, but I have no statement to make. Mr. Morgan got some of our business when he started in by following our wagons and tampering with our customers, and we are retaliating in kind, that's all."

A. P. Goldrick, president of the Association and head of the Grand Laundry, also refused to comment, disclaiming any knowledge, however, of a price war.

The independents, although not organized, are prepared to fight to the limit of their capability what they consider an invasion of their rights. Several were pessimistic as to the profits of an ultimate victory. But the owners of the larger independent laundries declare they are prepared for the fight and will carry it to a finish.

"The big laundries only want to raise the price of wet wash higher than they have it now," one of the laundrymen asserted, "and they can't do it until they have us in or out. Well, if we get in we're out anyway, so we'll just have to give them a battle."

Glick Says He Is Independent.

Joe Glick, who has a laundry at 5190 Delmar boulevard, is advertising himself "as an independent responsible for a reduction in laundry price; maybe others will follow." He has advertised that price reductions announced yesterday were made "without consultation with any other person, or group."

"These prices," he states, "apply to Glick's laundry. I don't try to control anybody else and I won't let anybody else try to control me. These prices will win a victorious test of comparison in St. Louis, and meet the fair and reasonable prices which are enjoyed in other cities not controlled by price fixers. I have set a new low standard of prices at Glick's Laundry. If others attempt to meet my prices, and lower charges throughout St. Louis come as a result of my blazing the way, I will have performed a greater service which will make me happier."

Attorney-General Barrett, in 1922, after complaints had been made to his office that laundries in Missouri are permitted to fix prices without interference, gave an opinion that laundrymen, labor unions, and other groups who sell "service" cannot be punished for price-fixing combinations because anti-trust statutes in Missouri apply only to sellers of "articles and commodities."

54 ARRESTED IN '14-ROOM HOUSE WITHOUT A BED'

Police Assert Business Men's Club, 4251 Lindell Boulevard, Is Gambling Establishment.

The Business Men's Club, 4251 Lindell boulevard, known as the "14-room house without a bed" and classified by police as a gambling establishment, was raided twice last night and 54 arrests were made. It was the fourth raid in less than three weeks.

Lights were burning and shades were drawn in the three-story stonefront residence at 9:15 o'clock when Police Lieutenant Fleming and his men of the Newstead Avenue Station surrounded the house. Presently the front door was opened for an incoming member and the police pushed in behind.

Aaron Feinstein, the club secretary, and 13 other men were discussing the weather and twiddling their thumbs. Four decks of cards and 1345 poker chips were scattered on a desk in the second-floor office.

Seven Padded Tables Found.

The furnishings of the first floor suggested a well-to-do home, but the second floor was fitted chiefly with six padded tables and scores of chairs and the third floor with a padded table, three ordinary tables, and three pool and billiard tables.

Taken to the police station and released on bond to answer any charge that might be made, most of the 14 men returned to the "house without a bed."

At 3:15 o'clock this morning, Police Lieutenant Maloney and his men from the same station surrounded the house and demanded admittance. After half an hour's delay, the door was opened and they walked in.

This time President Edward Oxenhandler, Secretary Feinstein and 38 other men were smoking and talking on the first floor, the upper floors being deserted. They were taken to the police station in patrol wagons, in relays, and released on bond.

Says Neighbors Are Complaining.

Capt. Maupin of the Newstead District, said: "We intend to raid that place until it closes up. The neighbors are complaining."

The organization formerly operated downtown under the name of the Progressive Realty Co., in the Laclede and Missouri Hotels, but moved after police raids. Late last month it was raided in its new quarters on Lindell boulevard. A second raid was made there last Saturday night, when Oxenhandler, Feinstein and 17 others were arrested.

Previous charges of gambling have not been sustained in court because of lack of direct evidence. Oxenhandler asserts the club is devoted to "benevolent, social and fraternal purposes."

10-YEAR SENTENCE OF DR. MANNING UPHELD ON APPEAL

Drug Seller, Freed After Each of Four Previous Trials, Ordered to Serve Prison Term.

Dr. Thomas S. Manning, 66-year-old physician, who has written thousands of prescriptions for vast quantities of habit-forming drugs, must serve a 10-year Federal penitentiary term for his activities under a decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals here today. He is at liberty under bond now.

Federal narcotic agents have been trying to convict him of violation of the anti-narcotic act in his prescription business for the last 15 years, but their efforts have been thwarted heretofore. Once he served two years in Leavenworth prison pending an appeal, because he was unable to furnish bail, but he was freed when his appeal was sustained.

The agents began in 1914 their endeavor to convict Dr. Manning. He was acquitted in his first trial, in 1917. Tried again in 1920, he was convicted and sentenced to two years' imprisonment, but the Circuit Court of Appeals held that he was in double jeopardy because the charge was similar to the previous one, and he was freed. He was sentenced to 15 years' imprisonment in 1921 at a third trial and at a fourth, in 1924, was sentenced to 10 years and fined $6000, but both cases were reversed on technicalities by the appellate tribunal. The last conviction, affirmed today by the higher court, occurred last June before Federal Judge Davis, on a charge of issuing prescriptions in violation of the law.

Dr. Manning's counsel had argued that the last indictment failed to state an offense. Their demurrer to that effect was overruled by Judge Davis, and this ruling was the sole basis of appeal. The Appellate Court held that the indictment was good and the trial court's action on the demurrer proper.

"We must assume," said the Appellate Court opinion, by Judge Van Valkenburg, "that the evidence amply sustained the verdict and we may infer the offense was of an exaggerated nature. . . . . The contention of the defendant is that the Harrison act leaves entirely with the physician the responsibility as to when, under what conditions and for what purposes he will issue a prescription for the drugs, and that the act places no restriction upon his right to prescribe such drugs, and that the direct control of medical practice in the states is beyond the Federal Government."

Incidentally, the opinion said, Dr. Manning attacked the constitutionality of the Harrison act and asserted the right to prescribe narcotics for addicts in order to keep them comfortable and free of the pangs suffered without drugs. However, the Court declared there was no doubt as to the constitutionality of the law, and the law does restrict the physician's right to prescribe narcotics. It added:

"A physician who procures the dispensing of narcotics through the instrumentality of a prescription not issued in the course of his bona-fide professional practice as a treatment for disease takes a principal part in the prohibited sale or distribution made, even though there is no conspiracy or unlawful understanding between him and the druggist who fills the prescriptions."

Ends Life in Niagara Falls.

By the Associated Press.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 12.—For the third time in three weeks a Buffalo resident committed suicide yesterday at Niagara Falls. Mrs. Bertha Fellows, who had been in ill health recently, with a woman companion, was strolling beside the river when she darted out into the swift swirling stream just above the cataract. There is no fence at this point. Mrs. Fellows was swept off her feet and carried over the falls.

Chicago Society Girl Weds Sister's Divorced Husband

Mary Meeker, Daughter of Former Armour Officer, Was Flower Girl at First Marriage of Ambrose C. Cramer II.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 12.—Miss Mary Meeker, daughter of Arthur Meeker, former vice president of Armour & Co., was married yesterday to her eldest sister's divorced husband, Ambrose C. Cramer II.

The brief ceremony at Washington was in strong contrast with the elaborate and fashionable event of 1916 when Cramer and Grace Meeker were married with 12-year-old Mary as their flower girl. Yesterday the two socially prominent Chicago families were again united but this time without any advance notice and before only a few witnesses.

The officiating clergyman, the Rev. James T. Marshall, said he had never seen any of the members of the wedding party before. Cramer and a friend asked him to perform the ceremony right away, the Rev. Marshall said, and when he consented they went out to get the license. The bride's parents were the only others present.

The first news of the marriage was a brief announcement telegraphed to Chicago society editors by Meeker. Cramer and Mary Meeker had always been known as good friends since childhood and he had been a frequent guest at the Meeker home recently, but there had been no hint of an engagement.

Cramer and Grace Meeker were divorced two years ago and soon afterward she married Francis Vernon Lloyd, Philadelphia society man. Mrs. Cramer obtained the decree on a charge of desertion. Two children, born to Cramer and his first wife, become through yesterday's marriage, stepchildren of their aunt.

It was understood that Miss Meeker had decided on a career. Two years ago she and her brother, Arthur Meeker Jr., rented a studio and she had been devoting much of her time to a study of interior decorating. In 1925 she went to Hollywood where she worked as a movie "extra" for a short time.

Cramer is an architect and a member of several fashionable clubs. He is the son of the late Ambrose C. Cramer, banker. Cramer first entered the world war in the French service and was decorated with the French Cross of the Legion of Honor. He joined the American forces soon after this country entered the war and became a lieutenant.

The marriage license gave Cramer's age as 37 and his bride's as 25. They plan to sail immediately for a two months' honeymoon abroad.

OFFICES OPEN EVENINGS FOR INCOME TAX RETURNS

Friday Last Day on Which Either State or Federal Statement May Be Filed Without Penalty.

The offices of the Collector of Internal Revenue in the Federal Building and the Assessor in City Hall will be open evenings this week to receive Federal and State income tax returns. Friday is the last day on which either may be made.

With an augmented force, the Federal office at Eighth and Olive streets, room 232, will be open until 9 p. m. each night except Friday when it will stay open until midnight. The Assessor's office will remain open until 3 p. m. each night.

Both Federal and State returns may be made by mail. The former must bear a postmark not later than midnight Friday, while all State returns received by mail up to Saturday noon will be accepted.

Failure to make a Federal return on time subjects the taxpayer to a 25 per cent penalty, plus interest, and forfeiture of the privilege of paying the tax in quarterly installments. The State tax will be doubled, unless paid within the specified time.

WOMAN INDICTED FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

Mrs. Loretta Nash Named in Charge Involving Blind and Paralyzed Veteran.

Mrs. Loretta Nash, 3719 Wyoming street, has been indicted on a charge of embezzling $2000 from a blind and paralyzed World War veteran whom she had been caring for, it was revealed today when Mrs. Nash appeared in Circuit Judge Hartmann's court to make $4000 bond.

The war veteran, Charles U. Cummings, 5089 Raymond avenue, met Mrs. Nash and her husband through an orderly at the Veterans' Bureau Hospital where he was being treated. According to attaches of the Circuit Attorney's office, Nash and his wife took care of the veteran at their home for a time and then went to California with him.

Because he was blind, Cummings made an agreement with the Tower Grove Bank that he would place his thumb print on his checks instead of his signature. Reporters were told that Cummings and Mrs. Nash and her husband planned a trip to California, and that Mrs. Nash drew out of Cummings' account of more than $2000.

The charge against Mrs. Nash is that she left Cummings and her husband in California and returned to St. Louis with $2000 of the money she had drawn out of the bank, reporters were told. Cummings was forced to sell a radio and other property in order to raise money for the return trip.

Cummings, formerly a sergeant in the First Mobile Ordnance Repair Division, receives a double disability payment from the Government because he is unable to care for himself. This payment amounts to $200 a month.

New Receiver for Life Company.

J. B. Thompson, Superintendent of Insurance for Missouri, today was appointed a receiver for the International Life Insurance Co., to succeed Ben C. Hyde, former State Insurance Superintendent, who resigned. The appointment of Thompson was made by Federal Judge Davis. The other receiver is Massey Wilson, former president of the International Life Co.

M'DANIEL CHOOSES PARTY LEADERS TO DIRECT CAMPAIGN

J. M. Lashly, Head of Bar Association, Named Chairman of Democratic Nominee's Advisory Board.

Personnel of the Executive Committee, which will conduct his campaign in co-operation with the Democratic City Committee, was announced today by Lawrence McDaniel, Democratic nominee for Mayor.

It is headed by Jacob M. Lashly, president of the St. Louis Bar Association, and includes such active party leaders as William L. Igoe, Charles M. Hay, John J. Nangle and Mrs. Nat S. Brown.

Lashly was urged by many persons to seek the mayoralty nomination himself, but declined, after which McDaniel, who is former Circuit Attorney, entered the race. Lashly quietly assumed the role of a harmonizer during the primary campaign, which ended with friendliness among all factions. As head of the bar, Lashly had a large part in the election, last November, of Franklin Miller, a Democrat, as Circuit Attorney, and three Democratic Circuit Judges. The voters followed exactly the recommendations of the Bar Association.

Chairmen of the Committees.

Chairmen of the various McDaniel committees, who themselves will comprise the Executive Committee, are:

Igoe, Campaign Committee; Hay, Business Men's Radio Committee; Nangle, Organization Committee; Mrs. Brown, Women's Committee; David J. Woodlock, Business Men's Committee; Daniel F. Hyland, Civic Associations Committee, and Max Baron, Naturalized Voters' Committee.

In addition, there will be a Finance Committee chairman, a place which has not been filled definitely, although McDaniel has a wealthy man in mind for it.

Igoe, a former Congressman, was the Democratic nominee for Mayor four years ago and lost to Mayor Miller, Republican, by only 3129 votes. He has been a party leader for years and had a responsible part in the Smith campaign last summer. He supported McDaniel for the nomination. Hay was the Democratic nominee for United States Senator last year and long has been prominent in Missouri Democratic politics. He favored Dr. John H. Simon for the mayoralty nomination. Nangle has been a Democratic leader here in recent years and worked with Igoe for Smith. Nangle is a lawyer.

Mrs. Brown Active in Politics.

Mrs. Brown, the wife of the vice president and general solicitor of the Wabash Railway, is widely known in local politics. She had charge of women's work for the third candidate for the mayoralty nomination, Henry S. Priest, and was largely responsible for getting the support of half the Democratic City Committeewomen for Priest. Woodlock is manager-treasurer of the National Association of Retail Credit Men, for which McDaniel is counsel. Hyland is manager of the branch here of an automobile accessory company. Baron is a lawyer.

Oratorical abilities of Lashly, Igoe, Hay and Nangle are expected to be called into service for McDaniel. The Democratic plan is to make a strenuous campaign with the hope of overcoming the normal Republican majority, as has been done from time to time heretofore.

A campaign headquarters is to be selected by the Executive Committee. Several places are under consideration.

McDaniel's speaking engagements today, with non-political topics, were before the Advertising Club, at Hotel Jefferson, at luncheon, and before the Superintendents' and Foremen's Club of the National Metal Trades Association, at Alhambra Grotto tonight. He is planning a Twenty-eighth Ward meeting Thursday or Friday and a Third Ward meeting Friday.

A meeting of the Democratic City Committee with McDaniel and party leaders was called for this afternoon.

Republicans in Conference.

The Republican campaign in behalf of Mayor Miller was started today. The Finance Committee of the Republican City Committee, Republican nominees, and several G. O. P. leaders met at noon to discuss campaign funds and a meeting of the Executive Committee of the party body was called for the afternoon. Park Commissioner Pape, chairman of the city committee, will be in general charge of the campaign.

A report that Mayor Miller had gone to Biloxi, Miss., to rest was denied at his office today. It was said there that he was near St. Louis and would return Thursday.

The official count of the votes in Friday's primary was begun yesterday and may be completed late today. It may change the results of the Republican nomination for Alderman from the Fifteenth Ward. The unofficial count gave Alderman Riefling a majority of 53 votes over Arthur Kramer.

Woman Burned in Home.

Mrs. Theresa Schelse, 1326 St. Ange street, was seriously burned yesterday when her clothing touched a stove and caught fire. A roomer extinguished the flames and took her to City Hospital where she is in a serious condition.

STOPS PAIN

From coast to coast men and women are singing the praise of "Snake Oil," a most powerful, penetrating, pain relieving liniment. It will penetrate thickest sole leather in 8 minutes. Mrs. R. Werner, New Orleans, La., writes, "Thanks to your wonderful penetrating oil, it relieved me of Rheumatism and deep-seated cold after other remedies failed.

"I had rheumatism so bad I had to walk on crutches for nine years," says H. C. Hendrix, old soldier of Minneapolis, Minn. "After three months' treatment with 'Snake Oil' I laid off my crutches and now can walk like a boy."

J. R. Moore, Pittsburgh, Pa., railroad man, says, "'Snake Oil' is the only liniment that ever gave me relief from rheumatism. I use it regular after being exposed to bad weather." For rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, stiff joints, pain in back and limbs, corns, bunions, chest colds, sore throat. "Snake Oil" is said to be without an equal.

PASSENGER STEALS SERVICE DRIVER'S CAR

Joseph L. Lapin Forced to Drive in Alley Where He Is Held Up.

Joseph L. Lapin, a service car driver, 5761A Theodosia avenue, picked up a pasenger at Delmar boulevard and DeBaliviere avenue yesterday afternoon and drove to Fifteenth and Olive streets, where the man drew a revolver, forced Lapin to drive into an alley and robbed him of his Studebaker car.

Edward J. Piel, 5120 North Kingshighway, an insurance agent, was forced to enter an automobile occupied by two men, at Kingshighway and Chippewa street. They drove him to Hereford street and Parker avenue, where he was robbed of $27 and put out.

Charles Remington, druggist at 5101 South Kingshighway, reported he sent his Negro porter to a bank yesterday to deposit $109.62 cash and three checks, and the Negro disappeared before reaching the bank.

Safe robbers obtained $250 at the Egyptian Tie and Lumber Co., 1821 Railway Exchange Building, at $28 cash and $17.50 in stamps at the Alfocorn Milling Co., 2055 Railway Exchange. The office of the International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Ironworkers, 1615 Syndicate Trust Building, was ransacked, but not robbed.

Two women reported to police yesterday that money they had hidden in their homes had disappeared. Mrs. Lela Lite, 2903 Dayton street, missed $210 she had placed under a rug, and Mrs. L. W. Scott, 5386 Pershing, lost $257 which had been in a trunk in the pocket of a raincoat.

An armed man held up Louis Stuetzer in his grocery at 2700 Allen street this morning and escaped with $46 taken from the cash register.

Three Negroes were arrested in a raid on a house at 2616 Bernard street last night, and victims of recent store holdups, each committed by a group of three Negroes, have been asked to view the prisoners.

The men—Isaac Clay, 22; Floyd Porter, 34, and John Thompson, 23, confessed, police said, that they were the men who held up Joseph Liculli in his grocery at 3444 Walnut street Saturday night, taking $400, three revolvers and a watch.

At the Bernard street address police also arrested Sarah and Lucius Washington and seized a trunk containing $277 in cash and four pistols. Liculli identified two of the pistols and a watch which Porter carried.

At 1:15 a. m., Patrolman Thake and Thompson surprised a Negro burglar in the haberdashery of Benjamin Boxer, 1933 Market street. They chased the burglar over a roundabout course and captured him in the rear of 1625 Olive street. He said he was Louis Brown, 18, and, according to police, confessed 30 recent burglaries. He explained that he spent his afternoons at shows, his nights in crime and his mornings in bed.

PADLOCK LAW INVOKED AGAINST RAIDED APARTMENTS

U. S. Attorney Seeks Also to Close Hotels in Which Raids Disclosed Liquor.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 12.—Applications will be filed in Federal Court for the padlocking of hotel rooms and apartments as well as drug stores, saloons and other resorts where raids have been made in the last two weeks, William L. Vandeventer, United States District Attorney here, says.

About 50 applications will be filed at once. It is the first attempt to padlock hotel rooms and apartments in Kansas City for violation of liquor laws. Acting on information obtained by advance Federal agents, 65 raids has been made under the Jones law. These included official visits to eight apartments in a structure known to police as the "Dizzy Tower," because of its reputation for orgies and accidents.

Fine Frieze Suite Above

A Suite as shown above will give your living room distinctive beauty. Note the serpentine front and the graceful continuous solid mahogany frame all around back, arms and base, artistically carved.

This Suite—davenport and armchair, will be covered in your choice of many friezes ranging in price from $7 to $12 per yard. Our factory has about a dozen frames of this Suite, to be made up at the factory price of $258!

Liberal Terms
Do not hesitate to ask the salesman about our Extended Payment Plan. We will allow you to extend payments over a lengthy period of time, without additional charge for interest.

Or, two per cent discount for all cash.

What Is Frieze?
Frieze is a loop-thread fabric made from various materials such as mohair, linen, silk, wool and cotton. Government tests show that frieze made from mohair is the best wearing—to say it will last a lifetime is no exaggeration.

Hard-Wearing Covering
Do not confuse this fine mohair-frieze which we are offering on the above-mentioned Suites with the ordinary cut mohair so commonly used on the very cheapest upholstered furniture and which is being put out in such low quality that it has no luster or wearing qualities.

Floor Samples, Slightly Soiled, at Factory Prices!

"Bond Bread on the counter saves time"

For fifteen years customers who want the best in meats, groceries, and vegetables have been getting them at 5705-7 Delmar Avenue, where MR. RIFKIN'S store is located. They telephone PARK VIEW 5140, 5141, or CABANY 6209-6210 for prompt delivery service.

When Bond Bread first came out I put it on the counter alongside the other bread.

A few of my customers bought it the first time they saw it. They said that they liked what the bond promised on the wrapper, and wanted to try a loaf with a guarantee of purity behind it.

From that day on, those customers have used Bond. Oh, yes, occasionally they try another loaf just to see if it is any better, but they always come back to Bond.

Well sir, my sales on Bond grew and grew until now it outsells any other bread I have in my store. The Bond Bread Salesman leaves me a fresh supply twice a day.

All I have to do is put it on the counter. My customers do the rest. And the time it saves me!!

TECHNICALITY BEATS SIMPLIFIED CRIME CODE

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 12.—The technicality of senatorial courtesy served today to further bury the two most important bills of the Association for Criminal Justice, designed to abolish the technicalities in criminal indictments. It was a case of a technicality defeating the bills to abolish technicalities.

The issue arose over a motion by Senator Bates of St. Louis to have placed on the calendar, notwithstanding the adverse report of the Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence, two bills which were voted down by the committee last Wednesday night. One provided for the substitution of simple language for the involved technical language of the common law in indictments. The other provided that no indictment should be declared invalid because it failed to follow the precedents of the common law.

The Senate discussion of the motion was extremely technical, involving a question of whether the motion was in order, if made later than two days after the report of the committee was filed. Lieutenant-Governor Winter at one time ruled the motion out of order, but further discussion was had and Senator Morgan, who raised the point of order, finally withdrew it.

In the final action, the courtesy custom prevailed, Senators standing by a policy of not overriding a committee. This is a custom notable for its observance as well as its non-observance, Senators, who are opposed to a measure sought to be placed on the calendar devoting much time to speeches upholding it, though some of them, at least, do not hesitate to support such a motion when their own bills are under consideration.

In the proceedings today the lawyer antagonists to reform of criminal procedure were successful in lining up other Senators to support the committee. When the vote was taken only six voted to place the bills on the calendar. They were Bates of St. Louis, Dearmont of Cape Girardeau, Wammack of Bloomfield, Gordon of Liberty, Gunn of Otterville and Rehkop of Sedalia.

The bills came in for much discussion, and the Association for Criminal Justice was subjected to criticism, but was also ably defended as an unselfish organization devoted to the public interest.

W. K. BIXBY RETURNS TO CITY

Back From South; Health Improved; Visits Lindbergh Exhibit.

W. K. Bixby, capitalist and president of the Washington University Corporation, has returned from Pass Christian, Miss., where he has been recuperating, and yesterday was able to visit the Lindbergh trophy collection at Jefferson Memorial.

Mr. Bixby has been in ill health for several months. It was his first view of the Lindbergh collection, although he is president of Missouri Historical Society. He seemed interested and impressed with it.

NEW PLAN FOR HOME BREW TAX

Missouri House Committee to Base It on Inspection of Food.

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 12.—A committee substitute bill to tax home brewers in Missouri will be drafted by the Criminal Jurisprudence Committee of the House of Representatives. The original bill, introduced by Representatives Snyder of Lewis and Elmer of Dent County, was designed to place a direct tax of 5 cents a pound on all compounds, mixtures and combinations of grain hops, grain malt or syrup hops.

The Missouri Supreme Court has ruled that a direct tax of this type is unconstitutional. The committee is expected to evolve a tax based on the right of the State to inspect and regulate sale of foods or other products and to levy fees and taxes for that purpose. Sponsors of the measure say it will bring in $3,000,000 a year, or more.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., March 12.—Fire early today destroyed the main building of the Funk Brothers' Seed Co. here with a loss of $100,000. Forty-five thousand bushels of soy beans were included in the loss.

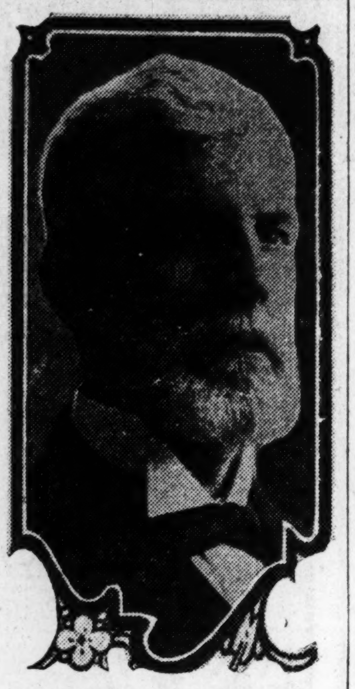
PLEASANT RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Shoulders droop under weight of years. Young, yet beauty has fled. Cheeks are sallow and drawn. Unsightly pimples. Keep your system clean and you keep the beauty of youth. Its energy. Its irresistible charm. Then life is not a failure.

Clogged bowels and inactive liver cause poisons to seep through the system. Health vanishes and with it beauty and energy. Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets will save you from this dark hour. For 20 years they have been prescribed in place of calomel to men and women seeking health and freedom from constipation. They act easily and smoothly. No dangerous griping. Take nightly before retiring. Results will amaze you.

Thousands of men and women would never be without Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. Know them by their olive color. 15c, 30c, 60c.

PIONEER MERCHANT



JOHN E. PILCHER.

THE funeral of John E. From 1870 until 1885 he was the hardware company's salesman in the Far West, traveling over the Rockies and the plains in stagecoaches, with a buffalo robe and a six-shooter as his equipment. He died yesterday, 84 years old.

Ethel Barrymore Has Relapse.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 12.—As a result of taking part in a benefit performance Sunday night against the advice of her physician, Ethel Barrymore, who was ill with influenza, has suffered a relapse. Miss Barrymore was taken ill last week and took part in the benefit for the Duse Fellowship although she had a temperature of 103 degrees. It was said she probably would not be able to resume her role in "The Kingdom of God" for several days.

SQUIBB'S Dental Cream

MODERN mouth hygiene today is principally concerned with the problem of combating the acids at The Danger Line which cause tooth decay and gum irritations.

That is why Squibb's Dental Cream, made with 50% Squibb's Milk of Magnesia, was developed. It neutralizes acids, particularly at The Danger Line.

Thus Squibb's Dental Cream protects against decay in two ways. It cleans your teeth beautifully, and where it cannot clean it sends tiny particles of Milk of Magnesia to neutralize the harmful acids. Begin its use today. Harmless if swallowed. At drug stores. 40 cents a tube.

Listen in every Friday evening from 7:15 to 7:30 Eastern Standard Time over Station KWK for interesting talks on the preservation of health by eminent authorities through broadcasting facilities provided by E. R. Squibb & Sons.

CRANKS AUTO IN GEAR, IS FATALLY INJURED

Walter Crane Is Crushed Against Box Car When Machine Starts.

Walter Crane, 35 years old, a sheet metal worker, 3801 Greer avenue, died at City Hospital last night of injuries suffered yesterday afternoon when his automobile started as he cranked the machine when in gear and was crushed against a freight car at the American Railway Express Co., Twentieth street and Clark avenue.

Crane suffered fractures of the ribs and jaw and internal injuries. He is survived by his widow, Erna. An inquest will be held.

Crane had parked his car close to a railroad siding and when the machine started he was crushed against the box car before he could leap out of the way. He suffered fractured ribs, a fractured jaw and internal injuries. An inquest will be held.

$107,000,000 FOR BRIDGE AND TUNNEL IN NEW YORK

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The committee of the whole of the Board of Estimate, on motion of Mayor Walker, committed itself to expenditure of $107,000,000 for a tri-borough bridge to link Manhattan, the Bronx and Queens, and a vehicular tunnel at the Narrows, to connect Brooklyn and Staten Island.

The improvements are the extreme links in a proposed chain of East River bridges and tunnels between Manhattan and Brooklyn and Queens. Preliminary appropriations of $3,000,000 for each project have been recommended to be raised by the sale of corporate stock.

According to the plan, as adopted by the board, construction of the two improvements will impose no additional burden on the taxpayers. The improvements will be paid for from tolls to be collected by the Department of plant and structures, which would have charge of their operation.

PERFORMANCE

No other instrument carrying the RCA mark has ever won such great popularity as the Radiola 18 type of receiver.

It meets the demand for a broadcast receiver of high quality at a moderate price.

Its capacity for getting and reproducing programs—faithfully and realistically—compares with that of radio sets selling at much higher prices.

The radio research laboratories of General Electric, Westinghouse and RCA have cooperated in bringing Radiola 18 to its present perfection of performance.

Miles matter little to a LINCOLN

IN A CAR so finely made, so masterfully engineered as the Lincoln, miles traveled cannot gauge expected service. This splendid car so valiantly resists mechanical wear that you cannot tell by its quiet-powered, capable performance whether it is months or years old.

Lincolns which have been in service are occasionally offered at prices that cannot possibly indicate their worth. These fine cars provide an opportunity to purchase superlative service at most advantageous rates. They have been inspected and tested most thoroughly by factory-trained Lincoln craftsmen in Lincoln shops. They are marked by the same satisfying permanence of style and distinguished performance perceptible in every Lincoln you see on the boulevards.

A few such Lincolns are now to be seen on our floor. Every one is in perfect mechanical condition. We are always glad to demonstrate them to you, without the slightest obligation. Drop in today.

ZOO GETS 19 REPTILES OF CENTRAL AMERICA

Nineteen new reptiles, including a group of iguanas, poisonous toads, poisonous snakes and boa constrictors, which were caught in Central America by H. P. French, a St. Louisan, were placed on exhibit in the reptile house at the St. Louis Zoo today.

French, whose hobby is catching reptiles, made the three-week trip at his own expense. He returned to St. Louis Saturday, bringing the smaller specimens with him. The iguanas, packed in a crate, arrived by express yesterday.

Red and orange, and green shading into delicate blue, are the iguanas. With wrinkled jowls and highly colored ornamental spines running down their backs, with curved whip-like tails longer than their bodies, they look not unlike miniature dragons. They range from two or three feet long to a head-to-tail length of about six feet.

The poisonous toads, unprepossessing in appearance, are somewhat larger than domestic toads, and when full grown, will be as large as a man's two hands placed side by side. They squirt a sticky white poison from glands somewhat behind their eyes, but not in sufficient quantities to kill a man, according to R. Marlin Perkins, curator of reptiles.

Perkins recounted that Raymond L. Ditmars of the Bronx Zoo tasted some of the poison while experimenting with it, and found that it paralyzed his tongue for several days.

"All toads are poisonous," Perkins continued. "Dogs pick them up and they secrete a poison that makes the dog's mouth foam, and makes it so sore that the dog cannot eat for days at a time. Lots of dogs are killed because people think they are foaming at the mouth from rabies, when as a matter of fact they are merely suffering from toad poisoning."

French also caught two coral snakes, the rarest poisonous snake of the American continent. One of them, however, died on the way. The other, with alternate circular stripes of scarlet and black, is on display at the zoo. Perkins pointed out that it differs from the coral snake caught in the southern part of the United States in that it lacks a stripe of yellow to separate the black and scarlet.

A barba-amarilla, called fer-de-lance in South America, is making itself at home in a cage with the single specimen of this species which the zoo had before. The snake is long and slender with a lance-shaped head, has a protective coloring of gray and brown and is as deadly poisonous as the rattlesnake.

A culebra mico, a non-poisonous rat snake, and two emperor boas, Central American varieties of the boa constrictor family, completed the bag.

French, who is known to St. Louis athletic followers as "Pete," is in the radiator shield business at 3861 Market street, and lives at 4345 Shenandoah avenue. He has made numerous snake-collecting trips for the zoo into nearby states. The Central American trip, he said,

SEEKS STILL LOWER WATER RATES IN ST. LOUIS COUNTY

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 12.—A reduction of 12.2 per cent in rates of the St. Louis County Water Co., for metered water service, recently ordered by the Missouri Public Service Commission, is declared inadequate and a further reduction is urged, in a motion for rehearing of the case, filed today by City Attorney Grand of University City.

The commission ordered the reduction on the ground the earnings of the company upon the valuation fixed by the commission were excessive. The commission directed the company to file a new schedule of rates that would reduce its revenues by 12.2 per cent. The reduction is effective on March 20.

Attorneys for the company filed a rehearing motion last Saturday, contending the commission erred in reducing the rates and should have fixed the valuation at approximately $7,000,000 instead of about $5,500,000.

WOMAN ADMITS STEALING $540 FROM JANITOR'S POCKET

A warrant charging burglary and larceny was issued today against Mrs. Estelle Eckenfels of 3155 South Broadway, who confessed yesterday, according to police, that she stole $540 from a pocket of an overcoat which Joseph Suppan, janitor of the building, had left in his quarters.

Mrs. Eckenfels was suspected because of a sudden increase in her expenditures. Police reported that she returned $98 to Suppan, explaining that she had used the rest to buy an automobile and other things.

JOHN HENDERSON, COAL FIRM HEAD, SUED FOR DIVORCE

Wife Charges General Indignities; Pair Was Married in 1909, Separated Yesterday.

A suit for divorce against John Henderson, president of the West Virginia Coal Co., was filed yesterday at Clayton by Mrs. Viola Margaret Henderson, who alleged general indignities.

They were married June 26, 1909, and separate yesterday. They resided at 7006 Westmoreland drive, University City.

2 PCT. SMALL LOAN ACT IS DRAFTED FOR HOUSE

Judiciary Committee Expected to Submit Substitute Measure Tomorrow.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 12.—A committee substitute bill fixing the interest rates on small loans at 2 per cent a month, has been drafted by a subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee.

The measure will probably go to the House tomorrow following its consideration by the Judiciary Committee tonight. The substitute contains 14 new regulatory provisions, one of which would require the keeping of extensive data and records on small loans. The data would be made available to the next Legislature for more changes, if necessary. Whether the full committee will approve the 2 per cent rate will not be determined until the committee meets.

The subcommittee in charge of the drafting of the substitute comprised Representative Baird of Jasper County, chairman, and Representatives Elvins of St. Louis County and Nelson of Marion County.

The drafting of the substitute followed a number of discussions before the Judiciary Committee in which Charles M. Hay of St. Louis appeared against the present law, which authorizes small loan agencies to charge 3½ per cent a month.

Representatives of the Russell Sage Foundation have appeared before both Senate and House meetings in favor of the present rate. The Foundation sponsored small loan acts adopted in Missouri and 43 other states.

There is no better wheelbarrow built than a Sterling —and—Sterlings will cost you less to use!

Just set a Sterling along side of any other—the marked difference of better barrow design, material and construction is plainly seen at the first glance.

There's a Sterling for every industrial, contracting, foundry and garden need—wood or metal handles, wide or deep trays, standard and special styles. Put Sterlings on your work—your men can pick up and wheel larger loads more easily, longer and with less effort because the load is balanced over the wheel—all Sterling barrows are equipped with self-lubricating axle bearings.

BUY STERLING BY NAME—they are trade marked. Leading dealers sell them or can get them (any style or size) for you PROMPTLY from our large ST. LOUIS stock. (If your dealer offers substitution we will gladly fill your orders direct—we ship any quantity anywhere.

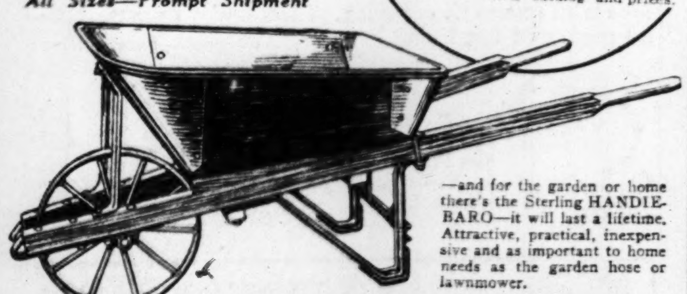
A Trade Message To All Dealers

To sell Sterling barrows and carts it is NOT NECESSARY for you to carry big stocks. From our ST. LOUIS big stock you can "pick-up" or have shipped any quantity. Sterlings are nationally advertised—they are in big demand—they are built in the widest range of styles and sizes.

PHONE or write for new catalog and prices.



—and for the garden or home there's the Sterling HANDIE-BARO—it will last a lifetime. Attractive, practical, inexpensive and as important to home needs as the garden hose or lawnmower.

Miles matter little to a LINCOLN

IN A CAR so finely made, so masterfully engineered as the Lincoln, miles traveled cannot gauge expected service. This splendid car so valiantly resists mechanical wear that you cannot tell by its quiet-powered, capable performance whether it is months or years old.

Lincolns which have been in service are occasionally offered at prices that cannot possibly indicate their worth. These fine cars provide an opportunity to purchase superlative service at most advantageous rates. They have been inspected and tested most thoroughly by factory-trained Lincoln craftsmen in Lincoln shops. They are marked by the same satisfying permanence of style and distinguished performance perceptible in every Lincoln you see on the boulevards.

A few such Lincolns are now to be seen on our floor. Every one is in perfect mechanical condition. We are always glad to demonstrate them to you, without the slightest obligation. Drop in today.

ZOO GETS 19 REPTILES OF CENTRAL AMERICA

Nineteen new reptiles, including a group of iguanas, poisonous toads, poisonous snakes and boa constrictors, which were caught in Central America by H. P. French, a St. Louisan, were placed on exhibit in the reptile house at the St. Louis Zoo today.

French, whose hobby is catching reptiles, made the three-week trip at his own expense. He returned to St. Louis Saturday, bringing the smaller specimens with him. The iguanas, packed in a crate, arrived by express yesterday.

Red and orange, and green shading into delicate blue, are the iguanas. With wrinkled jowls and highly-colored ornamental spines running down their backs, with barred whip-like tails longer than their bodies, they look not unlike miniature dragons. They range from two or three feet long to a head-to-tail length of about six feet.

The poisonous toads, unprepossessing in appearance, are somewhat larger than domestic toads, and when full grown, will be as large as a man's two hands placed side by side. They squirt a sticky white poison from glands somewhat behind their eyes, but not in sufficient quantities to kill a man, according to R. Marlin Perkins, curator of reptiles.

Perkins recounted that Raymond L. Ditmars of the Bronx Zoo tasted some of the poison while experimenting with it, and found that it paralyzed his tongue for several days.

"All toads are poisonous," Perkins continued. "Dogs pick them up and they secrete a poison that makes the dog's mouth foam, and makes it so sore that the dog cannot eat for days at a time. Lots of dogs are killed because people think they are foaming at the mouth from rabies, when as a matter of fact they are merely suffering from toad poisoning."

French also caught two coral snakes, the rarest poisonous snake of the American continent. One of them, however, died on the way. The other, with alternate circular stripes of scarlet and black, is on display at the zoo. Perkins pointed out that it differs from the coral snake caught in the southern part of the United States in that it lacks a stripe of yellow to separate the black and scarlet.

A barba-amarilla, called fer-de-lance in South America, is making itself at home in a cage with the single specimen of this species which the zoo had before. The snake is long and slender with a lance-shaped head, has a protective coloring of gray and brown and is as deadly poisonous as the rattlesnake.

A culebra mico, a non-poisonous rat snake, and two emperor boas, Central American varieties of the boa constrictor family, completed the bag.

French, who is known to St. Louis athletic followers as "Pete," is in the radiator shield business at 3861 Market street, and lives at 4345 Shenandoah avenue. He has made numerous snake-collecting trips for the zoo into nearby states. The Central American trip, he said,

SEEKS STILL LOWER WATER RATES IN ST. LOUIS COUNTY

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 12.—A reduction of 12.2 per cent in rates of the St. Louis County Water Co., for metered water service, recently ordered by the Missouri Public Service Commission, is declared inadequate and a further reduction is urged, in a motion for rehearing of the case, filed today by City Attorney Grand of University City.

The commission ordered the reduction on the ground the earnings of the company upon the valuation fixed by the commission were excessive. The commission directed the company to file a new schedule of rates that would reduce its revenues by 12.2 per cent. The reduction is effective on March 20.

Attorneys for the company filed a rehearing motion last Saturday, contending the commission erred in reducing the rates and should have fixed the valuation at approximately $7,000,000 instead of about $5,500,000.

WOMAN ADMITS STEALING $540 FROM JANITOR'S POCKET

A warrant charging burglary and larceny was issued today against Mrs. Estelle Eckenfels of 3155 South Broadway, who confessed yesterday, according to police, that she stole $540 from a pocket of an overcoat which Joseph Suppan, janitor of the building, had left in his quarters.

Mrs. Eckenfels was suspected because of a sudden increase in her expenditures. Police reported that she returned $98 to Suppan, explaining that she had used the rest to buy an automobile and other things.

2 PCT. SMALL LOAN ACT IS DRAFTED FOR HOUSE

Judiciary Committee Expected to Submit Substitute Measure Tomorrow.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 12.—A committee substitute bill fixing the interest rates on small loans at 2 per cent a month, has been drafted by a subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee.

The measure will probably go to the House tomorrow following its consideration by the Judiciary Committee tonight. The substitute contains 14 new regulatory provisions, one of which would require the keeping of extensive data and records on small loans. The data would be made available to the next Legislature for more changes, if necessary. Whether the full committee will approve the 2 per cent rate will not be determined until the committee meets.

The subcommittee in charge of the drafting of the substitute comprised Representative Baird of Jasper County, chairman, and Representatives Elvins of St. Louis County and Nelson of Marion County.

The drafting of the substitute followed a number of discussions before the Judiciary Committee in which Charles M. Hay of St. Louis appeared against the present law, which authorizes small loan agencies to charge 3½ per cent a month.

Representatives of the Russell Sage Foundation have appeared before both Senate and House meetings in favor of the present rate. The Foundation sponsored small loan acts adopted in Missouri and 43 other states.

Every mother realizes how important it is to teach children good habits of conduct, but many of them fail to realize the importance of teaching their children good bowel habits until the poisons from decaying waste held too long in the system have begun to affect the child's health.

Watch your child, and at the first sign of constipation give her a little California Fig Syrup. Children love its rich, fruity taste, and it quickly drives away those distressing ailments such as headaches, bad breath, coated tongue, biliousness, feverishness, fretfulness, etc. It gives them a hearty appetite, regulates their stomach and bowels and gives tone and strength to these organs so they continue to act normally of their own accord. For over fifty years leading physicians have prescribed it for half-sick, bilious, constipated children. More than 4 million bottles used a year shows how mothers depend on it.

POLICE GUARD GIRL AS MURDER WITNESS

Night Club Hostess, 18, Gives Information About Walsh and Rothstein.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 12.—A night club hostess, 18 years old, is under guard of a police matron today as an important witness in two killings.

Demaris Dore, who was quoted as saying she had witnessed the shooting of Thomas Walsh in a Miami hotel last week, also told police she knew Arnold Rothstein, who was fatally shot in the Park Central Hotel here Nov. 3. Walsh had been Rothstein's bodyguard.

Police Commissioner Whalen was impressed by her story.

"She is loaded with information," he said. "She has proved a mine of information about the Walsh case. She knew Rothstein and all his associates."

He said that for her own sake he could not disclose what had been learned from her, adding that her information coincided with what New York detectives had learned in Miami regarding the slaying of Walsh.

Tells of Lindy's Restaurant.

The girl told police she had been a frequenter of Lindy's Restaurant and a night club known as the Silver Slipper where Rothstein and his companions often were to be found. It was at Lindy's that Rothstein received the telephone message calling him to the hotel room where he was shot. GeorgeA. McManus, who police said engaged the room, is in the Tombs awaiting trial on an indictment charging murder in the first degree for the killing of Rothstein.

Whalen said the girl told of meeting many well known Broadway gamblers when she went to Miami several weeks ago, some of whom were being sought for questioning in the Rothstein case. She denied meeting Hymen Biller, who also is under indictment for the killing of Rothstein. Biller disappeared soon after the shooting and has evaded arrest.

Sent to Hotel for Night.

Miss Dore entered police headquarters with cheerful mien and self assured. Ten hours later she was near hysteria when detectives ended their questioning for the day and sent her to a hotel to spend the night accompanied by a police matron.

Whalen would not say whether she had told detectives of witnessing the shooting of Walsh. She had been quoted as saying Walsh was shot by one of his companions as the result of a sudden quarrel. She refused to identify the man who did the shooting.

Miami police are seeking Eddie Wilson, a gambler, in connection with the killing of Walsh. Arthur L. Clark, New York gambler, who was wounded in the arm when Walsh was shot, is being held in a Miami hospital as a material witness.

TO DROP CHARGES BROUGHT OVER JACKSON BARNETT CASE

WASHINGTON, March 12.—A decision against attempting prosecution of Government officials or others involved in the administration of the tangled afairs of Jackson Barnett, wealthy Oklahoma Indian, was reached today by Attorney-General Mitchell.

The Attorney-General announced the decision shortly after he made public a report by Pierce Butler Jr., a special assistant, which recommended that course. (Butler's report recently was forecast in the Post-Dispatch.

The Butler report suggested, however, that a suit to annul the marriage of the aged Indian to Anna Laura Lowe may be maintained by the Government, and that pending suits to recover donations of large sums of Barnett's money should be prosecuted.

Barnett's marriage a few years ago created considerable discussion that reached into Senate investigating committees which also have looked into his gifts of $500,000 to a church organization and the disposition of other funds.

TWO LIONS ATTACK TRAINER; WOMEN'S SCREAMS BRING AID

Man Bitten and Clawed When He Tries to Stop Fight; Water Drives Beasts Back.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 12.—The screams of women spectators probably saved th life of Clarence Koontz, 24 years old, trainer at Luna Park Zoo here, when he attempted to stop a fight between two male lions in a cage yesterday.

The beasts sprang upon him, knocking him to the floor as he tried to beat them off with a light whip. The screams of the women brought attendants who forced the lions back with a stream of water from a fire hose.

Fourteen deep bites and scratches were found on Koontz's body when he was removed to a hospital. He was said to have an even chance for recovery. Koontz has been taming lions here for six years.

DIES OF SPINAL MENINGITIS

Laborer Fourth Victim of Disease in St. Charles County in Month.

John Wallace, 25 years old, a railroad laborer, died of spinal meningitis early today at his home, 1610 North Third street, St. Charles. His death was the fourth from this cause in St. Charles County in the last month.

Wallace became ill last Saturday and was given a serum yesterday when his condition became acute. He is survived by his widow and two small children.

HANGED FOR KILLING SWEETHEART, MOTHER

By the Associated Press.

LIVERPOOL, March 12.—Joseph Reginald Victor Clarke, known as "the boy with a hundred sweethearts," was hanged this morning for the murder of Mrs. Alice Fontaine, the mother of one of his sweethearts.

Clarke kept his boast to his jailers that he would face death bravely and assisted them at the scaffold.

Clarke was 21 years old and well educated, having had a brilliant school career in England. He visited his mother in Virginia when he was 16, spending a year at Princeton University before returning to England.

He studied psychology and hypnotism, police said, and then began to engangle many women. He boarded with Mrs. Fontaine rent free while he courted her daughter. He fleeced her of her life savings and then killed her.

SENATE HEARING ON CITY'S RAPID TRANSIT BILLS

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 12.—A hearing on the bills in the proposed program of rapid transit legislation for St. Louis was held late yesterday by the Senate Municipal Corporations Committee, but action was deferred until Thursday, when another hearing will be held, at which members of the St. Louis Transportation Survey Commission will discuss the measures.

The hearing was on the transit measures introduced in the Senate by Senator Kinney of St. Louis. These bills are duplicates of the four bills introduced in the House. Three of them have been passed by the House and now are in the Senate.

The bills passed by the House are the rapid transit enabling act, and two resolutions for submission of proposed constitutional amendments authorizing cities to issue bonds for construction or acquisition of public utilities for periods of 50 years, instead of the present limit of 20 years, and enlarging the powers of cities to condemn property for public improvements.

Terminable Permit Bill.

The fourth bill pending in the House is that authorizing common carriers to exchange their existing limited term franchises for terminable permits, with the consent of the municipalities affected. Such a permit in effect would be a permanent franchise, subject to certain conditions of revocation, or purchase of the property of the carrier by the municipality in which it operates.

The permit bill was amended in the House to limit it to St. Louis, and is considered unworkable and possibly unconstitutional in its present form. It likely will die on the House calendar.

City Counselor J. T. Muench of St. Louis, appeared before the Senate committee and explained the enabling act and the terminable permit bill. The Senate bill on terminable permits for common carriers is in the original form, as drafted by the Transportation Survey Commission, and so far does not carry the amendment limiting it to St. Louis.

Opposed by Senator Casey.

Members of the committee offered some objections to the permit bill and it likely will meet opposition in the Senate. Senator Casey of Kansas City said he could not see where the cities would gain any advantages through the bill, and might lose some of their present powers exercised in granting franchises.

Senator Brogan of St. Louis and Senator Haymes of Springfield said the bill should be amended to be more definite as to safeguards for rights of the cities, on the ground that once a city had consented to exchange of an existing franchise for a terminable permit, there would be considerable difficulty in revoking it, despite revocation grounds set out in the bill.

Brogan said there was no provision for a common carrier having to obtain consent of the city to any future change in its transportation facilities, once it had obtained a terminable permit. Muench said this was true and stated the bill should be amended to require such consent to future changes.

Advantage of Measure.

Senator Morgan of Unionville said the permit would amount to a perpetual franchise if the municipality was not in a position to issue bonds to purchase its common carriers. Muench, on inquiry, said he did not know whether any city in other States having terminable permit laws ever had exercised the purchase right.

In response to an inquiry from Morgan, Muench said about the only advantage of the terminable permit measure to the city was one suggested by engineers for the St. Louis Transportation Survey Commission, that the cities would have uninterrupted service from their utilities, without the periods of poor service arising under the present system when franchises were near expiration and the utilities were having difficulties financing their operations because of that fact.

DEMOCRATS WHO BACKED HOOVER TO HAVE VOICE IN PATRONAGE

METHOD BEING TRIED IN NEW YORK STATE

Opposition to Mann's Plan for Handling Jobs Below Mason-Dixon Line Led to Resignation.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Recognition of the leaders of the Hoover Democrats of the South in the matter of Federal appointments in that section is likely to be adopted by President Hoover as a cardinal policy.

There also are indications that in the Eastern and Western states the regular organization leaders will be required to consult on appointments those who had charge of the Hoover preconvention campaign in those cases where these men are not now identified with the regular State party leadership.

While there has been no formal announcement of the methods that are to be pursued in selecting Federal officers in the states south of the Mason and Dixon line, the expectation is that this will be largely in the control of a committee for each State on which the Hoover Democrats will have membership, although by no means a majority.

Trial in New York State.

The committee plan of handling patronage is being tried out in New York State, where Edmund H. Machold, State chairman; Charles D. Hilles, Republican National Committeeman, and William H. Hill, leader of the independent Hoover-for-President organization, are functioning. Several appointments, including three judgeships, are to be made in New York State, but so far as is known the committee has not yet made any recommendations.

The patronage situation in the South already has given the President considerable concern and has been an indirect cause, at least, of the retirement of Horace A. Mann, a Washington lawyer, from the political field as director of political affairs in the South for the President, a job he performed during the campaign.

Mann had worked out a rather elaborate plan for handling appointments, laying it first before the executive body of the Republican National Committee. That organization failed to act on it and then Mann took it to President Hoover.

Work Opposed Mann Plan.

The general understanding has been that Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican National Committee, opposed the Mann proposition, and after he had visited the White House late in the week, Mann issued a statement announcing his retirement.

Some of the Republican National Committeemen for the Southern states have been reported in active opposition to the Mann policy, several going to far as to say that Mann would have nothing to do with patronage in their states. In some instances these committeemen, presumably at the suggestion of high national leaders, have presented the names of those whom they would like to see on the committees for their states. In each instance, leaders of the Hoover Democrats have been included.

Recognition to this group in Texas already has been extended by the regular Republican organization under R. B. Creager, national committeeman, and some of the Hoover Democrats in Texas have been indorsed by the Republican organization for high posts in the Federal service.

ASSISTANT SECRETARIES OF WAR AND NAVY CHOSEN

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Two new Assistant Secretaries of War and Navy were appointed today by President Hoover. They were Ernest V. Jancke of New Orleans, Assistant Secretary of Navy, and Patrick Hurley of Tulsa, Ok., Assistant Secretary of War.

Hurley was one of the chief Hoover supporters in Oklahoma during the last campaign. He will be in charge of War Department industrial mobiliaztion plans, succeeding Charles B. Robbins. Jahncke is a member of a family long prominent in the shipping and shipbuilding world. He will take over the duties of Theodore Douglas Robinson. Jahncke amassed a fortune through the Jahncke Dry Docks Co., and the Jahncke Service, Inc., New Orleans. He is president of the Republican Club of Louisiana.

DEMOCRATS WHO BACKED HOOVER TO HAVE VOICE IN PATRONAGE

METHOD BEING TRIED IN NEW YORK STATE

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Recognition of the leaders of the Hoover Democrats of the South in the matter of Federal appointments in that section is likely to be adopted by President Hoover as a cardinal policy.

There also are indications that in the Eastern and Western states the regular organization leaders will be required to consult on appointments those who had charge of the Hoover preconvention campaign in those cases where these men are not now identified with the regular State party leadership.

While there has been no formal announcement of the methods that are to be pursued in selecting Federal officers in the states south of the Mason and Dixon line, the expectation is that this will be largely in the control of a committee for each State on which the Hoover Democrats will have membership, although by no means a majority.

Trial in New York State.

The committee plan of handling patronage is being tried out in New York State, where Edmund H. Machold, State chairman; Charles D. Hilles, Republican National Committeeman, and William H. Hill, leader of the independent Hoover-for-President organization, are functioning. Several appointments, including three judgeships, are to be made in New York State, but so far as is known the committee has not yet made any recommendations.

The patronage situation in the South already has given the President considerable concern and has been an indirect cause, at least, of the retirement of Horace A. Mann, a Washington lawyer, from the political field as director of political affairs in the South for the President, a job he performed during the campaign.

Mann had worked out a rather elaborate plan for handling appointments, laying it first before the executive body of the Republican National Committee. That organization failed to act on it and then Mann took it to President Hoover.

Work Opposed Mann Plan.

The general understanding has been that Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican National Committee, opposed the Mann proposition, and after he had visited the White House late in the week, Mann issued a statement announcing his retirement.

Some of the Republican National Committeemen for the Southern states have been reported in active opposition to the Mann policy, several going to far as to say that Mann would have nothing to do with patronage in their states. In some instances these committeemen, presumably at the suggestion of high national leaders, have presented the names of those whom they would like to see on the committees for their states. In each instance, leaders of the Hoover Democrats have been included.

Recognition to this group in Texas already has been extended by the regular Republican organization under R. B. Creager, national committeeman, and some of the Hoover Democrats in Texas have been indorsed by the Republican organization for high posts in the Federal service.

ASSISTANT SECRETARIES OF WAR AND NAVY CHOSEN

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Two new Assistant Secretaries of War and Navy were appointed today by President Hoover. They were Ernest V. Jancke of New Orleans, Assistant Secretary of Navy, and Patrick Hurley of Tulsa, Ok., Assistant Secretary of War.

Hurley was one of the chief Hoover supporters in Oklahoma during the last campaign. He will be in charge of War Department industrial mobiliaztion plans, succeeding Charles B. Robbins. Jahncke is a member of a family long prominent in the shipping and shipbuilding world. He will take over the duties of Theodore Douglas Robinson. Jahncke amassed a fortune through the Jahncke Dry Docks Co., and the Jahncke Service, Inc., New Orleans. He is president of the Republican Club of Louisiana.

Nobile Tells of Exploring Unknown Regions in Arctic Before the Italia Crashed

Craft Flew Over 18,000 Square Miles of Territory Never Before Seen by Man, Says Commander of Dirigible.

In a series of four exclusive articles, of which this is the third, General Umberto Nobile, commander of the ill-fated dirigible, Italia, tells his own story of the ship disaster last May and the scientific achievements of the expedition as he sees them. In the two previous articles, General Nobile told of the disaster itself. In this installment he deals with the scientific phases of the expedition.

ROME, March 12.

THE general public is ignorant of all the scientific preparations for the flight by the Italia to the North Pole; and even unaware that I selected the itinerary of the voyage so as to be able to accomplish an interesting geographical exploration and a series of scientific researches of the utmost importance.

Therefore, I think it worth while to give a brief account of the first two flights undertaken by the Italia in the Polar regions.

The first of these flights took place May 11. Our program was to steer toward the East in order to explore Nicholas II Land, but as soon as we neared North Cape the weather became so bad that we were obliged to return. Therefore the flight was interrupted after eight hours.

The second flight lasted from May 15 to 18, a voyage of 69 hours. We traversed the unexplored zone between Spitzbergen and the Franz Joseph Archipelago, and the large unexplored region of Nicholas II Land.

In returning, we crossed the Barents Sea from the north coast of Nova Zembla to the land northeast of Spitzbergen. In all 4000 kilometers (2500 miles) were passed over. Of these, 340 kilometers were over regions on which the eyes of man never had rested before.

Explodes a Polar Fabel.

The geographical results were as follows:

Ten thousand square kilometers (2500 square miles) were explored in the previously unknown region between Spitzbergen and Franz Joseph Land, showing the fabled Gilles Land did not exist.

Four thousand square kilometers were flown over in the hitherto unexplored region between the islands east of Franz Joseph Land and the route of "St. Anne;" that is, the region between the eighty-first and eighty-second degrees of north latitude and the seventy-seventh and seventieth degrees of longitude east of Greenland.

A good 730 kilometers were passed over in the unexplored zone of Nicholas II Land, reaching about the ninety-second degree of longitude east of Greenwich. In this region we cruised over 20,000 square kilometers of area, but saw no land.

Another 4500 square kilometers were explored in the zone to the northeast of Nova Zembla.

Over Vast Unknown Area.

A total of about 48,000 square kilometers (18,000 square miles) of previously unknown area was explored. No sensational discovery of new lands was made, although signs of land were perceived near the eightieth degree of latitude north and 84 minutes 30 seconds of longitude east.

On the other hand, this exploration permitted a delimitation of the extreme Western limits to which the above-mentioned land may extend, a delimitation which, together with the probable existence of land in the point before indicated, gave me the idea that Nicholas II Land very probably consisted of a number of islands.

The scientific work on board was entrusted to Prof. Pontremoli and Prof. Malmgren.

Malmgren collected meteorological data and made observations on the state of the ice, while Pontremoli studied the horizontal component of the terrestrial magnetic field through a Bidlingmeyer double compass, measured the electric conductivity of the atmosphere, and afterward made 59 measurements of penetrating radiation and 31 measurements of atmospheric radioactivity.

Radio Apparatus From Prague.

These last measurements were taken with apparatus from the Radio Institute of Prague installed on board the Italia under the care of Prof. Behounek.

As is seen, this flight alone was of sufficient importance to justify the expedition of the Italia.

But, besides this flight, the minimum program of exploration arranged by me and announced beforehand considered a flight from King's Bay to the Northern coast of Greenland, and thence to the North Pole over the unexplored region between the route of Peary and that of the Norge.

On the return from the Pole to Spitzbergen, the flight would have taken place between the twenty-fifth and the thirtieth meridian of East longitude, with the object of exploring the zones lying to the right of the route of the Norge.

Plans to Land On Ice.

The program of scientific measurements comprised, besides the meteorological and magnetic observations and the study of atmospheric electricity and of penetrating radiation, a landing on the ice at the Pole as well.

Among the scientific researches to be carried out at the Pole were studies of oceanographic character; that is to say, measurement of the depth of the sea, determination of the temeprature and the taking of samples of sea water at various depths.

Then measurements relative to the magnetic camp were to be made by means of a dip-circle inclinometer kindly lent to me by the Carnegie Institution of Washington and especially adapted to a measurement executed rapidly in the special conditions in which our studies would have to be made.

It was to carry out this research program that on the morning of May 23 the Italia started from King's Bay.

Because of the importance of this scientific scheme, I decided that all three scientists, Behounek, Pontremoli and Malmoren, my collaborators, should take part in the flight. Each had his special task.

Studies Plan to Descend.

The preparations for descending on the ice had required long study and numerous experiments. In the end I adopted a system which when put into practice proved satisfactory. Landing on the ice was a delicate maneuver calling for much prudence and favorable atmospheric conditions.

I had decided that once the landing was effected, I should first descend personally to ascertain the possibility of carrying out our determinations with safety, and then return on board and send down Pontremoli and Malmgren, the former to make magnetic research studies and the latter to obtain the oceanographic observations.

While I did this, a naval officer would have taken our exact geographical position. I had calculated that we should remain down on the ice for three hours.

On the evening previous to the departure, I had wished to test with Malmgren the bottles I had ordered construc'ed for taking the sea water samples. We carried out this test under conditions similar to those we expected to encounter at the Pole.

Acoustic Lead for Sounding.

With Malmgren, I assured myself that the acoustic sounding lead and various sounding lines were in order and in their place on the Italia ready for use. The acoustic sounding lead had been made in Germany and experimented with in Italy.

After all, it was a pity that the very worst kind of weather at the Pole prevented me from making the ice landing planned for there, because without doubt, besides constituting a brilliant technical success, it would have made possible studies extremely valuable to science.

I had taken into consideration the danger of our being maroned on the ice pack by some accident to the ship in landing, or by its being torn from its moorings and swept away by a gale. In consequence, I took special precautions to assure the men having with them sufficient food, clothing and supplies to subsist on the ice for some days with reasonable comfort, until the ship could be brought back to rescue them.

Supplies Taken on Italia.

With the help of Pontremoli I put these supplies into two waterproof sacks. The most important items included were:

Two fur-lined sacks, one tent, one box of pemmican, one box of chocolate, two boxes of biscuits, two kegs of coloring powders, two pistols with cartridges, three wind coats, three pairs of "pinsko," three pairs of fur gauntlet gloves, one megaphone, one box of matches, supply of solid combustibles, one Nansen type stove, one knife and one packet of medications.

One of these two sacks was placed inside the keel, and the other in the ceiling of the wireless cabin. This second sack fell with us in the catastrophe. It was the one containing the tent, one of the two fur-lined sacks, and the pistols. All were precious things, without which we could not have lived nearly so long as we did on that terrible pack.

BYRD NAMES PART OF NEWLY FOUND REGION FOR SCOTT

HOPES AUTHORITIES WILL OK ACTION

By RUSSELL OWEN.

This story is published exclusively in St. Louis in the Post-Dispatch. All news articles from members of the Byrd party, or from special correspondents assigned to it, will appear only in the Post-Dispatch in this city.

LITTLE AMERICA, Antarctica, March 11.—(By wireless.)—Commander Richard E. Byrd has named part of the region recently explored by him after Capt. Robert Falcon Scott, famous British explorer who contributed so greatly to our knowledge of this continent and who died on his return from the South Pole. He rests with his companions on the other side of this barrier on which we are living.

Scott Land lies between King Edward Land and latitude 80.30 south, and west of the 150th meridian, which is the eastern boundary of the Ross dependency. This area includes the large mountains discovered by Commander Byrd and is undoubtedly true land, overlaid with a cap of ice and snow, a great area worthy of the man whose name it bears.

"I have given Scott's name to this land and hope it will be approved by the proper authorities," said Commander Byrd in talking of his famous predecessor in Antarctica.

"It is too bad that the nunataks (icy hills) of King Edward Land should be the only things to bear the name of that gallant man."

The limits of King Edward Land have never been defined inasmuch as the only persons to set foot there before the Byrd expedition were three members of Amundsen's expedition who made a trip to the nunataks.

The region was discovered and named by Scott on his first voyage in the Discovery, but he did not land there because he did not at that time think conditions would permit them to do so. But on the charts, King Edward Land had been recognized as the region near the coast and included the Scott nunataks. So it seemed fitting that his name should be given to the large area to the south of King Edward Land up to Amundsen's "appearance of land," the beginnings of which were first seen by him.

There are many regions on the coast of Antarctica and near each other which bear different names, such as Adelie Land, King George Land and Oates Land, Commander Byrd is sure, as a result of his flights, that land begins just to the east of the Bay of Whales, whether or not it is under the southern limits of the bay in the form of islands.

Commander Byrd has always been a great admirer of Scott.

(Wireless communication failed at this point. The rest of the story will appear in the Post-Dispatch as soon as communication is re-established.)

Capt. Scott Perished in Antartic in 1912.

Capt. Scott perished from starvation and exposure on March 29, 1912, when only 155 miles from his base on McMurdo Sound while on the return trail from the South Pole, to which he had sledged 1342 miles.

On this journey all of his companions lost their lives. The disaster was due to prolonged gales in a temperature ranging from 30 to 47 degrees below zero and to hauling geological specimens over the soft snow to what proved to be the death camp.

It was in this camp, on the westerly end of the Ross Sea ice barrier on which Commander Byrd now is operating at the eastern end, that Capt. Scott, four days before he succumbed, wrote: "I do not regret this journey which has shown that Englishmen can endure hardships, help one another and meet death with as great fortitude as ever in the past. . . . We have been willing to give our lives for this enterprise, which is for the honor of our country."

Closing Time for Foreign Mail.

Trans-Atlantic mail, parcel post for Germany and full European mail must be in the main postoffice, Eighteenth and Walnut streets, by 9 p. m. today. The time limit for European mails, except for Italy and Jugo-Slavia, is 9 o'clock tomorrow night and full European mails will be made up again at the same time Thursday. Air mail for Europe must be in before 3 p. m. Friday.

ARGUMENTS MADE FOR REVISION OF GAS RATE FINDINGS

Unless the Public Service Commission Modifies Ruling Court Contest Will Follow.

UTILITY AND CITY BOTH DISSATISFIED

Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 12.—Motions of the City of St. Loius and the Laclede Gas Light Co. to set aside the recent order of the Missouri Public Service Commission granting the company a gas rae increase in St. Louis, amounting to about $600,000 a year, and for a rehearing of the case, were taken under advisement by the commission late yesterday, after hearing arguments on attorneys for the city and company.

If the commission overrules the two rehearing motions and adheres to its order, the case undoubtedly will be appealed to the courts. The city has indicated it will carry the case to the courts, unless the commission modifies the order, which places the increases chiefly upon small domestic consumers.

The commission order, issued last Jan. 17, reduced the valuation of the gas department of the company by about $1,500,000 to $47,000,000 increased its annual depreciation allowance from 1 per cent to 1½ per cent of the depreciable property, reduced the maximum rate from $1 to 95 cents a thousand cubic feet of gas, and increased the minimum monthly charge from 50 cents (which includes first 500 cubic feet of gas) to 75 cents, including only first 300 cubic feet.

Schedule Not Filed.

The company was directed to file to new schedule of rates, within the prescribed maximum and minimum, that would yield a return of not more than 7½ per cent on the new valuation of $47,000,000. The commission estimated the increase in revenue, to accomplish this result, would be about $600,000 a year. The schedule has not been filed, pending disposition of the rehearing motions.

Rate increases averaging about 18 per cent, which would have produced $1,400,000 additional revenue annually, were sought by the company.

City Counselor J. T. Muench, representing the city, attacked the 75 cent minimum monthly charge as discriminatory, and a penalty upon the small consumers who could not afford to pay more for gas, to permit reductions for certain large consumers.

More than 11,000 of the approximate 200,000 gas consumers in St. Louis were using less than 300 cubic feet of gas a month, Muench said, and the higher minimum charge was declared discriminatory against them. Should the company be required to furnish 500 cubic feet of gas for this charge, instead of 300 cubic feet, he said, it still would be earning a return of 9 per cent upon service to these consumers.

He said the new rates would mean increases of from 1 to 88 per cent for householders whose present monthly bills did not exceed $8, and the heaviest increases would fall upon the smaller consumers within this class.

Shows Changed Condition.

Muench declared the valuation should not exceed $40,000,000, and reviewed evidence offered by the city in the original hearings to show changed conditions, non-use of some of the plant included in the valuation, reductions in material costs affecting the reproduction value, and evidence that the going value of $5,818,000 given the gas department was excessive.

This going value was 14 per cent on the valuation given the remainder of the property, and the consumers should not be compelled to provide a return on an excessive

EXPLORER WILKINS LANDS IN NEW YORK

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Sir Hubert Winkins, aerial explorer of both ends of the earth, received his second formal welcome from New York today. With three other members of his antarctic expedition, Wilkins arrived on the liner Ebro, on which they came from South America.

The reception began at the vessel's pier in Hoboken. Here Wilkins, Lieut. Carl Ben Eielson, his chief pilot, Joe E. Crosson, second pilot, and Orville H. Porter, a mechanic, were met by a municipal reception committee headed by George F. Mead of the American and Foundry Co.

Miss Suzanne Bennett, who has announced her engagement to the Commander of the expedition, was in the welcoming party. When photographers attempted to "shoot" the two in an embrace, Wilkins answered with an emphatic "no."

Luncheon was served aboard the ship after Dr. John H. Finley, president of the American Geographical Society, received Wilkins' report telling of the discovery that Graham Land in the antarctic was a series of islands rather than part of the South Polar continent, as had been thought.

A reception at City Hall this afternoon was on the program after the luncheon, and after these ceremonies the explorers had headquarters opened for them at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

Already Sir Wilkins is planning a return journey to Antarctica. He said he has found a point west of the continent for the establishment of one of 12 weather stations, which the Geographical Society is placing throughout the world. Wilkins said he would attempt to find a still more desirable point, but if he was not successful the one at present in mind would suit the purpose.

STINSON TRIES FOR RECORD

Takes Off With George Hopkins as Co-Pilot.

BAY CITY, Mich., March 12.—Thrice balked by inclement weather, Eddie Stinson of Detroit took off from the ice of Saginaw Bay near here at 11:17 o'clock this morning in another attempt at the non-refueling airplane endurance flight record. He was accompanied as co-pilot by George Hopkins of Detroit, who replaced Randolph Page, Stinson's companion on the three unsuccessful attempts.

A combination of moderate temperatures which melted the ice of the bay, high winds and motor trouble resulted in the failure of the previous attempts.

RUSSIAN REVOLT 12 YEARS AGO

Soviets Celebrate Anniversary of War on Czardom.

MOSCOW, March 12.—Soviet Russia today celebrated the twelfth anniversary of the revolution which resulted in the abdication of the Czar. All shops, business houses and Government institutions were closed. The official communist organ, Pravda, in an editorial, said:

"Twelve years have elapsed from the day of the Czar's fall. We are now in the thick of Socialist building, but we are building in hostile surroundings within a circle of imperialist enemies."

8-CENT FARE CASE TO GO TO STATE SUPREME COURT

EARLY HEARING TO BE SOUGHT

Public Service Board's $66,000,000 Valuation of Street Car Property Basis of Fight.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 12.—The legal fight against the straight 8-cent carfare and valuation of "not less than $66,000,000" given the St. Louis Public Service Co. by the Missouri Public Service Commission will be carried to the State Supreme Court, City Counselor J. T. Muench of St. Louis announced here last night, following affirmation of the commission order yesterday afternoon by Cole County Circuit Court.

The decision by Circuit Judge H. J. Westhues, sustaining the commission, was in an appeal taken by the city of St. Louis from the commission's findings. Judge Westhues did not give a formal opinion, merely announcing his ruling with an entry of the affirmation upon the court docket.

Muench said an appeal would be taken immediately and the Supreme Court would be requested to advance the case on its docket for an early hearing. The Supreme Court usually advances the hearing of appeals of this nature, because of the public interest involved.

Case Argued Jan. 31.

Arguments in the case were submitted to the Cole County Circuit Court Jan. 31 by attorneys for the city, Public Service Commission and the St. Louis Public Service Co., briefs were filed later and Judge Westhues had the case under advisement about three weeks. The appeal was taken to the Circuit Court here, under the Public Service Commission law, because the commission's hearings were held here.

The commission order was issued June 21, 1928, granting the company's application for a straight 8-cent fare, effective July 1.

Valuation of the company's property was fixed at "not less than $66,000,000" as the property stood on Jan. 1, 1927, of which $63,500,000 was for the operating property. The valuation was an increase of $14,000,000 over a tentative valuation of $52,000,000 fixed by the commission in June, 1927, when it granted the company a temporary increase from the former 7-cent fare, to 8 cents cash or two tokens for 15 cents, pending a final order.

In the final order, fixing the

An Investor's Experience.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

IT is generally agreed that when investing money the issuing house must be considered, and if it is a reputable house it exerts quite an influence in one's choice of securities.

By constant exposure by papers such as yours, and other educational methods, the investor has been taught to avoid the questionable houses and trust his investment problems to the recognized investment bankers and brokers.

The writer has never dealt with any but what apparently were reputable houses, yet he is the holder of $5000 (par value) in defaulted bonds. True, two of the issues were underwritten and sold by G. L. Miller & Co., but at the time of purchase their interest rates were not out of line with other bonds of the same type, and the issuing company was to all outward appearances most reputable. Their advertising was accepted by our leading dailies and periodicals. There was no breath of suspicion until something went wrong out East, then it was too late to get out from under the load.

One of the defaulting issues is the now famous New Orleans-Pontchartrain bridge project. This issue, as you no doubt know, was sold by a number of the most reputable houses in St. Louis. I do not believe anyone will question their integrity, but because of this reputation hundreds of St. Louisans trusted their judgment and purchased these now almost worthless securities.

The company which I dealt with—one of the outstanding bond houses in St. Louis—explains that this is a very unusual case, that it is impossible to compete with the State of Louisiana, to which to some extent I agree. But there is hardly a question but that they were amply and fairly warned of coming events. However strong this warning, they nevertheless unloaded these securities upon their trusting clients, clients who had been educated to call upon such houses as theirs for investment service and advice. In some issues, aside from the physical worth of a property, the moral element behind a given project is stressed. That being so, is it not incumbent upon a bond house to investigate other factors aside from property value and earning power?

The recognized investment services advise the purchase only of well-seasoned listed bonds. This I have also tried. However, were it necessary for me to liquidate my holdings today, my losses would be from 4 to 12 points on old seasoned bonds listed on the big board.

So far as I know there is no way of differentiating between a conservative bond house and houses of less character, but there is no such difficulty in choosing a life insurance company among the many great old-line mutual type.

The Whelpley Collection.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I NOTICED in this column a most timely warning from E. R. Paillou, M. D., in which he deplores the fact that unless very prompt measures are taken, St. Louis will lose the finest private archeological collection in the world, said collection having been carefully selected by the late Dr. H. M. Whelpley during the past 50 or 60 years.

As Dr. Paillou states, Mrs. Whelpley, rather than see the collection leave the city, has refused offers of $50,000, but will accept $25,000 if it can be kept in St. Louis.

Unfortunately, the Missouri Historical Society, having neither State or city support, is not in a position financially to buy it, even on the annuity basis. The society's income is dependent on membership dues and a few endowments, and this is barely sufficient to defray current expenses incurred in serving the general public free of charge.

We would welcome any plan by which this priceless collection might be retained.

Carelessness in Handling Gasoline.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

AS a visitor in your city for the last week trying to get pointers on fire prevention, I was surprised to see the lax way that your city government handles filling stations. In all the large cities I have visited to date, oil and gasoline pumps must have underwriters' label and also be passed by the Fire Department. In St. Louis I notice that you allow any equipment put in regardless of label, which is first guarantee in the handling of gasoline, one of the most dangerous liquids known.

I notice stations with large tanks of gasoline stored above ground and these are in congested areas. Also the crude methods of handling gasoline in large garages where many people go each day to park their cars. I am bringing this to your attention not in the light of criticism but for a thought for your paper to consider from the point of safety for your citizens.

A VISITOR.

MINNESOTA'S GAG LAW.

That "he whose cause is just is thrice-armed" has been abundantly proved by the fight upon the Minnesota gag law. When Representative R. R. Davis began his battle to repeal this law 60 days ago, the country had almost never heard of it. Yet three Minnesota newspapers had been suppressed under the law in 1928. The case of one of them, the Saturday Press of Minneapolis, is sufficiently illustrative. It launched a campaign against vice in Hennepin County. The county officials retaliated by invoking the gag law. The law resulted from an attack upon one of the members of the Legislature by a publication at Duluth.

Mr. Davis now finds himself leading a popular cause. He has behind him such powerful influences as the Associated Press and many of the great newspapers of the United States. The Chicago Tribune has gone so far in its support as to initiate in the United States Supreme Court a constitutional test of the law. The St. Paul and Minneapolis press has ceased to speak of it as "the scandal sheet law." They now refer to it as "Minnesota's gag law." The press in regions as remote as the Atlantic and Pacific coasts has been aroused.

The Springfield, Mass., Republican says: "So far as the State of Minnesota is concerned, freedom of the press now means that a single judge's view of what is defamatory may silence a publication, without a jury trial, and punish the owners, editors, compositors, copy holders, proofreaders and even the newsboys, for contempt of court if the injunction is violated by back talk.

"The libel laws have for generations protected citizens against the sort of publications this new statute is aimed at, but a charge of libel, whether criminal or civil, involved a jury trial. The Minnesota law takes the short cut. If a publication offends, show to the satisfaction of the County Judge, that, being malicious or defamatory, it is a nuisance, and the issue of the injunction follows. Anyone engaged in the publication of the journal adjudged to be a nuisance by his honor, may be regarded as having committed a nuisance. Anyone who violates the injunction, as in other cases of contempt of court, may be fined or sent to jail."

Yet the Supreme Court of Minnesota says this law is constitutional!

The Post-Dispatch has been warning the press of the nation of this situation in Minnesota since last summer. Thanks to Mr. Davis and his appeal to newspapers and public men throughout the country, there is an increasing probability that the Legislature now in session will repeal the law. The difficulty in arousing the press to a realization of its own peril has been that it has been too tolerant of the use of the injunction against labor. It has failed to see in that abuse of a powerful weapon a peril to itself. The United States Supreme Court, if Minnesota herself does not repeal the law, can hardly uphold it. To do so would be to deprive freedom of its most powerful safeguard. Had there been such a law in Missouri last summer, Mr. Sidener could have invoked it to stop the mouths of the newspapers which insisted upon holding his record up to the people. No state could have such a law without disaster to itself.

A SALESMAN OF THE HEROIC AGE.

John E. Pilcher, who died yesterday at the age of 84, made his fame as a salesman for the Simmons Hardware Co. in the days before the great open spaces of the West were filled with movie actors and women Governors. Mr. Pilcher's territory was the vast trading empire west of the Missouri River. Travel was by stagecoach. Mr. Pilcher carried no tracts on sales psychology or dissertations on "how to break down sales resistance." He left home with a six-shooter and a buffalo robe and he came back with the bacon. He belonged to the heroic age of salesmanship before it was necessary to get work out of a drummer by "inspirational" talks, prize contests and all the other inventions of Babbittry.

THE CRISIS.

Elsewhere on this page is printed an editorial from the New York Evening Post under the heading "Strict Enforcement." That we can have better enforcement of prohibition nobody doubts. But the Post is frankly fearful of the consequences should the Hoover administration undertake the enforcement program which the rule or ruin drys are demanding. It is evident, too, that the Post is about convinced that Mr. Hoover is committed to whatever drastic efforts may be necessary to comply with extreme demands of the drys. This policy, it fears and predicts, will precipitate the most serious upheaval since the Civil War.

The Post-Dispatch hesitates thus to pre-judge Mr. Hoover, though in the chorus of acclaim as to his incomparable qualifications for the office of President we did raise the question as to his philosophy of government, his grasp of our democratic institutions, his recognition of our constitutional limitations as well as powers, his sympathy, in a word, with that imponderable which may be defined as personal liberty, or inherent right, or, if you please, the American heritage.

As an engineer Mr. Hoover has been concerned with facts. Professionally he has dealt with the concrete. The great project of Belgian relief which brought him general fame and made him a political possibility was essentially an engineering task which, to be sure, called for administrative talents of a high order. His subsequent work as Food Director, with quasi-dictatorial powers, was an engineering service. As Secretary of Commerce he has, admittedly, been an industrial engineer.

His genius for affairs is established. He is preeminently a practical man. But his present responsibility has a magnitude that runs far beyond the so-called practical. Statesmanship has seriously to do with mathematics of life, of course, but it also has to do with the intangibles. Customs, traditions, the dignity of the individual, the capacity for rebellion against the abuse of authority—all these are factors which the vision of true statesmanship recognizes as sacrosanct in a free people.

Mr. Hoover has need for the wisdom which ordinarily comes only from a profound knowledge of constitutional history—such knowledge, for example, as enabled Mr. Taft to foresee, with prophetic accuracy, the tragic story of prohibition. Mr. Hoover has need for the courage which is the stuff of martyrs. He has truly said that we cannot choose the laws we shall obey, but it is just as true that those whom we delegate as our law-makers must choose wisely the laws they enact.

The power to tax, it is agreed, is the power to destroy. But the taxing power of Government is not restricted to levies on material property: Governments can tax the soul of a people as well as the body. Governments can confiscate the liberties as well as the wealth of people. Governments have done that very thing and have wrecked themselves by doing it.

Mr. Hoover should, in our opinion, consult the judgment of the country's most accomplished men as we proceed steadily and with mounting momentum to the prohibition crisis.

HE STRIPPED THE CARCASS.

The State Penal Board will grant a hearing on April 9 to Donald W. Ross who is asking for a parole.

Depositors of the defunct Night and Day Bank will remember Ross. After Cashier Meininger had stolen everything he could lay his hands on, the State took over the bank. Ross, as Deputy Finance Commissioner, was placed in charge. He at once began stripping the carcass. Before he was caught he had stolen $170,000. He was sentenced to prison for 10 years on two counts. He has served three years and two months of one five-year sentence. Had his term of imprisonment been five years he would now be eligible for parole under the merit system. But there is the other five-year term of which he has not served a minute.

It is patent, of course, that Ross cannot come before the Pardon Board with clean hands, nor can his friends or sponsors offer any argument for clemency other than the petition for mercy. It is submitted that his family needs his support. That is an unhappy fact which every normal person deplores, but tragic as it may be it has no place in the logic of justice.

The raw truth is that Ross was guilty of a ghoulish act of perfidy. As a trusted officer of the State he betrayed that trust and robbed the helpless depositors whose moneys he was commissioned to safeguard.

The public is aware, of course, that court sentences no longer mean what they say. Prison terms melt rapidly away by grace of good behavior and the magic of influential friends. Ten years for the revolting treachery and thievery of Donald Ross did not seem excessive to the outraged citizenship of St. Louis, but if he had gotten off with three years and two months this city would have held such inadequate punishment in derision.

We believe that Ross should at the minimum serve two-thirds of his 10-year sentence as a matter of proper respect for the dignity of the courts, as a matter of public policy and as a matter of justice.

MR. M'CANSE RESIGNS.

It is unfortunate that at such a crisis in the recreative development of Missouri Mr. McCanse should feel it necessary to resign his position as State Game and Fish Commissioner. He no doubt does so because the salary is so meager. As one of the executives of the Pierce Oil Corporation's interesting plan to make the Ozarks a resort region Mr. McCanse has an attractive business opportunity in a familiar field.

Gov. Caulfield has a grave responsibility in the matter of a successor to Mr. McCanse. The State Game and Fish Department is much more inclusive than its title indicates. It is in control of all the State parks, one of the most interesting recreative developments in the United States. There will be a disposition in the State to fear that the Governor may unwittingly permit the department to sink back into the political abyss from which it was rescued a few years ago. There is a tradition at Jefferson City that the rather large sum of money received from hunting and fishing licenses is mere lagniappe for politicians. That was all in the world it was for many years, with the consequence that one of the finest playgrounds in the country lay neglected.

The Governor owes it to the State to find another McCanse. If he fails to meet that obligation he will require the State, after his regime, to repeat all the patient work which brought the Fish and Game Department to its present usefulness and importance.

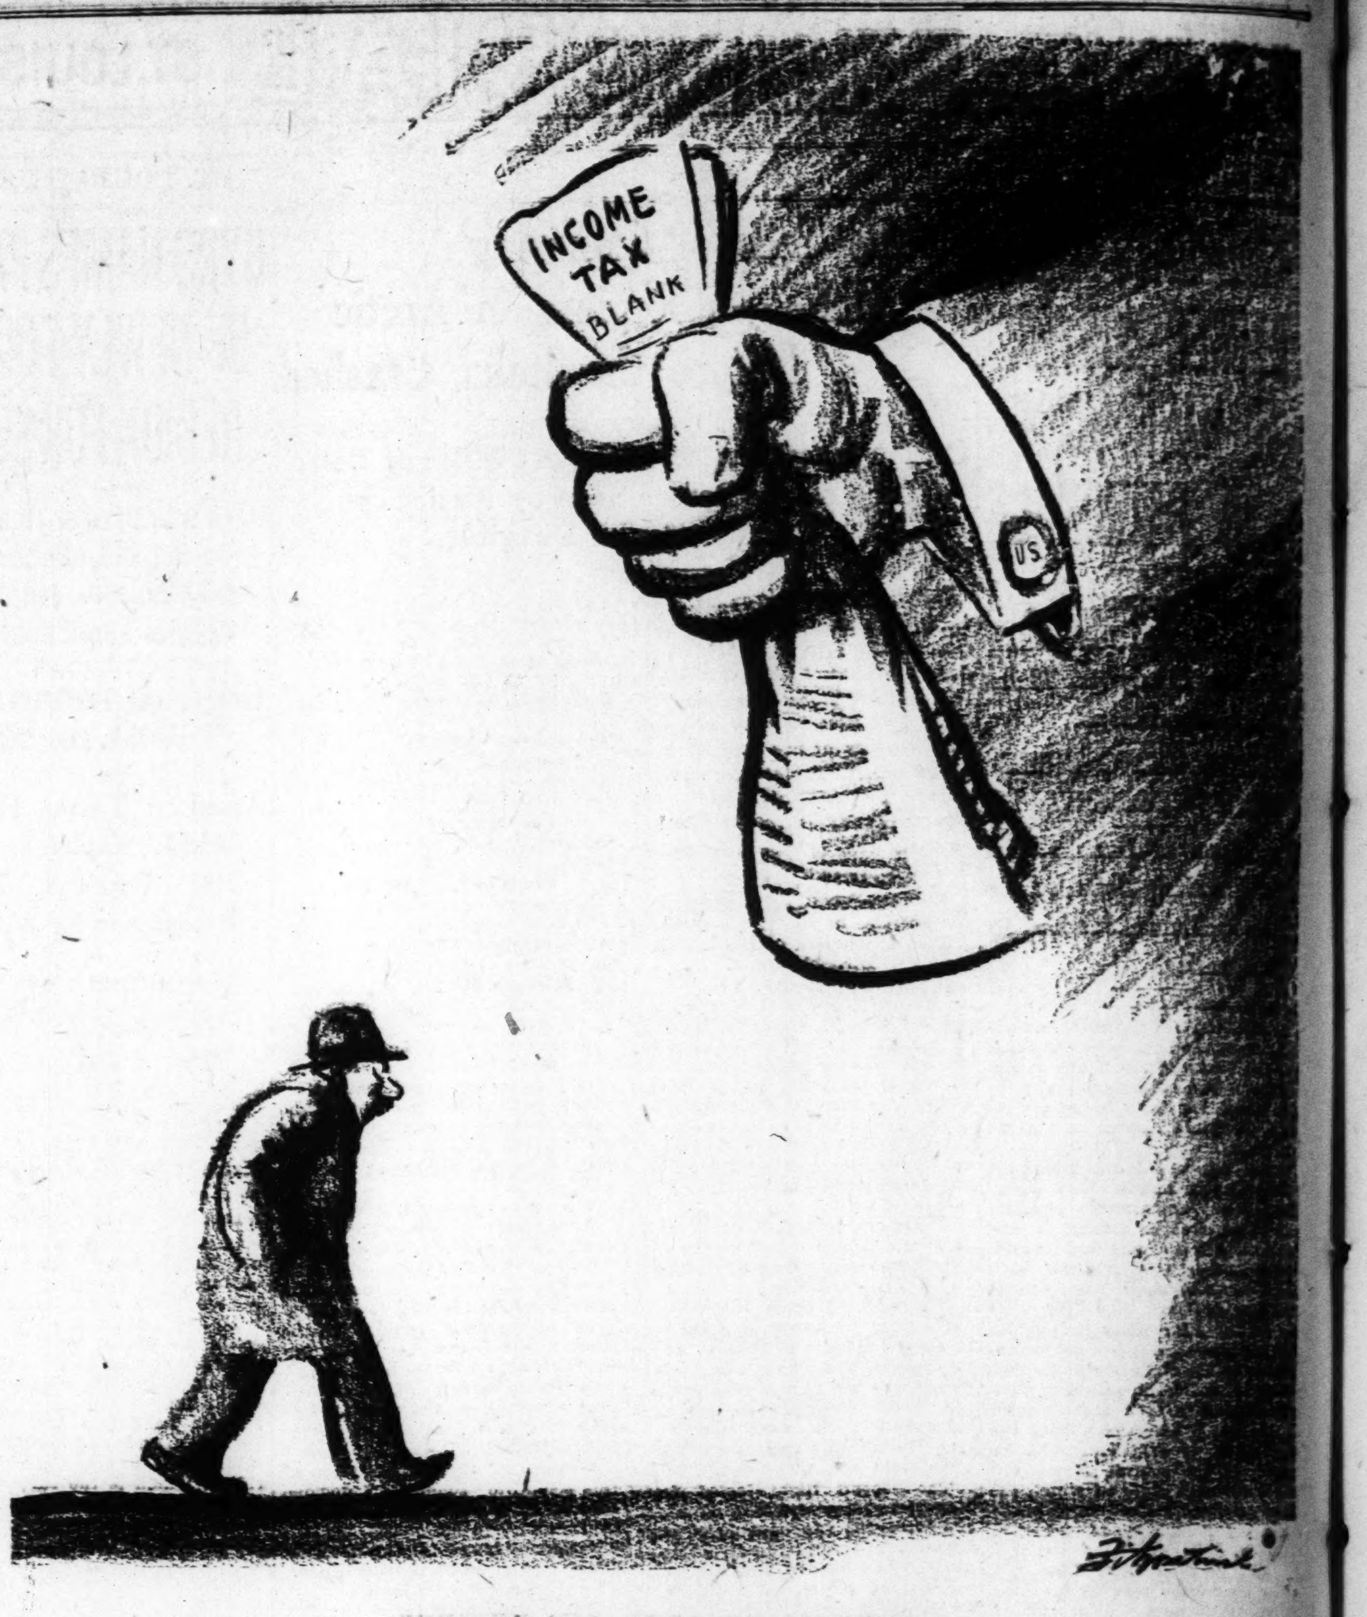
THE PRINCE OF WALES AS REGENT.

According to a dispatch from London printed yesterday in the Post-Dispatch, the Prince of Wales will soon be appointed regent to act for his father until such time as King George recovers from his illness. The immediate necessity for this step arises out of the probability that the crown will be compelled to select the next Prime Minister of England. King George's mental and physical condition is such that he is incapable of making so momentous a decision.

While theoretically the crown always selects the Prime Minister, it is only when neither major party (that is, Conservative or Labor) has a clear majority in the House of Commons that he must make a real choice. Such a situation occurred in 1924, when King George, to the horror of the Tories, asked Ramsay MacDonald to form Great Britain's first Labor government. It required a great deal of courage for King George to pass up Stanley Baldwin and Herbert Asquith to put the government in the hands of a man of such advanced ideas as MacDonald, and it uncovered a vein of liberalism in the King which few suspected he possessed. His judgment was borne out by the brilliant performance of the MacDonald ministry during its short tenure.

In the bye-elections of this winter Labor has won some remarkable victories at the polls, and they are regarded as indicating an equal division of strength between Laborites and Conservatives as a result of the coming general elections. If that indication is borne out, the Prince of Wales, as regent, will be called upon to name the new Premier. Will he stand for a continuance of the Baldwin regime or will he ask MacDonald to form a ministry? We may be sure that Great Britain is buzzing with speculation as to the answer to this question.

What makes it particularly interesting is the Prince's recent encounter with the Baldwin government over his tours of inspection to the coal-mining sections, where unemployment has reduced the miners to abject poverty. After his trip to the Durham district, which aroused world-wide publicity, the Conservatives became alarmed and prevailed upon Baldwin to cancel Wales' projected tour of the South Wales mining region. Thus, we know that Wales' sympathy is with the miners, which gives force to the guess that MacDonald will be the next Prime Minister.



BEWARE THE IDES OF MARCH!

Mr. Hoover and Dry Enforcement

While many wild rumors are afloat as to what Mr. Hoover intends to do about prohibition enforcement, the chances are he will go slowly; there is no doubt that great advances in effective enforcement can be made, but if desperate measures are used they are likely to beget desperate results.

From the NEW YORK EVENING POST

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S inaugural address has been taken by the country as a promise of enforcement of the Prohibition laws in a far stricter way than has yet been known.

Washington, that well-known gossip factory, is full of the wildest rumors about the extent to which the President is to put Dry principles into effect. The pledge not to serve liquor, it is said, must be taken not only by all important officials at Washington but also by those desiring diplomatic posts abroad. And all servants of the Government, including the army and navy, must swear never to enter a place where liquor is served.

The President has made no direct statement remotely justifying such exaggerations. What he did say in his inaugural was: "I have been selected by you to execute and enforce the laws of the country. I propose to do so to the extent of my own abilities, but the measure of success that the Government shall attain will depend upon the moral support which you, as citizens, extend." The President then asked that "a large part of the enforcement activities be transferred from the Treasury Department to the Department of Justice as a beginning of more effective organization."

It is probable that Mr. Hoover's enforcement plans are known to few. If they were generally known in his immediate circle they would almost surely filter out to the public. But it is interesting to consider what they probably are and what are the reasonable prospects for a greater degree of enforcement.

Our guess would be that the President will go at this great business steadily but slowly. It is not his nature to make sudden breaks. Furthermore, the mere process of transferring enforcement to the Attorney General probably cannot be completed before December, unless whip-and-spur be used on the special session of Congress. Finally, it is conceivable that the President will wish to educate public opinion to his proposed changes.

Let no one think that these changes are impossible or that great advances in effective enforcement cannot be made. Nor is it at all certain that they would require anything like the sum of $300,000,000 set by Dr. Doran, the enforcement chief, as necessary for real performance of his task.

The best presentation that we have seen of the facts in the failure of enforcement is in the current number of Liberty. There Mr. Walton C. Green, who served in Washington under General Lincoln Andrews as Chief Prohibition Investigator, shows the hopeless disorganization that exists among the multiple enforcement agencies. The main inefficiency, he says, lies in the split between the Departments of Treasury and Justice. But even in the Treasury itself the same condition was found:

"Take Treasury to begin with. Treasury runs the three services responsible for direct enforcement—Coast Guard, Customs and Prohibition Unit. They are efficient, I should say, in about that order—and with Prohibition some hundreds of miles in the rear. Now the jealousy between those three services is almost unbelievable.... On my own knowledge, Customs not only won't give help—but they won't take it. They'd rather let a carload of Montreal ale through than not—if it was tipped to them by the Prohibition people."

This is the sort of thing that Mr. Hoover can get rid of. It won't take money to do it; in fact, it ought to save money. And, by doing this, there is little doubt that he can carry further General Andrews' effective steps against the importation of liquor. He can thus cut down the supplies of "good" drinkables and turn the people back to home brews. For it is quite probable, too, that he will be able to stop with practical completeness the diversion or "recovery" of industrial alcohol. He may even strike at the home-brewing industry by preventing the use of the mails for open and organized sale of stills, bottling machinery, "flavors," etc.

And he may strike at some prominent and respectable violators of the law in order to make an example of them. A few such arrests and convictions would have wide effect.

On the other hand, such tactics would bring enforcement to the danger point. If it is administered in the manner and degree which the Dry fanatics want, and which Washington is gossiping, it would amount to a social revolution in these United States. Where the reaction to it would end no one knows.

"Strict enforcement" is not a thing lightly to be talked of. We can consider it philosophically by saying: "After all, it may be the best way of bringing about Prohibition reform." But its practical processes, if carried to the legal extreme, may bring this country to the brink of the greatest upheaval since the Civil War.

AMERICANS IN MEXICO.

From the Philadelphia Evening Public Ledger.

THE concern felt in the United States over the revolt in Mexico is not limited to its possible effect upon the amicable relations established by Ambassador Morrow. Several hundred American tourists are tied up in Mexico City. Most of their routes to the sea or border are cut off. Many other American citizens are traveling or living elsewhere in the country. This nation has numerous personal and property interests in the rebel States; particularly Sonora, Vera Cruz, Chihuahua and Coahuila.

But American lives and property should suffer little from either the Federal troops or the organized revolutionary forces. Both groups would like to avoid friction with the United States. The principal danger to American interests in Mexico lies in the roving bands of guerrillas and outlaws.

STORIES of the "now it can be told" variety about the Coolidges are beginning to come out. One of them has it that Mrs. Coolidge told a group of Senators' wives that she needed no sympathy on the score of her household burdens. "My husband," she is said to have remarked, "attends to everything. He orders the food, passes on the menus and settles the bills."

* * *

AFTER one of Mr. Coolidge's week-end trips on the Mayflower with a party of guests, a Senator's wife thanked Mrs. Coolidge for the invitation and told her what a marvelous time she had had.

"I'm glad you enjoyed it," said Mrs. Coolidge. "But don't thank me. My husband invited you. I never know who's going to be on board till I get there myself."

ANOTHER Coolidge story: When Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge were in the White House, they had as guests on one occasion a young Vermont couple who were spending their honeymoon in Washington. The bride wore a very short dress in the prevailing mode, and while she was seated she kept pulling it down. "Seems to me," said the President, after eyeing her a while, "that what you need is a blanket."

* * *

WHILE the Coolidge family were in the Black Hills, young John Coolidge fell into conversation with some of his friends about love and marriage. Someone remarked that when two people could sit together and enjoy each other in silence, they had met the final test of companionability.

"I guess my father must be companionable with a lot of people, then," observed John.

AN army of photographers "shot" the new Secretary of the Navy, Charles Francis Adams of Boston, when he was sworn in, and then they put him through all the stunts they could think of. Finally he was told to sit down and write something on a piece of paper. He complied, and the cameras recorded the scene—the Secretary of the Navy busily engaged at his desk, signing his name to papers of State. What he really wrote was "This is Hell," "This is Hell," "This is Hell."

IF "Macbeth" falls far below Shakspeare's "Hamlet" his "Othello" or his "Julius Caesar" in depth of plot and rich illumination of character it, nevertheless, as given at the Shubert Theater last night displays tremendous richness of coloring and an effectiveness of imagination which gives it rank with the greater tragedies of the Bard of Avon. Presented by an excellently chosen cast headed by Florence Reed, Lyn Harding and William Farnum this "Macbeth" of George Tyler and Gordon Craig is a triumph of acting and stage craft, a stage craft which is startling in both its simplicity and its beauty greatly heightened by lighting effects which make possible the illustration of the supernatural side of the tragedy in a manner never before attempted.

The version of "Macbeth" which Mr. Tyler and his advisers chose for this, in many ways, memorable production, is largely the standard acting one of past Shakspearean stars. It has been condensed into four acts and some of the many scenes have been combined to bring it within the bounds of box office requirements but on the whole it is the "Macbeth" familiar to the lovers of Shakspeare of an earlier day. It is in the manner of the presentation that the tragedy differs from former versions. The cumbersome scenery of other productions has given way to curtains and hangings and sketchily painted drops which create the effect of massiveness but never overshadow the poetry of the spoken lines nor the effectiveness of the actual performance.

Earlier producers perhaps saw the great possibilities in the witchcraft of the drama, but it remained for Gordon Craig, the Englishman, to plan the lighting which would bring to life the weird sisters and the apparitions which haunt Macbeth from the time of his murder of Duncan until his own death, at the hands of Macduff upon the castle stairs after the batle near Birnam Wood. It is these scenes with the witches, played, incidentally, as part man and part woman instead of the hags of tradition, which are the most effective moments of the present "Macbeth."

Miss Florence Reed, last seen here in the "Shanghai Gesture" of unsavory memory, gives tremendous power to the role of Lady Macbeth. She reads her lines clearly and effectively, although at times it would seem that the very clearness of her enunciation is almost too perfect to be natural.

It is these scenes with the witches, played, incidentally, as part man and part woman instead of the hags of tradition, which are the most effective moments of the present "Macbeth."

Miss Florence Reed, last seen here in the "Shanghai Gesture" of unsavory memory, gives tremendous power to the role of Lady Macbeth. She reads her lines clearly and effectively, although at times it would seem that the very clearness of her enunciation is almost too perfect to be natural. That, perhaps, is strange criticism, but nevertheless it robs, at moments, the character of the cold, calculating woman who would be Queen of Scotland, of the human equation and makes her a declaimer, a reader of lines after an older school of acting.

Mr. Harding is all that the murderous Macbeth should be, although he does not rise to great heights until the final moments of the drama when, throwing aside the cowardness of his soul, he comes to grips with Macduff in the hope that, for once, the predictions of the witches, still, ringing in his ears, will prove untrue.

But it was William Farnum as Macduff who came in for the greater part of the applause of the first night's audience. Mr. Farnum is a rugged and sympathetic warrior of Scotland and his long years in the movie wilds of Hollywood did not dull his sense of proportion or his ability to read the lines of the character as they were meant to be read. To him, and to Miss Reed, the latter perhaps the best Lady Macbeth the stage has ever known, fall the honors of the acting side of the tragedy.

There is a single discordant note in the performance, the soliloquy given over to the drunken porter. This long and tiresome bit of comedy, so called, injected into the play would seem to have no place in the story. It has been said that Shakspeare placed it there as a gesture to the mob, the movie patrons of his time. Also some Shakspearean scholars have gone to great pains to prove that the Bard permitted some one else to force this scene into his tragedy but the lines, "I'll devil-porter it no further; I had thought to let in some of all professions, that go the primrose way to the everlasting bonfire" are most certainly the words of Shakspeare himself.

Without the fine performance of the three stars and the perfect support of the remainder of the excellently selected cast the present "Macbeth" might not prove as pleasing as it does. But only might not. The manner of the presentation, the great beauty of the simple settings and the beauty of the lighting place it upon a plane far above any other performance of Shakspeare ever brought to St. Louis.

"Of Making Many Books"

JOHN G. NEIHARDT

Unanimous Agreement

When Mr. W. C. Durant published his $25,000 prize offer for "the best and most practicable plan to make the eighteenth amendment effective," the response was immediate, world-wide and overwhelmingly enthusiastic. This fact either proves or does not prove that world sentiment either is or is not unalterably opposed to the rum demon. Such assurance alone either was or was not easily worth $25,000, even though all the other practical results—if such there be—are ignored.

In spite of what besotted cynics may say about this contest, it has accomplished one thing absolutely beyond question. It has proved conclusively that practically everybody the world over is unalterably opposed to the pernicious idea of being without $25,000 if there's a ghost of a show to get it by hook or crook. Preachers, convicts, captains of industry, missionaries, old ladies, schoolgirls and schoolboys, janitors, morticians, realtors, beauticians, judges, statesmen—all agreed as one that $25,000 is a whole lot of money.

Certainly this unanimity of opinion is immensely encouraging and should abash all enemies of the Constitution.

It is true that this happy unanimity was observable only in so far as the primary question was concerned. The secondary question—that about the amendment—brought forth a very interesting diversity of views. It is reported that there were 23,300 distinctly different dessicants offered by as many dessicators, only 100 of which are represented in the burly volume listed above.

While it must be conceded that much of the volume under consideration is highly imaginative, it is to be regretted that some of the most thrilling contributions to the symposium have been omitted. For instance, one dear old Christian spinster of 82 years insisted that all unregenerate males caught with tell-tale breaths should be whipped within an inch of their lives with a blacksnake.

Still, one should not be ungrateful for entertainment of a milder nature. Here we may read statements like the following: that God is undoubtedly the Author of the eighteenth amendment; that the liquor business should be made unprofitable, thus discouraging those who engage in it; that all people should be led to abhor alcoholic liquors of all sorts; that owing to rum, "the Golden Rule is gradually becoming emaciated"; that the colleges should be converted, etc.

One captain of industry points out the fact that "our annual national income" has increased nine billions of dollars since the prohibition law went into effect. He doesn't say who got the increase. And nobody anywhere in the book tells why our great captains of industry and their political henchmen suddenly became such towerin moral giants ten years ago.

Very soon one of our humanitarian publishers, having noted with alarm the public's crying need for something bigger and better in the way of sex books, will publish "a gigantic symposium" to be entitled "Sex in Civilization." No squeamishness this time, we are given to understand! A spade is going to be called a spade.

THE SCARLET THUMB. By Jermyn March. (Henkle.)

There is a mysterious murder. Who did it? Suspicion falls on everybody, but the shrewdest sleuths can't figure it out for a long time. This, it will be noted, is a plot of extreme originality.

LINCOLN'S MARY AND THE BABIES. By Bernie Babcock. (Lippincott.)

A sprightly story of Lincoln's family life, which is probably as near the truth as most sentimental books on Lincoln.

THE FRONTIERSMAN. By Harold Blindloss. (Stokes.)

A bitter feud was raging on the Manitoba prairies. Grim, brawny frontiersmen against "swaggering young bloods." A fine young man straight from Cambridge joins the brawny squad and promptly falls in love with an enemy girl. Then somebody kills the lady's unworthy fiance. Who did it? Wild doings for awhile after that. But it's all over now and the two are happily married.

AUTHORITY IN RELIGION. By Harold Anson. (Century.)

Mr. Anson expresses his profound conviction that the vision and faith of Jesus, expressed in terms of the science of our own day, "is still the salvation of the world."

CARL SCHURZ MEMORIAL DINNER

500 to Attend Affair at Hotel Jefferson Tonight.

An attendance of nearly 500, from St. Louis and outside points, is expected at the Carl Schurz memorial dinner at Hotel Jefferson at 7 o'clock tonight. The 100th anniversary of the birth of the noted German-American editor, soldier, civil service reformer, Senator from Missouri and Cabinet member, was March 2.

Folk songs of Schurz's native Rhineland will be sung. Richard Bartholdt, former Congressman, will preside at the dinner, and speakers will be Edgar R. Rombauer, Luther Ely Smith and Richard Einsiedel. Reservations have been made for visitors from Springfield, Quincy and Columbia, Ill., Kansas City, Sedalia, Columbia and Hermann, Mo.

JOHN KIPP, SALESMAN, DIES

For 41 Years He Was Connected With Carpet Firm.

John Kipp, 3923 Botanical avenue, member of many clubs and fraternal orders, died yesterday following a heart attack in a downtown street. He was 67 years old. He had been a member of Tyler Place Presbyterian Church since its founding 30 years ago For 41 years he was a salesman for the J. Kennard & Sons Carpet Co.

Mr. Kipp is survived by his widow, Mrs. Barbara Klein Kipp; a son, Estil Kipp of Chicago, and a daughter, Miss Adelaide Kipp. Funeral services will be held Thursday at 1:30 p. m. at an undertaking establishment at 4220 South Kingshighway. Burial will be in Valhalla Cemetery.

MRS. ANNA RUECKOLDT BURIAL

Mrs. Anna Rueckoldt, 78 years old, widow of George Rueckoldt, pioneer manufacturer of bank fixtures and founder of the Staudte-Rueckoldt Manufacturing Co., will be buried from the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. R. Schmitt, 2616 Tennessee avenue, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Since the death of her husband, Mrs. Rueckoldt has lived with a daughter, Mrs. A. W. Mueller in Olivette where she died yesterday of infirmities of age. She was prominent in the old St. Louis Liederkranz and a patroness of the symphony concerts. Besides her two daughters, a son, Charles Rueckoldt, survives.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, March 12.

FREEZING weather and attending physical discomforts bring a spiritual chill to the Bowery and lower East Side. Sidewalks with rocking grandmas, mothers with puling children and doorways with napping bearded patriarchs are well-nigh deserted.

Youngsters, sewed in garments for the season, no longer make the streets their playground. Everybody moves indoors to peer out upstairs windows at the melancholy desolation. Nothing matters save the arrival of Spring and release from the long isolation.

The East Side's main joy of living is in its neighborliness—the trifling sort of gossip of the small town. On summer days they chatter back and forth from open windows and fire escapes like magpies. But winter seals them in and cuts off this friendly intimacy.

Uptown, winter brings a snap and verve, especially along Broadway, Fifth and Park avenues. But among tenements there is mostly brooding. They are ever conscious of the bread lines and those other visible tokens of the misery acute poverty brings.

The usual sullenness of the Bowery is enhanced by the overshadowing elevated structure. The sun, moon and stars are almost strangers. In the foggy light of all night missions blurry figures kneel half heartedly in prayer. They come chiefly for bread and hot coffee.

In the lodging houses are drooping figures exhausted from heavy labor and those sleeping off the befogging effects of too much "Bowery smoke"—a lethal mixture at 10 cents a shot. In the barber colleges, customers stand in line waiting free applications of hot towels to keep warm.

All dull edges of squalor are pronounced in winter. The most brilliantly lighted windows are those of pawn shops, revealing their jinkle jumble. The busiest spots are the cellar reliever shops where one may pawn old garments for still older garments and acquire a few extra pennies.

A PARADOX in the Bowery squalor is the Bowery Savings Bank—one of the richest banking institutions in the world and patronized chiefly by residents of the lower East Side. Which proves the Bowery is not all poverty. It merely shows a ragged sleeve to the world.

IN a number of ways the narrow, twisted streets of Chinatown are the most interesting in the city. The Chinese somehow manage to express a pronounced security above their sordid surroundings. There are no Chinese mendicants and it is said 80 per cent of them have bank accounts, and most of the older Chinese support wives and relatives in their native land, which costs about a dime a day. Marry in China and see the world!

A CHOP suey parlor in Chinatown insists upon diners being shown through their kitchen before the meal is served. It is as spotless as a newly scrubbed pine table top. The cook and helpers are in immaculate white uniforms and the display does add zest to the food. Yet I could never regard chop suey with anything but suspicion.

AN amusing deceit is employed in Chinese shops by clerks. Most visitors address them in pidgin English and receive replies in the sing-song manner. The majority of clerks were born in America, many were graduated from Columbia and speak perfect English. But their gentle camouflage heightens the abraca—spell it yourself.

IN a list of instructions to chauffeurs, a rental agency suggests: "Remember to be neat about your neck and shoulders. It is your back view that makes an impression." And that we suppose, after an hour of silent meditation, is why the chauffeur rarely needs a hair trim, but quite often a shoe shine.

THERE seems to be no respect for gray hairs anymore. A ragged little street gamin in front of a theater crowd in West Forty-seventh street last evening called out to a certain aging newspaper columnist: "Hey, Handsome, what time is it?" And did he turn red!

"I agree with Lina Cavalieri and other celebrated European beauty specialists that Palmolive Soap should be used twice a day as the perfect home beauty treatment."

Mme Louise Zollars

GAINSBOROUGH BEAUTY SHOPPE

HOLLYWOOD! Where beauty and success are more closely related than anywhere in all the world! Where beauty experts must know, unfailingly, the great rules of skin care. Here, in the salons frequented by many of America's loveliest women, a famous treatment is recommended for home care of the skin . . . a treatment advised by every great beauty expert in ten capitals of Europe . . . by hundreds and hundreds of experts thoroughout America! This internationally recommended method is based on the twice-a-day use of Palmolive Soap!

Advisor to Hollywood's celebrities

"Every day—in the Gainsborough Beauty Shoppe—can be seen America's famous faces—the lovely faces of moving picture stars known the world over. To this shop—for their beauty treatments—come at least a third of the outstanding stars of the screen," says Mme Louise Zollars, well known head of the Gainsborough Beauty Shoppe, in Hollywood.

"To all these stars, among whom are Phyllis Haver, Virginia Pearson, Virginia Lee Corbin, Vera Reynolds, Anita Stewart and Priscilla Dean, as well as to my distinguished patrons of the society world, I recommend the regular use of Palmolive Soap," Mme. Zollars says. "I agree with Lina Cavalieri and other European beauty specialists that Palmolive Soap should be used twice a day as the perfect home beauty treatment. Its ingredients, palm oils and olive oils, are harmless to the most delicate skin. These oils gradually penetrate the pores and free the skin of collected impurities."

In these words Mme. Zollars expresses why the most famous of international beauty experts prefer Palmolive Soap; why America's leading specialists, in every city from coast to coast, recommend this treatment to all their smart patrons.

Hollywood learns this fact not only from Mme. Zollars but also from Hepner, the celebrated "Jim," and dozens of its other great beauty experts.

The 2-minute complexion treatment

In Europe, every capital has its great beauty specialist . . . and every one recommends Palmolive. Bock, of Berlin; Jacobson, of London; le Brun as well as Cavalieri, of Paris; Attilio of Rome; Pessl, of Vienna—one can't mention all of them in so limited a space.

Until you have begun this simple twice-a-day home treatment you don't know how easy it is to keep a naturally lovely complexion. But the smart world of Hollywood knows. And so do millions of women in Europe and America.

Fontaine of Brussels, beauty specialist by appointment to Her Majesty the Queen of the Belgians, is only one of the great beauty authorities of Europe who recommend the twice-a-day use of Palmolive Soap as the best home beauty treatment.

S. C. M'CLUNEY POSSIBLE HEAD OF POLICE BOARD

Gov. Caulfield to Arrive Today to Discuss Appointing St. Louis Commissioners.

Gov. Caulfield will arrive in St. Louis this evening, and will remain tomorrow, to consider and discuss appointments to the St. Louis Police Board. These appointments were deferred because of the Governor's desire to avoid any appearance of taking sides in last week's Republican primary. He wishes now to determine upon them without further delay.

Samuel C. McCluney, investment broker and treasurer of the Republican State Committee, is under consideration for the position of president of the board, since former Mayor Kreismann notified the Governor that he would not accept the place.

So far as could be learned today, there has been no direct communication between the Governor and McCluney as to the appointment. It is expected that the Governor will see McCluney on his visit to St. Louis.

It is further understood that the Governor will be disposed to confer with the person chosen for president of the board, as to the appointment of the other three members. In form, the board elects its president, but in fact, he is designated by the Governor. Gov. Caulfield wishes to have a board that will work together.

Some recent suggestions for Police Board appointments have come from sources close to Mayor Miller. The Mayor would like to see his former business associate and recent primary campaign fund-raiser, Lon Harlow, vice president of the Southern Surety Co., on the board. Others acceptable to him are Joseph T. Ayres, automobile dealer and former policeman, and Harry J. Kiener, department manager for a pig iron firm.

Of these three, Ayres is believed to be the only one likely to appear in the Governor's final list of selections.

Others previously suggested, who are still considered likely prospects for the board, are Daniel Bartlett, the Governor's recent law partner, and George T. Kollas, real estate dealer.

The Governor has made it clear that he would consider the fitness of the Police Board appointees, and not their political activity or influence.

McCluney, when asked today as to the prospect of his appointment, would say only that he had no formal appointment for a meeting with the Governor.

higher valuation and straight 8-cent fare, the commission reduced the company's allowance for depreciation from $1,500,000 a year to $800,000.

City Asks for Clarification.

The city laid the ground work in hearings before the commission, to seek a clearer ruling from the courts upon the relative weight to be given the different valuation theories by the commission, in fixing a permanent rate-making base for a public utility. The city contended the commission must give weight to the investment cost, which is the amount actually invested in the property, as well as the theory of reproduction cost new, less depreciation. The city declared the commission, in its findings, gave undue weight to the reproduction theory.

The company contended the reproduction theory was the dominant element in fixing a rate making valuation, upon which a fair return must be provided by making fares high enough. This method is the theoretical cost of reproducing the entire property new, at present day prices, less any wear and tear observed in the existing property.

While the company was barred from any appeal from the commission order, because the commission granted the rate of fare for which it applied, the company attorneys appeared in the appeal in Circuit Court to defend the commission order, and to re-assert the higher valuation claims presented in the original hearings. The courts have held that when a utility company receives the rate or fare sought it cannot appeal from the order.

8 Per Cent Return Sought.

Attorneys for the company contended that the valuation should be not less than $75,000,000, that the company should be allowed to earn 8 per cent on that valuation (which would require a still higher fare), and that the depreciation allowance should be restored to $1,500,000 a year.

The city's attorneys declared 7 per cent would be a reasonable return, that the valuation should not exceed $53,000,000 and that a cash fare of 8 cents, two tokens for 15 cents, was the justifiable maximum. It was declared a businesslike and enterprising management should make it possible to reduce this fare schedule to 7 cents.

In its order the commission did not rule directly upon the company's claim that it was entitled to an 8 per cent return. Instead, it held that the company was entitled to a fair return on the fair value of the operating property, and that the increased fare, based on 1927 operations, would yield a return of 7.14 per cent on the $63,500,000 valuation for the operating property.

The Rev. Dennis Burns, S. J., of St. Louis University, began a series of noonday sermons yesterday in the Old Cathedral, Third and Walnut streets.

In the course of his talk on "Christ Obedient," Father Burns said: "It is one thing to accept Christ's teaching without restriction or reservation; it is another thing to live up to that teaching in our everyday lives. The former is the test of our faith, the latter the test of our Christianity."

There Are Literally No Cars In The World That Can Equal Cadillac-La Salle

What was true twenty-five years ago is even more true today—no car in the world is so closely, finely manufactured as Cadillac—and exactly the same thing applies to the Cadillac-built La Salle.

IT IS actually a fact that the Cadillac Motor Car Company can and does build into Cadillac and La Salle not only the best in materials and workmanship but the finest possible artistic and scientific achievement in motor car design, engineering and manufacture.

This is not only logical and reasonable but in a very real and literal sense inevitable. For back of traditionally superior Cadillac craftsmanship stand the colossal resources of General Motors deliberately planned to achieve a purchasing power that permits value-giving in excess of any other standard.

With the wealth of surpassing new engineering and manufacturing refinements in today's Cadillacs and La Salles it becomes more obvious than ever before that, if you want the kind of luxurious motoring that Cadillac and La Salle provide, you simply must drive a Cadillac or La Salle.

Consider, for example, the exclusive safety features in Cadillac and La Salle. No other cars in the world possess them:

The Cadillac-LaSalle Syncro-Mesh Silent-Shift Transmission was designed and perfected specifically for the highest degree of control in all driving conditions. A vital essential in time of emergency, this transmission permits lightning-like shifting of gears with a finger-touch, at any speed, without pausing in neutral. It is quiet, simple, positive and effortless in operation and removes even the faintest suggestion of clashing gears.

The sense of security inspired by the Cadillac-La Salle Duplex-Mechanical System of Four-Wheel Brakes will prove a decidedly unique motoring experience. Though these brakes are amazingly powerful and positive in action, slight effort is required to operate them. Just a touch of the toe on the brake pedal and they respond instantaneously.

Cadillac-La Salle Security-Plate Glass, with which Cadillac-La Salle windows, doors and windshields are equipped, is the highest quality, perfect-vision plate glass. It remains intact in the event of collision or if struck by stones flung up from the wheels of passing cars—so that the Cadillac-La Salle owner may rid his mind of any concern about being injured by flying glass fragments.

These are but three of a host of exclusive ultra-modern manufacturing refinements incorporated in Cadillac-La Salle. Experience these new features for yourself. Drive the new Cadillac or La Salle. Then see if you can find their equal elsewhere.

In addition to twenty-three refreshingly beautiful Fisher Bodies for the new Cadillac and the new La Salle there are fifteen exclusive and exquisite custom-built models, Fleetwood designed and Fleetwood built.

La Salle is priced from $2295 to $2875; Cadillac $3295 to $3995; Fleetwoods up to $7000—all prices f.o.b. Detroit. Cadillac-La Salle dealers welcome business on the General Motors Deferred Payment Plan. Enjoy the car now and pay out of income.

THINKS ST. LOUIS VICE LAWS ARE INADEQUATE

Social Hygiene Secretary Considers Conditions Not Worse Than in Other Cities.

Inadequate ordinances intended to repress prostitution in St. Louis should be reinforced, and the vice problem considered as a moral question instead of solely a medical matter, Peter Kasius, executive secretary of the Missouri Social Hygiene Association, said yesterday at the Y. W. C. A., addressing the committee on rooming houses and hotels of the Council of Protective Workers With Girls.

Present ordinances are rarely enforced, Kasius said, women arrested being allowed to sign their own bonds on condition they return for a medical examination. He explained that the city charter giving St. Louis power to "regulate or repress any matter affecting health or morals," has been held by the Supreme Court to make State laws on the subject inapplicable here. Under the charter, licensing of disorderly houses would be possible, he said.

"The attitude toward prostitution here is a tradition and no official or particular department of government is particularly to blame. We are trying to bring about official recognition of the problem as a moral as well as a medical question.

"The worst phase is the condition in hotels, particularly in the smaller ones, which, in reality are not hotels. Solicitation from doorways by porters and women themselves is common and should not be tolerated. In better classes of hotels, bellhops, porters and elevator boys share the pay of women for soliciting for them.

"In the best hotels, we find conditions are good, but the guest who rents a suite places himself in the same class as the resident of an apartment, and little can be done about it. Managers of our best hotels are conscientious, however, and as a whole, the conditions in St. Louis is not worse than in other cities."

ARGUMENTS HEARD FOR REVISION OF GAS RATE FINDINGS

allowance of intangible value, Muench said.

George Willson, attorney for the company, said the commission had erroneously undervalued the property by $1,819,000, and had erred in fixing the minimum monthly charge at 75 cents. He said the company should have been given a depreciation allowance of 3 per cent and was entitled to earn a return of 8 per cent on its valuation.

The company asked for a minimum monthly charge of 90 cents, to include the first 400 cubic feet of gas used. Willson declared the smaller consumers were not paying their way, and recalled that the commission, in its decision, found that the service cost per customer was 50 cents a month, before any gas was sold. Under the present minimum monthly charge of 50 cents the customer would be getting 500 feet of gas for nothing, he said.

Defends Going Value.

Willson asserted the commission finding that the cost of merely having a customer on the line was 50 cents a month, was too low, and actually amounted to about 70 cents. He said the commission analysis of the cost did not include taxes on gas services, and the cost of meter and gas service installation.

He defended the going value allowance of $5,818,000 by the commission, and declared the city now was fighting this allowance, after having acquiesced to it in accepting, without a contest, the valuation of $45,600,000 fixed by the commission in the original valuation case, decided in November, 1926. The going value allowance was fixed in that case.

FIVE ST. LOUISANS, DELAYED BY REVOLT, HOME FROM MEXICO

Five St. Louisans and Winston Churchill, the novelist, who formerly lived here, arrived at Union Station last night on the first through train out of Mexico since the beginning of the revolution. Leaving Mexico City two days late, they had been delayed three days by the fighting at Monterrey and had detoured 300 miles by way of Tampico. They had not heard a shot fired or seen any evidence of revolution.

Churchill was accompained by his wife, Edward Berling of Washington and a French youth, Miquel Gleason, who had been intrusted to the author's care because he could not speak English.

The St. Louis party, occupying a private car, consisted of E. M. Duhram, senior vice president of the Missouri Pacific Railroad; Thomas Pierce, vice president and counsel of the Terminal Railroad Association; Mrs. Durham, Mrs. Pierce and W. B. Dean of G. H. Walker & Co.

SHOOTS MAN WHO KEPT DAUGHTER OUT ALL NIGHT

By the Associated Press.

FORT PAYNE, Ala., March 12.—Two weeks after Evelyn Smith, 15-year-old Mentone, Ala., girl, was said by officers to have shot and killed herself, her father, Wallace Smith, was in the DeKalb County jail charged with having shot Bascomb Cash, reported companion of the girl the day preceding her death. Cash, shot in the mouth, was in a serious condition.

Sheriff L. J. Campbell said that the girl and Cash went for an automobile ride two weeks ago. Car trouble developed and the two remained out over night. When the girl was scolded on her return home, she ended her life. Yesterday Cash and Smith met near their homes in Mentone. They quarreled and the shooting resulted.

4000-MILE TRIP ENDS "YELLOW MASK"

Seattle Woman Tells How Her Gleaming White Teeth Were Acquired

Women and men whose teeth have a yellowish tinge—read this! "I was discouraged," says Mrs. B. Andrews of Seattle, "because no dentifrice would remove that 'yellow look' from my teeth. The last time I visited my dentist he told me about a new preparation especially created to banish 'Yellow Mask,' as he called it. It is ORPHOS TOOTH PASTE. I sent 3,000 miles for a tube. After one week I was perfectly amazed at the whiteness of my teeth. Even my friends remarked about it."

ORPHOS will give you this lustrous whiteness without slightest harm to the enamel. A new formula made from "Tri-Calcium Phosphate," the very substance dentists use in cleaning teeth, it is daily giving glorious teeth whiteness to millions. And gum health with every brushing. Get a tube. Today—from your nearest drug or department store.

Fannie Ward
Famous for Her Ever-Youthful Appearance.

"Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet."

"'Reach for a Lucky and not for a sweet.' That's been my policy ever since Luckies started—my way of retaining the figure I need to be known as the ever-youthful Fannie Ward. So I say to you women who want to cheat time as I have done, 'Reach for a Lucky and not for a sweet.'"

FANNIE WARD

THE modern common sense way—reach for a Lucky instead of a fattening sweet. Everyone is doing it—men keep healthy and fit, women retain a trim figure. Lucky Strike, the finest tobaccos, skilfully blended, then toasted to develop a flavor which is a delightful alternative for that craving for fattening sweets.

Toasting frees Lucky Strike from impurities. 20,679 physicians recognize this when they say Luckies are less irritating than other cigarettes. That's why folks say: "It's good to smoke Luckies."

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous increase in Cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of Cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other Cigarettes combined. This confirms in no uncertain terms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.

Cities Seek Cheaper Electricity.

Ten cities in the Belleville district have joined in the movement for lower electric rates. The plan, according to City Clerk Edward Eisenhauer of Belleville is to appeal to the Illinois Legislature for home rule for public utilities. Among the cities interested in a rate reduction are Belleville, Collinsville, Edwardsville, Highland, Mascoutah, Breese, Columbia, Millstadt and New Athens. Another meeting to foster the plan will be held in Belleville March 24.

TWO BORDER GUARDS SHOT BY ALLEGED ARMS SMUGGLERS

By the Associated Press.

EL PASO, Tex., March 12.—A supposed attempt to smuggle arms and ammunition across the international border was frustrated late last night after a fight in which two American patrolmen were wounded.

August Steinburn and Francis A. Scott, members of the border patrol, were shot from ambush near Cordova Island as they started to investigate the presence of two loiterers on the American side of the boundary.

Approaching to within 40 yards of the two, the officers shouted. The answer was a fusillade of bullets from another direction, where a group lay concealed in a thicket. Both men fell, wounded.

Reinforcements arrived under command of H. C. Horsely, head of the border patrol. Many shots were fired and about 50 men were seen to run to safety on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, Horsley reported today.

"It was a deliberate ambush perpetrated by a gang of men who were there for the specific purpose of receiving a load of arms and ammunition," Horsley said. His men had been watching a truck on which the arms apparently were to be moved when they heard the shots which wounded Scott and Steinburn, about a half-mile away.

JONES ACT RAISES PRICE OF LIQUOR IN NEW YORK

Also Puts Many Speak-Easies Out of Business, Dry Director Declares.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The New York Herald-Tribune says the Jones act, increasing penalties for prohibition violations, has raised the price of liquor.

The wholesale price of whisky, it says, has advanced as much as $40 a case and grain alcohol is around $14 a gallon, double its former cost.

Deliveries to speakeasies have been curtailed to such an extent that only about one-half the liquor ordered is delivered.

NINE-INCH SNOW IN DENVER

Blizzard Sweeps Mountain States; Two-Foot Fall at Laramie.

By the Associated Press.

DENVER, Colo., March 12.—Blizzard conditions gripped Montana, Yyoming and Colrado today, disrupting traffic generally. A heavy, wet snow which started falling yesterday blanketed the territory from the Canadian border southward through the three states, with snow ranging from two feet in parts of Wyoming to six inches in the southern part of Colorado. The storm generally was accompanied by freezing temperatures.

Denver received approximately nine inches of snow last night, and the storm continued today with intermittent snow. The storm in Colorado seemed to center in the Pike's Peak region around Colorado Springs and further south, while in Wyoming, Laramie was the center. In that city a blizzard, the worst since May, 1927, was in progress. Approximately two feet of snow had fallen early today and snowfall was contiunuing without signs of abating. Thirty inches of snow buried the highway between Cheyenne and Laramie. Near Cripple Creek, Colo., rescue parties were fighting five and six foot snowdrifts in an attempt to reach the hut of Frank Nelson, 74-year-old prospector, who is ill and faces death from starvation or freezing.

PORTES GIL THANKS AMERICAN

By the Associated Press.

EL PASO, Tex., March 12.—An expression of gratitude to Sergt. E. Pearson of the United States Army, who gave his blood in a transfusion operation in an unsuccessful attempt to save the life of Lieut. Maximo Ruis, wounded in battle at Juarez, was made by President Portes Gil of Mexico yesterday.

The Mexican President sent his thanks in the form of a telegram to Brigadier-General George von Horn Mosley, commander at Fort Bliss. Lieut. Ruis died after an operation.

"IN FIVE WEEKS KONJOLA GAVE ME GLORIOUS HEALTH"

St. Louis Lady, Joyous With Complete Relief, Pays Grateful Tribute to Advanced Medicine.

"No wonder Konjola is known as the medicine with more than a million friends." Frequently this is heard by those who have found their first and only relief from suffering, pain and misery in the new medicine, Konjola.

MRS. AMELIA SCHAFFNER.

Yet there is no mystery, no magic about this modern compound of 32 ingredients. Konjola is all medicine, every drop—and every drop works. Konjola is made up of only medicinal elements, no nerve-deadening drugs, no heart-depressants—it needs no such ingredients, for Konjola is not designed to bring about mere temporary relief. Konjola's mission is to bring complete recovery, no matter how long the disease has raged. That Konjola does this is proclaimed in numberless indorsements from happy men and women who have been freed from the bondage of pain; from whom the shackles of suffering have been struck by this master medicine. Such cases are being pointed out to inquirers daily by the Konjola Man, who is at the Walgreen Drug Store, 515 Olive street, St. Louis. Just a few days ago Mrs. Amelia Schaffner, 2721 Indiana avenue, this city, said to the Konjola Man:

"In five weeks Konjola gave me glorious health—in three years other medicines and treatments failed to give the slightest relief. Just before I started the Konjola treatment I was about ready to give up all my household duties, for it seemed impossible to continue in my physical condition. My stomach failed me three years ago and soon became extremely disordered. Gas formed after each meal and bloated me terribly. My heart palpitated fearfully until I could get some relief. My liver was in a dreadful sluggish and torpid condition, bringing on dizzy spells and severe headaches. Loss of weight and strength was most noticeable.

"I was in a pitiable condition—without hope or cheer. That is why I didn't pay a great deal of attention to the many wonderful indorsements of this new medicine, Konjola. As the days went by and I continued to hear of its accomplishments I began to think it would be a mistake not to give it a trial. Finally I decided to do so. Konjola soon proved the long-sought medicine that I needed. First I noticed the sluggish feeling was leaving; then that my liver was regular and the headaches and dizzy spells had vanished. My stomach was cleansed and strengthened; food digested perfectly and I rapidly gained in strength and weight. In five weeks Konjola did all that other medicines and treatments failed to do in three years. That is why I call it the master of them all."

Results—that is what makes Konjola the most talked-of medicine in America. Konjola works quickly; one does not have to wait long to feel the benign effects of this master medicine.

The Konjola Man is at the Walgreen Drug Store, 515 Olive street, this city, where he is meeting the public daily, introducing and explaining the merits of this master medicine.

Stomach So Bad She Lived on Malted Milk

"My stomach was so bad I could not eat anything and had to live on malted milk. Now, thanks to Adlerika, I eat anything I want."—Mary Decles.

The simple mixture of glycerin, buckthorn bark, etc. (known as Adlerika), has a most surprising DOUBLE action. It acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel (most medicines act on lower bowel only) and removes foul matter that poisoned the system for months. It clears GAS and sourness from the stomach and bowels, bringing INSTANT relief from stomach trouble. And in addition, Adlerika removes metabolic poisons which cause neuritis and rheumatism.

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years practice I have found nothing to excel Adlerika."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated."

It will surprise you the great amount of poisons Adlerika brings out—you would never believe they were in your system. In chronic constipation, GAS, sour stomach and sick headache, just ONE spoonful Adlerika brings wonderful relief. At leading druggists. Sold in St. Louis by Wolff-Wilson Drug Stores. When Baby Doesn't Get Sunshine—Look Out!

Now a hot breakfast food offers the "sun" vitamin that children need.

Do you know what "sun starvation" means? According to authorities, 90% of children in cities suffer from it. Now a great new discovery brings sunlight's bone-building vitamin that prevents this "sun starvation" to your children in the famous hot breakfast food, Quaker Farina.

Just why sunlight has so tremendous effect upon your child's health, doctors have only recently learned. They call the secret Vitamin "D." When Vitamin "D" is present in the body, the child develops strong, healthy bones; hard, sound teeth. The child's appetite is good. Growth goes on "full speed."

Without this "sunshine vitamin," bones are soft and undeveloped. Usually appetite lags. Colds are frequent. Lack of Vitamin "D" is common because winter sunshine is "skimmed sunshine"—skimmed of its vital Ultra-Violet Rays.

Now a way has been found to secure this essential part of sunshine. A great scientist discovered it. Quaker Farina, famous hot breakfast food, is now being irradiated with Ultra-Violet Rays by his method, the Steenbock Process. Thus it can pass on to you the sunlight vitamin.

Quaker Farina is made of the creamy white heart of the wheat. Full of energy. Quick and easy to digest. The new tastes and looks the same. And now it has this added health factor which no other hot breakfast food can claim! Get irradiated Quaker Farina at your grocer's. The price is unchanged.

Here's a way to avoid "sunlight starvation"!

NOTE: All Quaker Farina is irradiated, although some packages are not so marked.

SECOND ARSON CONVICTION WITHIN MONTH OBTAINED

J. E. White, Restaurant Keeper, Gets Five Years for Endangering Lives by Firing Building.

The second arson conviction by a jury within a month was obtained yesterday in Circuit Judge Hall's Court when James E. White, restaurant proprietor, was found guilty and his punishment fixed at five years in prison. The maximum penalty is seven years.

Before last Feb. 21 when a shoe store proprietor was sentenced to three years, there had been a period of more than seven years during which no conviction for arson had been obtained in a St. Louis court although many such cases had been tried.

White, who is 50 years old, operated a small restaurant in a one-story building at 2745 Olive street, also occupied by the confectionery of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Helm, who lived in their shop, separated from White's eating house by a thin partition. Fire broke out there the night of last Aug. 21. Firemen testified that they found a fuse leading to a gas stove with open burners, oil-soaked papers on the floor and cans containing gasoline. Helm testified that he saw White leave in his automobile 20 minutes before the fire. He declared that on Aug. 12, he found a similar preparation of combustibles in White's restaurant and had asked him ironically to "let us know before you set this place on fire." Robert Peterson, who was White's cook, declared White had persuaded him to testify falsely at the preliminary hearing that Helm had tried to bribe him.

White denied he started the fire. He carried $1000 of fire insurance.

Furriers Sidener Didn't Prosecute Give Bond on New Bills.

The reindictment of George Potucek and Emanuel M. Schimmel, furriers, was indicated when they appeared before Circuit Judge Hartman yesterday and furnished $5000 bonds to answer charges of third degree arson.

Following an explosion and fire in the offices of the Potucek-Schimmel Co., at 819 Washington avenue, police found a candle end and an empty gunpowder can in the place.

A Constructive Force in St. Louis Since 1890

Mississippi Valley Financing

IN St. Louis, and throughout the entire United States, are many monumental structures—churches, office buildings, clubs, schools, and factories—the construction of which was financed by the Mississippi Valley Trust Company.

Hard-surfaced roads have been laid, and many other public improvements have been made possible through the underwriting of our Bond Department.

The bonds representing these improvements have been purchased by individuals, banks and corporations seeking profitable investments for their surplus funds.

Thus, the Mississippi Valley has served the borrowers, the lenders, and the public as a whole.

Our Bond Department is interested in the conservative financing of substantial projects through the medium of First Mortgage Bonds

PICKING BROWNS FOR SECOND JUST RUTH PROPAGANDA, HOWLEY SAYS

ATHLETICS HAVE REAL CLUB AND ST. LOUIS WILL HAVE TO GO FAR TO BEAT OUT MACKS, HE STATES

By John E. Wray
Sports Editor Post-Dispatch.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 12.—When Dan Howley meets Babe Ruth, stenographers present will be requested to take notes on asbestos paper. Dan will pour burning words over the plate. Dan and Babe have been friends for years, but—

Friendship marks time, right here. The reason? Oh, yes, Babe recently picked the probable finish of the 1929 American League pennant race and he picked the Browns to finish second and the Athletics fourth, with Detroit third. Of course, Babe picked his own club to finish first.

"Where does he get this stuff about the Athletics finishing fourth?" Manager Dan observed today, as he fumed over the situation. "He knows that the Athletics have a real baseball club. How does he figure the Browns and Detroits such a cinch to beat out the club that finished ahead of both last year and which has suffered no important misfortunes since?

"If the Babe had picked the Athletics first and the Yankees fourth there might have been some sense to it. The Yanks might collapse if all the "ifs" go wrong with that club. But the Athletics don't figure to be worse than last year, but better.

It's Not in the Books.

"Of course, I figure my team is stronger than last year. But we also have a lot of ground to make up on last year's showing to pass the Athletics. Whatever our hopes may be, there's nothing in the books to make the Tigers and the Browns figure above the Athletics.

"The Babe is trying to get the Athletics' goats before the season begins. He knows the Yanks will need all they've got to stay ahead of Mack's team this year. Wait 'till I see the Babe . I'll tell him a few things."

All of which is just another indication that no major league manager likes to have his secret hopes or expectations broadcast in advance.

As a matter of fact, there is a lot of hope among the Browns officials and members of the board of strategy that this is going to be a good year for the Browns and that the slightest slip of the one-two clubs of last year will give the St. Louis team a chance to gain a higher berth. But there is a soft pedal on broadcasting that fact.

The time when a more definite idea of the strength of the Browns may be had is at hand. The squad played its first practice game yesterday and this week will be devoted to similar tests with the idea of prepping the infield for major league fitness.

Anxious to Test Rookies.

Manager Howley is particularly eager to find out the mettle of his new infielders, Grimes and Dondero. Minor injuries have balked him thus far, but yesterday in the first practice affair, he had a chance to look over this peppy boy Leonard Dondero.

Dondero was placed at third base for the "regulars" who were only about half "regular" after all. Dondero showed something of his quality. He made two nice assists during the game, but failed to made a safe hit. In the practice before the game, however, Dondero showed a fine throwing arm and other good qualities. He has a lot to learn before he can expect to hold down a regular's job.

McGowan Classed As Real Holdout By Brown Officials

By a Staff Correspondent.
WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.,
March 12.

FRANK McGOWAN, outfielder, who made a fine impression with the Browns during part of last season, is today definitely classed as a holdout by Vice President McEvoy, who is here with the team.

"We have not heard from McGowan recently and he has not accepted the terms offered him. I have no idea when he will join the club—that is up to him. Only one other player has failed to report. He is Heine Manush who will join the club Wednesday.

"The entire official family of the Browns will be here next Thursday or Friday. Business Manager William Friel is on the way and President Phil Ball will fly down here Thursday, according to our last report."

Still another notable is due in camp—Tyrus Raymond Cobb, greatest player of all time according to an almost unanimous verdict. Ty wired last week that he expected to join the Browns early this week. He may arrive today.

Grimes, Leading Candidate for Third Base, Kept Out Because of Bad Elbow

Howley's leading candidate for third corner, Eddie Grimes, was unable to play. Dan will not permit him to use his throwing arm because of a sensitive elbow.

Howley today will resume the practice games and perhaps Grimes will be able to take his turn at third. In this case Dondero will go to third for the irregulars, taking Kid Austin's place.

Yesterday's lineup saw Ike Danning playing first for the regulars, Blue being in uniform for the first time this year. O'Rourke was at second, Kress at short and Dondero at third. In the outfield were McNeely, Schulte and the husky Tom Jenkins, while Kimsey started on the hill with Schang receiving.

Kimsey Wild at Start.

The misfit aggregation opposed to them had Clyde Manion behind the bat throughout. Manion is well advanced and is in fine form, for so early in the season. Harvey Johnson, Oscar Melillo, Roetz and Jimmy Austin made up the infield with Badgro, Sheehan (an Atlanta player) and Walter Stewart, pitcher in the outfield. Claude Jonnard and Strelecki were the flingers for the irregulars.

The regulars were off to a bad start in the first inning due to the wildness of the big fellow Kimsey. He walked Sheehan, first up and Melillo got a life on Kress' bad throw which put Sheehan on third. Here, Kimsey wild pitched Sheehan home for the first run. After that Kimsey settled down and retired the side on three infield taps on which Melillo scored another tally. That was about all for the irregulars as Kimsey settled down and pitched a fine three innings, only one safe hit being made off his delivery. Not a batter in three innings got the ball out of the infield in fair territory, the big boy concluded his stay on the hill by fanning Walter Stewart, a pretty good hitter, as pitchers go.

Jonnard for the misfits, was very effective for two innings, but apparently tired in the third. Only six men faced him in the first two sessions but in the next eight men went to bat and six base hits were made, one of them a home run.

Homer With Bases Full.

In this wild session the first three men up, Danning, Schang and Kimsey, hit singles and then McNeely with a hit to deep right center, cleared the bases and himself slid in under the throw for the first home run made by a Brownie this year. Two more singles followed, an infield out by O'Rourke, but the regulars failed to convert them into runs and the rally ended right there.

The blond giant Dick Coffman, went to the hill for the regulars in the fourth inning and pitched three sessions. The irregulars could do little with Coffman, their three hits coming after two men were out, one in the fourth and two in the fifth. He struck out Stewart on called strikes with two men on, in the fourth, to end the inning and he wound up the game by fanning Roetz, also on called strikes.

Strelecki took up the pitching burden for the irregulars in the fourth and the regulars didn't get the ball safe in six tries. He fanned O'Rourke to close the day with the regulars winning, 4 to 2.

Benefit Game Postponed.

The scheduled game for the benefit of the children's fund here with two teams of Brownies competing was postponed this morning, owing to the all night rain and the threatening weather.

Manager Howley, however, announced he would go through with a practice session if the condition of the grounds and the weather permitted. Rain was still falling at 10 a. m. with little apparent hope of sunshine appearing later in the day.

SIX RECRUITS TURNED LOOSE BY WHITE SOX

DALLAS, Tex., March 12.—"Lena" Blackburne has wielded his managerial axe, cutting six White Sox hopes from his payroll and sending them back to the minors.

Leslie Cox, a right-handed hurler who was with San Antonio last year, and shortstop Irving Jefferies, formerly with Dallas, were released outright to Dallas; Eli Ward, young right-hander from Michigan State Normal College, and Elgin Wilson, promising semi-pro pitcher, were placed with Dallas for a trial; William Wisomersky, who came up from the United Cavalry, and Martin Ehlers, an infielder, were sent to Palestine of the Lone Star League.

Burlington Pair Second in A. B. C. Doubles Event

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 12.—Bowlers from Wisconsin, Iowa and Chicago joined the select circle of leaders in the American Bowling Congress tournament yesterday after making a spirited and consistent attack on the maples.

Spilling the wood for a count of 1211, G. Peterson and P. Haas of Burlington, Ia., jumped into second place in the doubles event, while W. Gierhahn and J. Pechota, Chicago, took seventh with a total of 1195. The team of W. Theusen and R. Phillips, Chicago, still hold the lead by a 23-point margin.

Two new leaders sprang up in the singles competition. C. Oliva of Burlington, Ia., turned in a 656 series to go into sixth place, and J. White, Sioux City, Ia., hook artist, cracked over 652 to take seventh. Charlie Parr of Jackson, Mich., retained his hold on first place with 676.

Scoring in the five-man event was exceptionally brisk. The George J. Fee Co. team of Chicago shot into second place with 2843 or two points less than that chalked up by the Motor Inns of Pontiac, Mich., leaders in that race. The Hotel Raulff team of Oshkosh, Wis., turned in a 2834 total to land in third place.

VARSITY TO COMPETE IN MUNY ELIMINATIONS FOR JUNIOR TITLE

The Varsity girls' basketball team will represent the Friday Night Division against the Miessner-Feldman team, in the eliminations which start Thursday night for the junior championship of the Girls' Municipal League.

This was decided last night, when the Varsity team held the Sayman aggregation without a field goal, winning, 7 to 1, in the deciding game in the Friday Night Division.

In the second elimination game Thursday night, the Red Birds will oppose the Purina Checkers in the senior division. The championship will be decided in each division by a three-game series.

BELANGER IS FAVORITE TO DEFEAT SCHWARTZ

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

TORONTO, March 12.—Frenchy Belanger, Canadian flyweight champion, is a slight favorite to defeat Corp. Izzy Schwartz here tonight. Schwartz is recognized as world's champion in New York State.

Negotiations are under way to match the winner against Emile Pladner, the Frenchman who recently knocked out Frankie Genaro in 47 seconds.

Miller Is Reinstated.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The last obstacle to the Jimmy McLarnin-Ray Miller bout here on March 22 had been removed today following the reinstatement of Miller by the New York State Athletic Commission. The Chicagoan had been under suspension here for five months for failure to go through with a bout with Lope Tenorio in Brooklyn.

Robins May Ask N. L. to Cancel Pittsburg Trade

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Training camp advices from Clearwater, Fla., today said Wilbert Robinson, president-manager of the Brooklyn Robins, had asked John A. Heydler, president of the National League, to investigate the trade by which the Robins obtained Glenn Wright, shortstop, from the Pittsburg club in exchange for Jess Petty and Harry Riconda. Wright now is under treatment for an arm ailment.

Wright's lame arm developed on his first day in camp, it was learned yesterday. Robinson says that the ailment was due to an injury Wright received in a handball game at Pittsburg last November. Robinson intimates that he believes the Pittsburg club knew of the injury and that Wright was traded for that reason.

Reports have been prevalent that Wright's arm is permanently injured but both the shortstop and his physician, Dr. Cecil Ferguson of Miami, deny this.

In the event Wright's arm does not respond to treatment Robinson said he would ask President Heydler to cancel the trade by which Petty and Riconda went to Pittsburg.

DUNDEE, WITH ARM IMPROVING, TO MEET AL MELLO APRIL 12

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, March 12.—The charity boxing show, postponed last Friday when Joe Dundee, welterweight champion, entered a hospital with an infected arm, will be staged on April 12, Eddie Mack, boxing promoter at the Boston Garden, announced yesterday. Dundee will clash with Al Mello of Lowell in a nontitle bout.

Dundee was reported to be improving rapidly and his physician said he would be released from the hospital late this week. The champion has been ordered to return to his Baltimore home for a rest after which he will return to Boston to train for Mello, who outpointed him when they met here several years ago.

LAYTON GAINS LEAD OF 19 POINTS IN HIS CONTEST WITH HALL

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Johnny Layton, world's three cushion billiards champion, won the first and second blocks of his 600 point return match with Allan Hall of St. Louis yesterday. Layton now leads his youthful rival, 100 to 81. Hall defeated the champion in their special match last week, 600 to 583.

Layton won the afternoon block, 50 to 42, in 49 innings. Each had a high run of 5. At night the champion won again, 50 to 39, in 44 innings. Layton had high runs of 7 and 6 and Hall one of 5.

TWO LUTHERAN GAMES SCHEDULED TONIGHT

Mount Calvary and Redeemer will meet tonight at Bethany Hall, Clay and Natural Bridge avenues, to decide the winner of the second half of the split-season schedule of the Lutheran League in which the teams play. The games will start at 9 o'clock. In a Lutheran tournament game, the St. Matthews No. 1 will go against St. Paul, starting at 8 o'clock.

SMITH-WATROUS ELIMINATED IN 4-BALL TOURNEY

By the Associated Press.

MIAMI, Fla., March 12.—Ed Dudley of Los Angeles and Al Espinosa, Chicago, were four up on Johnny Farrell and Gene Sarazen, defending champions, at the end of the 18-hole morning round of the annual international four-ball golf tournament here today.

Leo Diegel and Walter Hagen, seeded in the lower bracket, were one down to John Golden, Paterson, N. J., and Billy Burke of West Port, N. Y., at the turn.

By the Associated Press.

MIAMI, Fla., March 12.—Hard pressed to the sixteenth green of their afternoon round by a pair of determined Englishmen, Johnny Farrell and Gene Sarazen, defending champions, in the sixth annual international four-ball match yesterday eliminated their opponents after Farrell had made his iron shots count for a pair of birdies and two resultant holes. The match went to Farrell and Sarazen 3 to 2.

The national open champion and his partner encountered stiff opposition throughout their 36-hole match with Frank Ball of England, but more recently of Atlanta, and Harry Notton, young British Isles professional.

Ed Dudley, Los Angeles, and Al Espinosa, Chicago, turned in a 2 and 1 victory after repulsing a determined threat on the afternoon homeward trip by Willie Klein, Wheatley Hills, L. I., and Miami Beach, and Tommy Kerrigan, Mount Vernon, N. Y.

Willie MacFarlane, former open champion of West Chester, N. Y., and Harry Hampton, Chicago and Key West, Fla., drove their way to a 3 and 2 victory over the Canadian representatives, Charley Murray, Montreal ,and Dave Spittal, Toronto.

One of the day's upsets came when Tommy Armour, Washington, former open champion, walked to the clubhouse with Wild Bill Mehlhorn of New York, defeated 3 and 2 by Clarence Hackney, Atlantic City, and Craig Wood, Bloomfield, N. J. The foursome had been even on the outbound trip in the morning, but Hackney and Wood led one up at the end of the morning round and two up when they had finished 27 holes.

Watrous and Smith Lose.

The defeat of Al Watrous of the Ryder cup team, registered from Grand Rapids, Mich., and Horton Smith, sensational 21-year-old golfer from Joplin, Mo., with four major 1929 tournaments to his credit, furnished the day's major upset. The pair lost 2 and 1 to Charley Mayo, Jacksonville, Fla., and Flushing, L. I., and former champion of France and Belgium, and George Christ, Rochester, N. Y.

Joe Turnesa, Elmsford, N. Y., and Henri Cuici, Bridgeport, Conn., defeated Frank Walsh, Appleton, Wis., and Leonard Chmutte, Indianapolis, 4 and 3, after the Western boys had fallen down in the afternoon round.

Mike Brady, Mamaroneck, N. Y., and Cyril Walker, Englewood, N. J., another former open champion, were the victims of another dope upset when they lost to Johnny Golden, Paterson, N. J., Ryder cup team member, and Billy Burke, Westport, N. Y., 5 and 4.

Leo Diegel, P. G. A. champion, and Walter Hagen, British open champion, the seeded team of the lower bracket, took an easy 6-4 match from Eddie Williams, Cleveland, and Wilfred Rei, Detroit.

Farrell and Sarazen will meet Espinosa and Dudley for one match in the upper braket today, the other being the contest between MacFarlane and Hampton and Hackney and Wood.

In the lower bracket, Mayo and Christ will meet Turnesa and Cuici with Hagen and Diegel playing Golden and Burke.

Piles Disappear

No Cutting or Salves Needed

External treatments seldom banish Piles.

Nor does cutting remove the cause

The cause is inside—bad circulation.

The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through stagnant pools Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles He succeeded He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Wolff-Wilson's Drug Stores, Walgreen's, who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.

It Will Be Too Bad for Cubs If Hornsby Fails to Furnish Added Punch, Critic Declares

By Harry Neily
Of the Chicago American Sport Staff.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 12.—So much stress is placed upon the skill of Rogers Hornsby that officials of the Cubs have talked themselves into the National League championship even before the season has begun.

"This is a Cub year," has been the frequent crack while the hired hands prepared themselves for what promises to be one of the stiffest pennant pursuits in the history of the National League.

Frankly and after due inspection of the talent present, Hornsby is the only newcomer assured of regular employment once the championship season is under way. The leading batsman may furnish the added strength to make of an erstwhile contender a front-runner. If he does not it will just be too bad.

Spare infield parts are not plentiful. Norman McMillan, who batted .220 last season, will be an utility man. So will Blair, former third baseman for Little Rock. Utility outfielders are Cliff Heathcote, Dan Taylor from Memphis and Johnny Moore, who joined the Cubs last autumn.

No Extra First Baseman.

The club has no extra first baseman, so Riggs Stephenson has practiced in that position. He displayed natural aptitude for the job and will operate in case of injury to Charley Grimm. He can handle balls well, having been an infielder originally.

Ed Lautenbacher who won 10 and lost five for Reading of the International League, is the likeliest of the new pitchers. He is six feet three and ought to stick. Mike Cvengros, an alumnus of the White Sox, Pittsburg, New Orleans, Wichita Falls and way points, looks good—in the spring. He won 21 and lost eight in the Texas League last season. Maybe he has "arrived."

Inspection of the Cubs by position reveals:

Pitchers—Rott had tonsils removed, 15 pounds lighter than last year, when he was not a winner. Carlson, fully recovered of 1928 attack of influenza, strong and able. Blake, going along as usual, the class of the staff, won 17 last year and ready to continue. Malone, reformed careless boy working hard. He won 18 games last year, should do better this. Bush, same as heretofore, a rubber-arm used chiefly for relief, probably has improved. Art Nehf, 37 years old, durable and smart, won 13 and lost seven in 1928, seems good as ever, but he can't go on forever. Cvengros and Lautenbacher already considered. Erase others from tablets of memory, or words to that effect.

Hartnett Has Sore Arm.

Catchers—Hartnett, class of the league, suffers of exceedingly sore arm. Had it last spring and recovered. Mike Gonzales, over 40, most active man in the party, he sticks. Tom Angley, corpulent person from Atlanta, great football guard with Georgia Tech, has dimensions of gridiron, bats left-handed and hits hard, but arm none too strong. Robert Grace, Little Rock, hit .336 and still at it, excellent arm and good receiver likely be third string catcher and "captain of the bullpen."

First base—Grimm alone, with possible assistance from Stephenson as heretofore noted.

Second base—Hornsby, who requires no comment.

Shortstop—Woody English, briskest young man in the majors, came within one point of .300 last season, ought to be better this. McMillan his substitute.

Third base—Beck, weak hitter, good fielder. Clarence Blair, powerful left-handed hitter, but ve dant in certain phases of third bas ing. Also plays second. Probably remains as substitute.

Outfield—Stephenson left, Wilson center, Cuyler right. They worked regularly last year. Heathcote, a left-handed hitter, first sub. Dan Taylor best prospect of rookies. Doubles at third base occasionally. Came from Memphis with .374 batting average. Sh : an who glares at pitcher in batting practice. Preliminary work assures him of employment. Is fast and has good arm. John Frank Moore, a ball hawk, also left-handed hitter. Poles hard. Able, but Taylor seems to have call.

The regular lineup has only one left-handed batter, Grimm. Efforts to remedy this have failed. May be fatal when facing curve ball pitchers. The team will be a contender. Where it finishes depends upon New York, Pittsburg and St. Louis.

PURPLE SWIMMERS' CHANCES FOR BIG 10 HONORS HIT SL

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 12.—Big Ten rules, whereby no swimmer may compete in more than three events may spoil Northwestern's chances of winning the conference swimming title at the University of Chicago Friday and Saturday.

Northwestern's team, which holds seven out of eight national intercollegiate records for a yard tank and which is undefeated so far, will be busy in the relay events, forcing several stars out of individual races.

The rule is regarded as a boon for Michigan, a well balanced team which was edged out by Northwestern in their dual meet last Friday.

JERSEY BOXER'S HEAVY ASSAULT ENDS FIGHT IN NINTH SESSION

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 12.—This stiff-punching Jersey City light-heavyweight, James J. Braddock, will have to be taken seriously. He has had a hard time convincing the boys that he really is a first-rate 175-pounder but there are fewer doubting Thomases today than there were a day or so ago.

James J. from Jersey City chased the Buffalo will o' the wisp, Jimmy Slattery, for eight rounds at Madison Square Garden last night and then caught up with him to win by a technical knockout in the ninth round.

Braddock's record in the last six months is impressive. He cracked Pete Latzo's jaw and won the decision in ten rounds. Then he knocked out Tuffy Griffin in two round. To Leo Lomski he dropped a close decision.

For eight rounds, Slattery danced and boxed his way out of difficulty.

Near the close of the eighth round Braddock caught Slattery in a corner and drove both hands to the body. Just as Buffalo Jimmy seemed to have worked his way clear of the storm a long right caught him on the chin. Slattery held on and boxed his way out of danger until the round ended.

In the ninth a two-fisted barrage sent Slattery down for the count of five. Referee Lou Magnolia halted the struggle.

Schmeling to Oppose Maloney in Boston

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, March 12.—The fistic destiny of Max Schemling, German heavyweight, was decided upon yesterday during a telephonic conference between William F. Carey of the Madison Square Garden, and Eddie Mack, boxing promoter of the Boston Garden.

The officials after agreeing to work in connection in an attempt to straighten out the muddled heavyweight situation, decided to pit Schmelling against Jimmy Maloney of Boston here at Braves Field early in June. Schmelling, Carey said, was expected to return from Germany long before that.

Carey told Mack he expected to Clinch a match for the Yankee Stadium in New York between Jack Sharkey, the Boston heavyweight, who defeated Young Stribling in the recent Miami clash, and Paulino Uzcudun, the Spanish woodchopper.

Bears' Baseball Players Start Outdoor Workouts

With the opening game of the season three weeks away, the Washington University baseball squad has started daily outdoor workouts, as a part of its pre-season training campaign.

Three weeks of indoor work for the batterymen and a week's practice for the rest of the squad has put the players in good physical condition for the outdoor training period.

The University of Iowa nine will open the Bears' season in St. Louis, April 1, following which the Hilltoppers will go to Columbia for a game, April 13. Included in the schedule is a 10-day trip that will take the team to Lawrence, Kan., Stillwater, Ok., and Fayetteville, Ark., for games with Kansas University, Oklahoma U. and Arkansas U.

The schedule as completed to date, follows:

April 1—University of Iowa at St. Louis.
April 13—University of Missouri at Columbia.
April 15—University of Wisconsin at St. Louis.
May 3, 4—University of Kansas at St. Louis.
May 6, 7—University of Oklahoma at Norman.
May 8, 9—Oklahoma Aggies at Stillwater.
May 10, 11—University of Arkansas at Fayetteville.
May 14—University of Missouri at St. Louis.
Concordia—Three games between April 15-30.

TABERSKI TRAILS BY 40 POINTS AFTER TWO BLOCKS IN CUE MATCH

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Andrew St. Jean was leading the world's champion, Frank Taberski of Schenectady, 255 to 235, at the end of the first two blocks of their 1500 pocket billiards match here last night.

St. Jean won the first block, 130 to 47 in 10 innings, closing out the block with an unfinished run of 55. Taberski's high run was 23.

Last night the champion turned the tables, winning 188 to 125 in 24 innings. His high run was 29; St. Jean's 19.

James J. from Jersey City chased the Buffalo will o' the wisp, Jimmy Slattery, for eight rounds at Madison Square Garden last night and then caught up with him to win by a technical knockout in the ninth round.

Braddock's record in the last six months is impressive. He cracked Pete Latzo's jaw and won the decision in ten rounds. Then he knocked out Tuffy Griffin in two rounds. To Leo Lomski he dropped a close decision.

For eight rounds, Slattery danced and boxed his way out of difficulty.

Near the close of the eighth round Braddock caught Slattery in a corner and drove both hands to the body. Just as Buffalo Jimmy seemed to have worked his way clear of the storm a long right caught him on the chin. Slattery held on and boxed his way out of danger until the round ended.

In the ninth a two-fisted barrage sent Slattery down for the count of five. Referee Lou Magnolia halted the struggle.

Schmeling to Oppose Maloney in Boston

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, March 12.—The fistic destiny of Max Schemling, German heavyweight, was decided upon yesterday during a telephonic conference between William F. Carey of the Madison Square Garden, and Eddie Mack, boxing promoter of the Boston Garden.

The officials after agreeing to work in connection in an attempt to straighten out the muddled heavyweight situation, decided to pit Schmelling against Jimmy Maloney of Boston here at Braves Field early in June. Schmelling, Carey said, was expected to return from Germany long before that.

Carey told Mack he expected to clinch a match for the Yankee Stadium in New York between Jack Sharkey, the Boston heavyweight, who defeated Young Stribling in the recent Miami clash, and Paulino Uzcudun, the Spanish woodchopper.

Bears' Baseball Players Start Outdoor Workouts

With the opening game of the season three weeks away, the Washington University baseball squad has started daily outdoor workouts, as a part of its pre-season training campaign.

Three weeks of indoor work for the batterymen and a week's practice for the rest of the squad has put the players in good physical condition for the outdoor training period.

The University of Iowa nine will open the Bears' season in St. Louis, April 1, following which the Hilltoppers will go to Columbia for a game, April 13. Included in the schedule is a 10-day trip that will take the team to Lawrence, Kan., Stillwater, Ok., and Fayetteville, Ark., for games with Kansas University, Oklahoma U. and Arkansas U.

The schedule as completed to date, follows:

April 1—University of Iowa at St. Louis.
April 13—University of Missouri at Columbia.
April 15—University of Wisconsin at St. Louis.
May 3, 4—University of Kansas at St. Louis.
May 6, 7—University of Oklahoma at Norman.
May 8, 9—Oklahoma Aggies at Stillwater.
May 10, 11—University of Arkansas at Fayetteville.
May 14—University of Missouri at St. Louis.
Concordia—Three games between April 15-30.

TABERSKI TRAILS BY 40 POINTS AFTER TWO BLOCKS IN CUE MATCH

By the Associated Press.

St. Jean won the first block, 130 to 47 in 10 innings, closing out the block with an unfinished run of 55. Taberski's high run was 28.

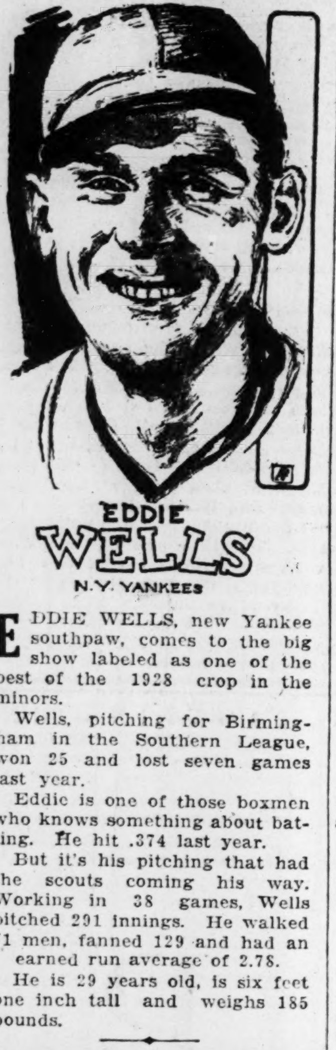
Wins in Women's Golf

By the Associated Press.

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 12.—Miss Cicely La Celles of Melbourne, Australia, defeated Mrs. M. A. Saeger of Allenton, Pa., 6 and 5 yesterday in the 36-hole final match of the women's spring golf tournament at Belmont Manor.

Southpaw Wells Is Expected to Assist Yankees



EDDIE WELLS, new Yankee southpaw, comes to the big show labeled as one of the best of the 1928 crop in the minors.

Wells, pitching for Birmingham in the Southern League, won 25 and lost seven games last year.

But it's his pitching that had the scouts coming his way. Working in 38 games, Wells pitched 291 innings. He walked 71 men, fanned 129 and had an earned run average of 2.78.

He is 29 years old, is six feet one inch tall and weighs 185 pounds.

BILLIKENS START SPRING GRIDIRON PRACTICE, TODAY

By Gerald Holland

The St. Louis University Freshman basketball team will play Cleveland High School at the Billiken gymnasium tonight. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

Tonight's game will furnish an indication of the chances of the Billiken yearlings against the Washington Freshman next Saturday. Washington, with several former high school stars on its squad, is believed to have the stronger team.

The St. Louis squad includes Francis Kennedy, who played with St. Louis U. High last year and the Los Angeles team that won the municipal championship this season, Charley McPartland from Passaic, N. J.; Charley McKinney from South Bend, Shea, Kearns, Middleman and Karkis, other promising youngsters.

Football Practice Starts.

Spring football practice will open today with Heartly Anderson and Chile Walsh directing a squad of about 50 players. Equipment was issued yesterday afternoon.

The workouts will continue for at least a month and as long after that as Anderson thinks necessary. The Billiken coach faces a hard task in getting his boys ready for the four tough games that will begin on Sept. 29 with the Oklahoma Aggies as the opposition Davis-Elkins, Georgtown, and Oglethorpe will follow in order.

"Firpo" Joseph Injured.

"Firpo" Joseph, the St. Louis heavyweight boxer, will not be able to fight again this season because of a torn ligament in his knee, suffered in a recent workout. The loss of Joseph leaves Coach Chuck Byers without an experienced heavyweight and will lessen the possibility of other meets this year. Joseph may be able to participate in spring football practice.

Nyikos to Coach Again.

Mike Nyikos will coach the Billiken basketball team again next year if he can obtain another leave of absence from his business in South Bend. The authorities were well pleased with the results of Nyikos' work this season and are anxious to bring him back.

Heeney Favored Over Von Porat In Bout Tonight

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 12.—Otto von Porat, Norwegian heavy, tonight will attempt to blast New Zealand's "Hard Rock," Tom Heeney, definitely out of the heavyweight championship picture.

The two foreign boxers meet in a 10-round bout at the Coliseum. A record crowd, including many of New York's fistic impressarios, is anticipated.

Victory and a decisive one is necessary in each case. For Heeney, the match was especially important as he needed a triumph to offset his defeats by Gene Tunney and Jimmy Maloney in his last two starts.

Odds wavered slightly in favor of the swarthy New Zealander. He will outweigh his rival by seven to 10 pounds and he has more experience.

Delker, Infield Rookie, Has Impressed Cardinal Bosses With His Work

By L. A. McMaster
Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

AVON PARK, Fla., March 12.—There has been a development in at least one of the two holdout cases figuring in the news about the Cardinals and their spring training. It is in the case of Fred Haney and the development is Edward Delker, a young infielder, who has had a part in the early pre-season contests of the Red Birds.

Among the things required of infielders, particularly in the major league, is ability to field, to hit and to do the right thing at the right time. Delker has shown already that he can do three of the things mentioned, and so he has built up a pretty good opinion of Shorstop Delker among the bosses of the Cardinals squad.

He has shown a good arm every time out; he has batted hard; his blows include a home run with two on and he has made smart plays around second base. Yesterday he made a stop back on the grass that proved his speed sufficient to cover ground as a good shortstop must cover ground.

So young Mr. Delker may prove that, while Florida's climate is just the thing for conditioning ball players in the spring, California's climate may be just the place to leave others. And it is said that Haney wants to be in California as much as possible. So Delker may be the middleman in making the coast state Haney's permanent resting place, insofar as the Cardinals are concerned.

Watkins Makes Real Bid.

As for the other holdout, Ernie Orsatti, nothing has happened but outfielder George Watkins, after striking out three times in one game, came back yesterday and made a real bid for victory in the ninth inning with a line smash to right field that might have meant three runs had not Outfielder Lance Richbourg made a good guess and stood right in the path of said line drive. So, the score remained as it had been when the Red Birds went to bat in the ninth, 8—5 in favor of the Boston Braves, and that is the record of the fourth engagement on the Cards spring schedule. Two won now, and as many lost.

The defeat by the Braves came after five innings of good baseball. The count stood tied at three-all when Judge Emil Fuchs' crew went to bat against Pitcher Roma Boykin. The youngster had been going along pretty well. But things went in Boston's favor.

Moore, Collins and Heine Mueller, the latter batting for Pitcher Ed Brandt, got on the bags without anyone being put out. So Boykin was waved away after pitching two wide ones to Richbourg, the fourth hitter. Syl Johnson was waved in.

Johnson started like a devastating cyclone. He burned the ball over the plate seven times in a row. Richbourg missed one, then fouled off five without getting a good connection. But the next one was the wrong number—for Johnson. Richbourg landed on the nose and the ball sailed to right field for a base hit. That was a start, and before Syl could get the side out, the Braves ran their total of runs to seven and there was the ball game. They got one more later and Southworth's men a couple, but outside of Watkins' smash that went wrong, nothing more happened to fool anyone of the 500 spectators into believing that the Cards would win.

Good and Bad Fielding.

There was some good and bad fielding, some interesting slugging, and Delker's pretty stop. The strong wind kept the fielders on edge, making it almost impossible to judge flies.

As for the hitting, Carey Selph got two blows; Andy High, one; Bottomley a single and a triple; Hafey drove one off the pitcher's glove that had all the old Hafey power behind it; Roettger had a double and a single, and Earl Smith sent a screaming double to left. Bottomley, Hafey and Roettger connected in succession in one frame. So the Red Birds got in a lot of good baseball licks, while losing a bad ball game. Boston errors made it bad, besides the fact that our side failed to win. Sisler and Bell got in blows against the old home town.

Today will be just a workout day, in preparation for another tilt tomorrow at Bradenton, against the other Boston team, the Red Sox.

Has Various Meanings.

They talk "B R" a lot with Branch Rickey in camp. To the old heads, it means only that the vice president is on the scene, looking over the green stuff. To the youngsters themselves, it means in many cases "bum's rush." But as a matter of fact, there will be no big parade out of camp. Most of the youngsters will stay here until the squad leaves Avon Park, and then go on to their own camps.

"We still need more pitchers for batting practice," Coach Neale told Rickey last night. With 10 roster men and 19 young hurlers here, it must mean that Southworth, Neale & Co. intend to turn out nothing but perfect batters.

Taylor Douthit, a recognized finished outfielder, is getting some extra coaching, in spite of all his years in the majors. Southworth and Neale are trying to finish him off in using his feet to pivot and prance on the base lines as he does in chasing flies in the garden. They are timing him on starting away from a base, and trying to eliminate a slowing down and a second start.

Frankie Frisch cavorted about like a kid in a new Easter suit his first day in camp, but it will be days before they let him do anything but work out. The higher ups are gong to try to keep Frank from wearing down his strength before the season is over.

Columbia Gets Two Players on All-Star Five

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 12. — With a pair of sophomores, Columbia's third place team in the Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball League takes the major honors in the all-star team selections for 1928-29.

Columbia is the only team to gain more than a single place on the quintet picked by the coaches of the six colleges in the league. The championship Pennsylvania five as well as Cornell and Dartmouth each land one man.

George Gregory, slender six foot, three and one-half inch Negro center, and Dave Smith, tenacious little guard, are the pair who give Columbia its first representation on the all-league team since 1926-27.

The other members are Joey Schaaf of Penn, who leads the league in scoring, Don Layton of Cornell, another forward, and Carl Spaeth, who captures a guard position for Dartmouth.

First team:

Joseph G. Schaaf, Penn, forward.
Donald Layton, Cornell, forward.
George Gregory, Columbia, center.
Carl Spaeth, Dartmouth, guard.
David I. Smith, Columbia, guard.

Second team: Hall, Cornell and Swarthout, Dartmouth, forwards; Lewin, Dartmouth, center; Cook, Yale; Miles, Princeton, and Lazar, Penn, guards.

DETROIT BOWLING STAR RETAINS MATCH TITLE

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Joe Scribner of Detroit retained his world's match bowling championship by defeating Mort Lindsey of Stamford, Conn., in a 60-game match concluded here last night. The final score was: Scribner, 12,893; Lindsey, 12,315, a difference of 578 pins.

The match was played in six blocks of 10 games each. Scribner taking them all. The first three were rolled in Detroit and the last three here.

19 Teams Enter Catholic Basket Title Tournament

CHICAGO, March 12.—The entry list for the National Catholic high school basketball tournament at Loyola University March 20 to 24 was brought to 19 yesterday when 14 schools accepted invitations to compete. All are either state or district champions.

The new entries include McBride high school of St. Louis, Mo.; St. Michael of Union City, N. J.; Theresa, Detroit; St. Vincent, Akron, O.; St. Joseph Academy, Enid, Ok.; Creighton University high school, Omaha; Bishop England, Charleston, S. C.; St. Xavier, Cincinnati; Rockhurst, Kansas City, Mo.; St. Mary's, Clarksburg, W. Va.; Marquette high, Milwaukee; Cathedral, Indianapolis; St. Ambrose, Davenport, Ia., and Columbia Academy of Dubuque, Ia.

JACK McAULIFFE TO WORK OUT TOMORROW FOR BOUT FRIDAY

Jack McAuliffe, Detroit heavyweight, and Kid Lencho, Kansas City featherweight, who will appear in the two principal bouts at Friday night's professional boxing show at the Armory arena, will arrive tomorrow and will engage in afternoon workouts at the National Gymnasium, it has been announced.

McAuliffe will face Dave Knost, local heavyweight star, in the 10-round feature, while Kid Lencho will oppose Joe Ghnouly, another promising St. Louis battler.

Matchmaker J. J. Kelly stated that Buddy Schlereth, St. Louis welterweight, and Mike Cummings of Scott Field, Ill., have been signed to battle in a 4-round curtain-raiser.

Three six-round batles will complete the Armory program. The middleweight match will bring Al Stillman against Mike Clayton, while Eddie Goldberg is down to meet Tut Seymour of Biloxi, Miss., in a welterweight scrap. The featherweight feature will bring Peter White against "Red" McGinity of West Franfort, Ill.

MADISONS WILL GET REAL TEST IN SPARTA TILT

Bud Grenon Has Scored 9 Goals In 3 Cup Games

Eddie "Bud" Grenon, the outside right of the Madison club, is sure to be a marked man in next Sunday's Western final cup game with the Sparta club of Chicago. Grenon appears to be the big scoring punch of the St. Louis team.

In three national cup games played thus far, Grenon has scored nine goals. His team has counted a total of 14 goals, as compared with three for the opposition.

First round—Madisons 4, Ben Millers 1. Goals—Grenon 2, Hanson 2.

Sparta would be making a grievous mistake in concentrating its defense on Grenon, for that would mean a lessening of vigilance in other quarters. Every one of the five Madison forwards is a dangerous shot at goal.

By Dent McSkimming

Having overcome the Holley Club of Detroit, the Madison soccer team now faces the task of getting past the Sparta Club of Chicago in order to enter the national championship final. Sparta is no such unknown, unmeasured quantity as was Holley. St. Louis soccer players have had numerous rubs with the great Szecho-Slovak team from the Windy City and there is almost unanimous agreement that Sparta is one of the strongest teams that has ever been assembled in the United States.

In two exhibition games here at Christmas time, Sparta mopped up the Tablers, by an 8 to 4 score, and then eked out a 1-1 tie with an all-star team two days later.

There are other games which afford a means of comparison. In their last cup game at Chicago, Sparta beat the bricklayers, 3 to 1, but the winning goals were scored in extra periods after the Brickies had lost their goaltender through injury. Earlier in the winter, the Holley club played at Chicago and had the Spartas beat up until the last minute when the score was tied.

Sparta Defense Stronger.

So far as concerns a comparison with the Holley team, there is no question that Sparta has a much stronger defense. Graham Gardiner, the young Scotchman who plays left fullback, can spot Harris of Holley another pair of legs and still beat him at doing everything. Zenisek, the right fullback, is probably a shade better than Kemp who played the corresponding position for Holley.

On the attack, too, Sparta looks stronger than Holley, principally because the inside forwards, Kratochvil and Mattus, play a prominent part in the attack whereas the Detroit offense was built entirely and solely around Center Forward Visser.

Since their holiday season games here, Sparta has been playing steadily improved soccer. Hjulian, their great Swedish goaltender, has returned to the team, replacing the less experienced Nudera. Among their recent victims are the All-Scots of Detroit and the Bricklayers and there is no question these two victories have tended to bolster the team spirit and instill self confidence.

Beating a St. Louis Club, however, has always been a touch problem for Sparta. Two years ago, after tieing the Ben Millers in a cup game here, Sparta was extended to the last ounce to win the replay at Chicago and the Millers of that day were not nearly so well balanced a team as are the Madisons of today.

Clark Calls Visser's Hand.

Replying to the challenge of Gerrit Visser, center forward and manager of the Holley club who said after Sunday's game that he would like to play the Madisons for $1000 a side, Bill Clark, owner of the Madison Club proposed that the side bet be raised to $3000.

Clark offered to post his check for $3000 in the hands of W. E. Barker, president of the St. Louis Soccer League but Visser retired without accepting. Clark's only stipulations were that the game be played with the same lineups that were used in the cup game and the match played on any field except Packard Park in Detroit.

ANDY CALLAHAN WINS 26TH STRAIGHT BOUT

FIGUERO AND CHARWICK RETAIN BOXING TITLES IN BARRACKS TOURNEY

In a boxing tourney that, with one exception, was void of knockouts, "Wop" Figuero, feather, and Nick Charwick, lightweight, retained their titles in the annual tournament at Jefferson Barracks last night. Both boxers were favorites.

112 POUNDS—Denton, Company D, won from Currie, Company L.
160 POUNDS—Taylor, Company D, won from France, Company H.
HEAVYWEIGHT—Ethan, Battery E, won from Plopper, Service Co.

HOUSE PASSES BILL TO CONTROL WRESTLING

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 12.—A bill designed to place wrestling under the supervision of the State Athletic Commission was passed by the House of Representatives here shortly before noon today, and will be sent to the Senate for early consideration. The vote in the House was 134 for passage and 3 against.

Under the provisions of the bill, sponsored by American Legion posts, the wrestling game will come under the same scrutiny and rules which now govern boxing. The bill really amends the present boxing law, adding the word "wrestling" evrywhere that the term "boxing and sparring" appears in the present law. This means that if the measure becomes law wrestling matches can only be conducted by "patriotic, fraternal, benevolent or religious organizations which have existed at least one year prior to application for license." Matchmakers and wrestlers, referees, etc., must be licensed and a tax of 5 per cent of the gross receipts must be paid to the state.

The bill was supported in the House by Representatives Britain of Green County, Logan of Benton County, G. W. Meyer of Jackson County, Hastings of Jasper County and Rollins of Boone County.

It is anticipated that the Senate will pass the bill without much opposition.

FAVORITES ADVANCE IN OPENING ROUND OF NATIONAL BASKET EVENT

K. C. A. C. FIVE SETS NEW MARK PUTTING OVER 75-4 VICTORY

TODAY'S RESULTS

Omaha Athletic Club 23, Bethany College, Lindsberg, Kansas, 19.

Denver University, Denver, Colo., 50; Fishers, Flint, Mich., 13.

Paul's, Miami, Fla., 58; Loyola, New Orleans, 27.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 12.—The Kansas City Cooks, National A. A. U. champions, romped virtually unmolested through the first round of the National A. A. U. basketball tournament here last night, defeating the Trulocs of Northboro, Ia., 69 to 8.

The Trulocs failed to score until the Cooks had acquired 12 tallies and their first field goal was not made until near the end of the first half. The score at that point was 38 to 3.

The Hillyard team of St. Joseph, perpetual national tournament entries and national champions in 1926 and 1927, opened their 1929 tournament season by defeating the Big Four of Cincinnati, 48 to 33. Three scoring spurts, the last one prolonged, gave the Chemists a comfortable margin after they had left the floor at the half with only a three-point advantage.

Another favorite, the Kansas City Athletic Club, runnerup last year, scored what is believed to be a record tournament victory in defeating the Lemmons-Alltons of Dewey, Ok., 75 to 4. The Oklahomans failed to score a field goal until the game was nearly over.

Western Teams Victors.

Southwestern basketball triumphed again today, when the East Central Teachers of Ada, Ok., took the measure of the Briggs team from Chicago, 31 to 22. Briggs inserted three substitutes in a vain attempt to halt the ball-tossing of Carlton and C. Phillips, Oklahoma forwards. The Teachers obtained an early lead through effective work by Phillips. In the second half Carlton took up the assignment of winning the game and ended high scorer, with 15 points. The Oklahomans led, 17 to 10, at the half.

Entering the tournament virtually unheralded, the Denver University quintet uncovered a well-rounded team and easily defeated the Fishers of Flint, Mich., 50 to 13.

The passing of the victors was good, and their two giant guards, Byers and Heckman, were towers of strength on the defense. Byers' play was especially brilliant. He counted eight field goals and two free throws. The Fishers were hopelessly outclassed, the score being 23 to 6 at the half.

Displaying a slow-breaking but highly effective offense, the Ke-Nash-a team from Kenosha, Wis., more than doubled the score on the Careys, Hutchison, Kansas, winning, 33 to 14.

University City Defeats Roosevelt and Will Play In State Basket Tourney

By Harold Tuthill

University City defeated Roosevelt, 24 to 15, last night on the St. Louis University floor to become St. Louis' second representative in the State meet beginning Thursday. The withdrawal of McBride, the District champions, made a vacancy which was filled by the playing off of a game between the two semi-finalists.

Roosevelt permitted itself to be handicapped by 10 points as Stroup scored three field goals and Hukriede two before the Rough Riders broke the ice with Bailey's free throw. University City led at the first quarter, 4 to 0.

Roosevelt managed to pull up within two points of tying the Indians, when Bailey counted twice from the floor and Doran and Wilson each once in the second quarter, making the score 11 to 9 in favor of University City at the half.

Vaughan and Hukriede scored from scrimmage shortly after the opening of the second half. Vogel sank two free throws, but Hukriede matched those and the score read, University 17, Roosevelt 11. Vogel stood under the basket to toss in the last field goal made by the Rough Riders, and was fouled by McMurray in the act of shooting. Vogel made one of the two tries successful and Roosevelt was three points behind as the third quarter ended.

In the last period Hukriede scored three times from the court to remove any doubt of the ultimate result of the contest. During this session Roosevelt was unfortunate in that the ball circled around the rim on several occasions but refused to drop through the netting. Charlie Bailey particularly had no luck on his shots, many of which rimmed the edge of the hoop. The only point scored by the Rough Riders in the final session was Wilson's free throw shortly before the end of the contest.

Srenco to Play In A. A. U. Title Handball Event.

Jack Srenco and Milton Smith won the city handball doubles championship last night at the Downtown Y. M. C. A., defeating Bob Larmore and I. N. Kessler in straight games, 21-16 and 21-13. An injury to his arm, suffered recently, handicapped Kessler, and made it rather easy for the winning pair.

Srenco, who recently went to the semifinals in the national Y. M. C. A. tournament at Detroit, will depart Saturday night for New York, where he will compete in the national A. A. U. championships. Following his return a banquet of the local handball stars will be held at the Downtown Y.

J. Flaherty defeated B. Weisman, 21-11, 9-21, 21-20.

J. Gallant won from H. Marmon, 21-2, 21-7.

L. Linder defeated A. Mandell, 21-8, 21-14.

R. Quinlivan won from A. Dreher, 15-21, 21-15, 21-15.

S. Shaikewitz defeated H. Newmark, 21-16, 21-18.

LOUGHRAN-WALKER TITLE BOUT APPROVED BY ILLINOIS BOARD

CHICAGO, March 12.—Approval of the match between Mickey Walker, world's middleweight champion, and Tommy Loughran, light heavyweight titleholder, opening the Chicago stadium March 28, finally was given by the Illinois State Athletic Commission yesterday.

A forfeit of $10,000 as a guaranty that Walker will defend his middle title against a logical contender probably Ace Hudkins before Sept. 30, was posted with the commission.

If Walker should fail within the allotted time to defend his crown against Hudkins, or against any other contender to be named in Hudkins' stead by the commission the $10,000 under the terms of the agreement signed by Kearns will be forfeited.

NURMI TO STRIVE FOR NEW 5000-METER MARK

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Paavo Nurmi, great Finnish runner, will race against the stop watch and not against his leading rivals at the K. of C. games here Saturday night. The phantom Finn, who was reinstated by the A. A. U. last Saturday, has entered the 5000-meter race and not the current "mile of the century" featuring such distance stars as Edvin Wide, Eino Purje, Leo Lermond, Ray Conger and others.

Nurmi, refreshed by his enforced rest, believes he will shatter the records set by Willie Ritola for three miles, four miles and 5000 meters. No stars are entered against him.

Roush Joins Giants.

By the Associated Press.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 12.—"Memphis Bill" Terry and Eddie Roush have arrived in the Giants' camp. Neither looks as if he needs much work to put him into playing condition. Roush, who was out of the lineup quite a while last season because of a torn stomach muscle, said that the injury was healed.

M'BRIDE CLOSES HOCKEY SEASON WITH 10-1 WIN

In the final games of the Interscholastic Hockey League season, favorites won in easy fashion, although U. City, runners-up, found some difficulty in downing the C. B. C. sextet due to the return of Duvic to the Brothers' lineup. The result of his layoff was evident, however, and the Indians won out 2—0. The McBride skaters took their final tilt of the year, overwhelming Chaminade, by a 10—1 score.

The first game was by far the more interesting. U. City counted twice near the close of the opening period but the Brothers put up a strong defense which held the Indians scoreless for the remainder of the game. C. B. C. made a number of pretty sallies down the ice, but were unable to shove the puck past Goalie Atkinson. The Indians counted first when Dubinsky followed up Barnes' shot and sent the puck into the twine on the rebound. A minute later the second was sent home by Parker on a neat pass from Dubinsky. Duvic, Diemer and White looked best for C. B. C. while Sanders, Barnes and Parker stood out for the winners.

The McBride-Chaminade tilt was a farce. After six minutes O'Hare was handed the puck by Gearhart and slapped it into the ropes. A minute later O'Hara passed to Gearhart who scored to end the scoring for that period. After but 25 seconds of play in the second, O'Brien counted. Half a minute later Regan scored unassisted. After some minutes of scoreless play, O'Brien again scored. Hensgen then got loose and counted Chaminade's only goal. O'Hare scored on a pass from Regan, as the period ended.

In the final chapter Regan and O'Brien counted unassisted within nine seconds, and a minute later Haffner made it nine for the Irish. O'Brien then got his fourth goal.

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 12.—Frank Patrick, president of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, has returned from the East with the announcement that either the Montreal Canadiens or the Detroit Cougars will play an exhibition series with the Vancouver Lions here some time in April. Lester Patrick's New York Rangers are also scheduled to perform in Vancouver. Lester is Frank's brother.

Iowa Favored to Capture Illinois Relay Carnival

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 12.—Because of its surprising triumph in the Big Ten indoor championship meet, Iowa ranks as the outstanding favorite to win the twelfth annual University of Illinois relay carnival Saturday.

More than 800 athletes, representing 77 universtities, colleges and high schools, will compete.

One outstanding event promises to be in the pole vault in which Hank Canby of Iowa and Tom Warne of Northwestern clash again. Canby broke the world's mark from a dirt runway—a trick record—in the Big Ten indoor meet Saturday, crossing the upright at 13 feet 7½ inches.

Dack McIntosh of Monmouth College will defend his championship in the all-events and most of his competition is anticipated to come from Barney Berlinger of the University of Pennsylvania.

Ten special events and nine university relays comprise the other principal sections of the program. A new relay, the 320 shuttle hurdles, will attract the best timber toppers from Ohio State, Iowa State, Nebraska and Illinois.

C. B. C. TO LOSE MAJORITY OF ITS BASKET REGULARS

By Robert W. Herr.

With the defeat of Country Day at the hands of St. Louis U. High last week, the Preparatory League brought to a close its fifth and most successful basketball season. In addition to the increased interest and enthusiasm shown, the resulting greater attendance, a league team won the district basketball tournament, Class A division, for the first time in the history of the event, when McBride down Webster High in the final.

The McBride five also captured the Prep League title, and will take part in the National Catholic tournament at Chicago. The team was considered a dark horse when the season began. Coach Toddy Kamp had but one regular, Capt. Gorman, and one substitute, Durbin. After much experimenting, Coach Kamp decided on a regular lineup, and the team finished on top in the league standing, with seven victories and one defeat.

McBride had the tightest guarding quintet in the league, relying on defensive tactics rather than offensive, with the result that most of the victories were by low scores.

C. B. C. Will Lose Stars.

With seven regulars back, C. B. C. was generally conceded the best chance of winning the league title, and while the Brothers had the strongest offensive five, pacing the league in points scored they lost their opportunity to tie for the championship by taking a decisive drubbing at the hands of St. Louis U. High.

Coach Jack O'Reilly will lose most of his first string men in June, and will have to build from second team material in 1930. However, with a wealth of likely looking substitutes, it is probable that C. B. C. will be a formidable aggregation next season.

St. Louis U. High was probably worse fixed in the matter of experienced players when the season began than any other school. Coach Tom Stanton had but one member of last year's squad, Capt. Cullen, and a number of green but willing newcomers. Despite this handicap, Stanton's men won five games and lost but three. Two of the defeats were by one point margins. The Blue and White proved a tight guarding outfit, and had a powerful offense, sparked by the flashy Mike Cullen. Next season Stanton should have a strong quintet, as several of this year's stars, including Connors, Padberg, Shea, Strong, Madden and Minetta, turn.

Country Day and Western, two lower division teams, tie the cellar with one victory seven defeats each. Though quintets showed flashes of they were unable to keep pace w the other fives.

With a total of 197 points, C. C., second place quintet, led league in team scoring during past season. Western, tide for place, finished second in the ing column, while St. Louis U. was third. McBride, the title ner, fourth and Country Day In the individual scoring list, ny Corcoran of C. B. C. finis 29 points ahead of his nearest petitor with a total of 31. of St. Louis U. SMOKE TALKS by the DUTCH MASTERS

Here's a riddle no real cigar lover will ever be able to answer. When a man hates the taste of tobacco so much that he has it wrapped in paper and then smokes it through an amber tube—why does he bother about smoking at all?

Many a man, who has about given up looking for happiness at the end of the rainbow, finds contentment at last at the end of a good Dutch Masters.

To the ladies: One reason a man is so fond of his club is that they almost ask him to drop his cigar ashes on the rug.

We don't believe that there is a milder cigar made than Dutch Masters. But it takes a lot more than mere mildness to make a man, who has "tried 'em all," agree with us that Dutch Masters really is "fine as any imported cigar."

PIERCE-ARROW TURNS ANOTHER PAGE IN FINE CAR HISTORY

Pierce-Arrow's recent expansion reflects itself brilliantly in a new Straight Eight which is Pierce-Arrow to the very heart and core.

Besides being ultra-modern in its fresh, crisp beauty, the new Pierce-Arrow is longer in wheel-base than its recent predecessors. There are two groups in the new line—two wheel-bases—133 inches and 143 inches.

Big automobiles are these, but without the least suggestion of bulk. Arriving at the psychological moment, the new Pierce-Arrow Straight Eight forever obsoletes "the dowager" type of fine motor car.

A feature that has marked America's finest motor car for more than a quarter-century—the fender lamps of Pierce-Arrow.

U. CITY PLAYS SPRINGFIELD IN OPENING ROUND

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 12. — Sixteen Missouri high schools will begin the first round of the Missouri State High School Athletic Association basketball tourney here Thursday night. The event will end with the crowning of a new champion Saturday night in Rothwell Gymnasium at the University of Missouri. This year's winner of the title will wear the laurels for the first time, none of the 16 having before won the tournament.

Oregon High School, last year's dark horse winner, will not defend its champion this year. Small towns and schools will not be without representation. Several schools of about 100 enrollment earned a chance to enter the classic by taking a winner's or runner-up's position in the district meets last week end.

Webster Groves will play Pleasant Hope in the first round, while University City will face Springfield in the first round of the tourney.

Kansas City, which has carried off more titles than any other city, is represented by two of its newer high schools, East and Southwest Highs, which are tied for the city title. The district will furnish another new contender in North Kansas City.

Following are the pairings for the first round: Pleasant Hope and Webster Groves; Moberly and Sedalia; Southwest of Kansas City and Newpoint; St. James and Hornersville; East of Kansas City and Doniphan; North Kansas City and Benton of St. Joseph; University City and Springfield; Kirksville and Independence.

The first named four games will be completed Thursday night and others Friday morning.

"STRANGLER" LEWIS THROWS KWARIANA

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 12.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former heavyweight wrestling champion, won a disputed fall decision over Kola Kwariana, the Russian giant, last night.

The referee awarded the fall to Lewis after one hour, 33 minutes and 37 seconds when he was holding his opponent helpless with a toe hold. The Russian protested, however, claiming he did not understand the referee when the latter asked him if he gave up. The crowd booed the decision.

FORMER BROWNS PITCHER NAMED TO OHIO STATE COACHING STAFF

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, O., March 12.—Appointment of Wayne Wright, former big league pitcher, as assistant baseball coach at Ohio State University was approved yesterday by the athletic board. Wright has played with the St. Louis Browns, the Louisville Colonels and the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast League.

KAISER SIGNS TO BOX ESPOSITO AT COLISEUM

John "Pewee" Kaiser yesterday signed articles to meet Mike Esposito on the next fight card at the Coliseum, Tuesday, March 19, it was announced by Matchmaker Jack Tippett.

Kaiser expressed a willingness to meet Esposito or any other featherweight on that date. Esposito is willing to meet Johnny, but wants the weight agreement to be 126 pounds. Kaiser insists on 128 pounds. Tippett hopes to bring them together on the matter of pounds within the next 24 hours.

Esposito, boxing in much the same fashion as Lew Perfetti, outpointed Paul Steadman in one of the feature events of the last Coliseum card.

Benny Bass and Davie Abad will meet in the feature event of the March 19 card.

CATCHER BENGOUGH TO HAVE TONSILS REMOVED

By the Associated Press.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 12.—Rumors in the Yankees' camp are that a catcher is to be added to the roster. Benny Bengough, the regular receiver, has been troubled with a shoulder malady and it was decided that the only cure was to have his tonsils removed.

If he shows signs of quick recovery, it is probable that the Yanks can get along with the three other catchers on their list, otherwise an experienced man who can handle young pitchers must be acquired.

Malcewicz Wins Match.

By the Associated Press.

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 12.—Joe Malcewicz of Utica, N. Y., defeated Stanley Penton, Chicago wrestler, in a match here last night with a body lift and back fall in 49 minutes. Charley Hanson of Sweden defeated Ivan Fichalloff of Russia and Bob McCoy of Cambridge, Mass., defeated Jim Maloney of Ireland.

ENGLISH TRACK START OPERATING AFTER A MONTH'S SUSPENSION

By the Associated Press.

CHELTENHAM, England, March 12.—English racetracks thawed out today and racing was resumed here after a month's suspension throughout the country because of frost and snow.

Twenty-four race meetings had to be abandoned during the suspension. This beat the record of 1895 when there was no racing for 26 consecutive days.

Trainers have been at their wits end to get horses fit for various races especially for the forthcoming grand national. Most of them sent their charges to the seaside for exercise on the sands. The American horse, Billy Barton, is reported in excellent condition and has become a joint favorite in the Grand National at 14 to 1 with Greatspan and Master Billie. Billy Barton is expected to race at Cheltenham Wednesday.

The Toughest Old Cough Can Now Be Stopped

Lingering coughs—the kind that hang on and hang on and rob a man of his sleep—the kind that makes him peevish and all worn out.

Those are the breed of coughs that prove common cough syrups are about as useful as a bottle of ginger pop.

It's guaranteed to stop the old-timers—the tough ones—and it does it without any loss of time.

For ordinary coughs one or two doses is usually enough. Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. and dealers everywhere can supply you.

WOMAN IS LYDIG'S CHIEF HEIR

On Mlle. Chauchet's Death Harvard Will Get Property.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 12.—A will of Col. Philip Mesier Lydig, who died in Nice, France, Feb. 16, names a friend, Mlle. Renee Chauchet of Paris, as the principal legatee, the filing of the instrument in court today disclosed. Col. Lydig's will stated that another will would dispose of property owned by him in France.

Mlle. Chauchet is to receive the income from the residue of the estate for life; on her death the money will go to Harvard University for a scholarship or scholarships in international law in the name of the donor. Col. Lydig was the former husband of Mrs. Rita De Acosta Lydig, who was once the wife of the late W. E. D. Stokes.

DEATH ON HONEYMOON ENDS WAR ROMANCE

J. R. McLean, Ex-Colonel Who Married Former Nurse, Dies of Auto Injuries.

By the Associated Press.

SANTA MARIA, Cal., March 12.—The honeymoon of Mrs. Kathleen Burke McLean ended last night with the death of her husband, John Reginald McLean, war veteran and Arizona mining engineer.

McLean, who on March 2 was married to the former Mrs. Kathleen Burke Peabody, died here from injuries received in an automobile accident last Sunday. Mrs. McLean, whose former husband was the late Frederick F. Peabody, millionaire collar manufacturer, was slightly injured in the accident.

The accident occurred while Mr. and Mrs. McLean were returning to Montecito from Del Monte where they had gone after the wedding. After a week of festivities with friends in Montecito, the pair had planned to visit President Hoover in Washington and then sail for Italy to spend a season before going to Argentina, where McLean had valuable mining interests.

Tried to Pass Truck.

Mr. and Mrs. McLean were in the rear seat of the family automobile driven by James Irwin, chauffeur, when the accident occurred. The chauffeur attempted to pass a truck on the highway when suddenly a sedan driven by J. Herbert Evans of Mather, Pa., appeared, and the McLean car crumpled under the impact of a head-on collision.

The chauffeur and Ida Trumbac, Mrs. McLean's maid, as well as Mrs. McLean escaped with minor injuries. One of the occupants of the Evans car, Barbara Allen Comfort, 3 years old, was seriously injured. Her skull being fractured. Her mother, Mrs. Leah Evans Comfort of El Cerrito, Cal.; the latter's sister, Mary Evans, and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Herbert Evans, were injured slightly. All are in a hospital here.

Commanded 367th Infantry.

McLean was 41 years old. During the World War he commanded the 367th Infantry. After the armistice, he returned to his profession of mining engineering. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton McLean, and a sister are residents of Phoenix, Ariz.

"The most decorated woman in the World War," was the title earned by Mrs. McLean, then Miss Kathleen Burke, a nurse, for relief work abroad during the war. Along the battle lines she was called "The Angel of France." She met Col. McLean when he entered a field hospital to receive treatment for wounds. She also met Peabody in war time and married him several years later. He died in Santa Barbara two years ago.

Postmaster Found Dead.

OHLMAN, Ill., March 12.—Postmaster I. U. Sparks, 66, was found dead in bed at home. It was in his office that Carrie Bruns, who was found dead by the roadside a few months ago, was employed. Sparks is survived by his wife and several children.

JENNINGS WOMEN SUFFERED TWO YEARS WITH CHRONIC RHEUMATISM

Glad to Tell Public How Simple Remedy Weldona Tablets Made Her a Well Woman.

"For two years I suffered with chronic rheumatism or arthritis and was tired of taking medicines without getting any better," said Mrs. Minnie Lane, who resides at R. F. D. 2500, Florissant Road, Jennings, St. Louis Co., Mo. Mrs. Lane continued: "My right knee was sore, stiff and swollen and it was impossible for me to go up or down stairs without assistance. It was very difficult for me to get up from a chair after sitting any length of time. My knee would turn over when I attempted to walk. My hands were sore and stiff and it was often difficult for me to get a good night's sleep because of the pain.

"I read about so many local people getting rid of rheumatism thru the use of Weldona that I decided to give it a trial. I must say that I am very pleased with the results My knee is well for I can now go up or down stairs without discomfort can get right up from a chair, sleep fine and cannot praise Weldona tablets too highly. If anyone wishes to investigate my case I would be glad to have them write or call on me."

Weldona tablets are always put up in a box—never in a bottle. Ask for Weldona tablets, which are recommended for rheumatism and rheumatic conditions only. Weldona tablets are absolutely harmless and will not upset the stomach, affect the heart or any other organ.

The Weldona representative, who now meets the public every day at Walgreen's Drug Store, 514 Washington Av., St. Louis, gladly explains more about this remedy and gives out the 24-page fully illustrated and interesting books, entitled "Germs of Rheumatism," which are absolutely free of charge to all who call or write for them.

"From childhood I was bothered with eczema. Sometimes it would last for a week, then disappear, and in a couple of weeks would break out again. It spread all over my face and neck and itched and burned terribly so that I could not help scratching it. When I scratched it, it would bleed, and some nights I could hardly sleep on account of the irritation.

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I purchased more and in three weeks I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Susie Boer, Rt. 2, Box 1, Friendship, Wisc., Aug. 30, 1928.

Clarence Badger and Clara Bow,
Paramount director and star, say
"Smooth skin is a girl's greatest charm"

CLARA BOW, Paramount's popular star, in the bathroom which is one of the most luxurious built in Hollywood.

Clara Bow

New incandescent "sun-spot" lights—film even more highly sensitized than before! That is why the beloved screen stars must now keep their skin lovelier and smoother than ever for the all-revealing close-up.

THELMA TODD, First National star, says: "A star's skin must be what we call 'studio skin,' to be lovely in the close-up. It requires constant protection, especially in hard water. Lux Toilet Soap's gentle lather is lovely for my skin."

The next time you see MERNA KENNEDY, sparkling little star with Universal, notice how delightfully smooth Lux Toilet Soap keeps her skin. "A star must guard with so much care the perfection of her skin! Lux Toilet Soap keeps my skin so smooth," she says.

9 out of 10 Screen Stars guard their skin this way

NO MATTER where you see it—on the street, at dinner, on the screen—your heart beats a little faster in response to a faultlessly lovely skin.

"The most important thing in making a girl lovely is an exquisite smooth skin," says Clarence Badger, Paramount—and sums up the opinion of 39 leading directors in Hollywood.

"Because beautiful skin charms people so, it is a first essential for screen stardom," he continues. "Velvety skin is the treasured possession of every screen star."

As Clara Bow says, "A beautifully smooth skin means even more to a screen star than to other women."

Of the 451 important actresses in Hollywood, including all stars, 442 (98%) keep their skin smooth and lovely with Lux Toilet Soap. Little wonder, then, that all the great film studios have made this white fragrant soap the official soap in their dressing rooms.

V,

New incandescent "sun-spot" lights—film even more highly sensitized than before! That is why the beloved screen stars must now keep their skin lovelier and smoother than ever for the all-revealing close-up.

THELMA TODD, First National star, says: "A star's skin must be what we call 'studio skin,' to be lovely in the close-up. It requires constant protection, especially in hard water. Lux Toilet Soap's gentle lather is lovely for my skin."

HOOVER INTENDS TO CONSERVE OIL

Post-Dispatch Bureau, 201-205 Kellogg Building.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—President Hoover this afternoon announced to the assembled newspaper correspondents for direct quotation the oil policy of his administration. Replying to questions, he said that no oil lands of the Federal Government would be leased or otherwise disposed of, no matter in what category they might fall, except in cases where such disposal was made mandatory by act of Congress.

"There will be no leases or disposal of Government oil lands," the President said, "no matter what category they may lie in, of Government holdings or Government controls, except those which may be mandatory by Congress. In other words there will be complete conservation of Government oil in this administration."

Asked whether his remarks had any connection with the elimination of waste in the privately owned oil fields of the Southwest, Mr. Hoover said he could speak only for the oil-bearing properties held by the Government, and that waste in the Southwest was a subject with which the private owners must deal themselves.

It was just about eight years ago soon after the beginning of the Harding administration that an executive order was signed which transferred the control of the Government's naval oil reserves from the Navy to the Interior Department. Thus was taken the first step which led to the national oil scandals of the Harding regime.

Having gained control of the oil lands, Secretary of the Interior Fall leased the Teapot Dome reserve to Harry F. Sinclair and the Elk Hills reserve to E. L. Doheny. Both these leases have been cancelled by the United States Supreme Court on the ground that they were consummated by fraud and corruption, and the lands have been restored to the Government.

TWO STEPSISTERS, MISSING SINCE FEB. 26, ARE FOUND

The search for Rachel Moreland and Bessie Hodge, 12-year-old stepsisters, of 212A Antelope street, who disappeared on their way to Baden Public School, Feb. 28, came to an end today, when police received a telegram from the Sheriff at Tipton, Ia., announcing that the girls were in custody at Mechanicsville, Ia.

Their father, Charles Moreland, was notified and made arrangements to leave today to bring them home. The message contained no information as to how they were found.

Police had searched the St. Louis vicinity thoroughly and had broadcast descriptions to many cities during the search for the stepsisters. Recently they sought out a former roomer at the Moreland home, Arthur Jones Taylor, a 42-year-old bridge worker, who admitted that the girls visited him at his shack near Mitchell, Ill., where he gave them $10 each and sent them on their way. He was released on bond under a warrant which charged contributing to the delinquency of minors.

AUTO HIT TWO IN SAFETY ZONE; DRIVER GETS THREE MONTHS

Martin Schnuirger, 22 years old, 2710 South Tenth street was sentenced to three months in the Workhouse yesterday by Circuit Judge Hartmann on a plea of guilty to a charge of felonious wounding, growing out of an automobile accident.

Christ Risch and his mother, Mrs. Anna Risch, both of 2711A Utah street, were struck by Schnuirger's automobile as they stood in a safety zone at Jefferson avenue and Accomac street last Dec. 9. Risch suffered a fractured leg and his mother was bruised.

HOOVER INTENDS TO CONSERVE OIL

Post-Dispatch Bureau,
201-205 Kellogg Building.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—President Hoover this afternoon announced to the assembled newspaper correspondents for direct quotation the oil policy of his administration. Replying to questions, he said that no oil lands of the Federal Government would be leased or otherwise disposed of, no matter in what category they might fall, except in cases where such disposal was made mandatory by act of Congress.

"There will be no leases or disposal of Government oil lands," the President said, "no matter what category they may lie in, of Government holdings or Government controls, except those which may be mandatory by Congress. In other words there will be complete conservation of Government oil in this administration."

Asked whether his remarks had any connection with the elimination of waste in the privately owned oil fields of the Southwest, Mr. Hoover said he could speak only for the oil-bearing properties held by the Government, and that waste in the Southwest was a subject with which the private owners must deal themselves.

It was just about eight years ago soon after the beginning of the Harding administration that an executive order was signed which transferred the control of the Government's naval oil reserves from the Navy to the Interior Department. Thus was taken the first step which led to the national oil scandals of the Harding regime.

Having gained control of the oil lands, Secretary of the Interior Fall leased the Teapot Dome reserve to Harry F. Sinclair and the Elk Hills reserve to E. L. Doheny. Both these leases have been cancelled by the United States Supreme Court on the ground that they were consummated by fraud and corruption, and the lands have been restored to the Government.

The search for Rachel Moreland and Bessie Hodge, 13-year-old stepsisters, of 313A Antelope street, who disappeared on their way to Baden Public School, Feb. 28, came to an end today, when police received a telegram from the Sheriff at Tipton, Ia., announcing that the girls were in custody at Mechanicsville, Ia.

Their father, Charles Moreland, was notified and made arrangements to leave today to bring them home. The message contained no information as to how they were found.

Police had searched the St. Louis vicinity thoroughly and had broadcast descriptions to many cities during the search for the stepsisters. Recently they sought out a former roomer at the Moreland home, Arthur Jones Taylor, a 42-year-old bridge worker, who admitted that the girls visited him at his shack near Mitchell, Ill., where he gave them $10 each and sent them on their way. He was released on bond under a warrant which charged contributing to the delinquency of minors.

AUTO HIT TWO IN SAFETY ZONE; DRIVER GETS THREE MONTHS

Martin Schnuirger, 32 years old, of 2710 South Tenth street was sentenced to three months in the Workhouse yesterday by Circuit Judge Hartmann on a plea of guilty to a charge of felonious wounding, growing out of an automobile accident.

Christ Risch and his mother, Mrs. Anna Risch, both of 2711A Utah street, were struck by Schnuirger's automobile as they stood in a safety zone at Jefferson avenue and Accomac street last Dec. 9. Risch suffered a fractured leg and his mother was bruised.

CAFE OWNER'S SUICIDE LAID TO JONES LAW

Brother-in-Law Testifies Man Who Ended Life Worried Over New Statute.

Despondency over the Jones law providing maximum five-year sentences and $10,000 fines for prohibition violations was the attributed reason for the suicide of Rudolph Schweitzer, 45, a bartender for 20 years, given at a Coroner's inquest today.

Schwietzer, who had changed his place of business twice since December, was found dead at 6 p. m. yesterday at his home, 5617 Dewey avenue. The body was lying across two chairs with the head in the oven of a gas stove, of which the burners were turned on, but unlighted.

Notes to his wife and the Coroner, which were found on the stove, were dated Feb. 19, the day the Senate passed the Jones bill by a vote of 65 to 18. Mrs. Schwietzer, who found the body, was under the care of a physician and unable to testify today, but another witness said the note to her bade her farewell and asked her to care for a son, Homer, 4.

The note to the Coroner said, "Do not blame anyone for my death, as I am discouraged with life and I intend to kill myself."

A brother-in-law, Reinold Wurtz of 3211 Gravois avenue, testified that Schwietzer had been worried for the last two months.

"What was worrying him?" he was asked, and, although he said Schwietzer never had mentioned the Jones law to him directly, responded:

"I could easily tell you that. He was worried about the Jones law. He operated a soft drink parlor and had been losing business."

Schwietzer had been a cafe proprietor for the last seven years.

Three saloons in the vicinity of Schwietzer's last stand, 313 Olive street, have closed since the Jones law passed, and a fourth has nearly doubled its prices, a reporter learned today.

Schwietzer had been bartender or proprietor of saloons near the Merchants' Exchange for more than 20 years, but was described as a quiet man and, socially, scarcely a mixer. He became a bartender 21 years ago in the old saloon of Herman Elfers, 309 Locust street.

Seven years ago he bought a place on Pine street, directly across from the Exchange, and was said to have prospered there. A year ago he sold out, and opened another place at 1114 Chestnut street. Last December he removed to Third and Chestnut streets, but fared ill there and in a few weeks opened a restaurant and bar at 313 Olive street. A $100 fine for possession of liquor in 1921 is the only Federal record of a violation of the prohibition law by Schwietzer.

PINES WINTERFRONT CAMPANY RECAPITALIZATION PROPOSED

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 12.—Directors of Pines Winterfront Co. have voted to increase the company's capital stock from 100,000 shares of class A and class B stock to 500,000 shares of $5 par common stock, exchanging share for share for present outstanding stock and offering rights to subscribe for two additional shares at $11 each. Quarterly dividends of $1 per year would then be paid on the 300,000 shares outstanding, equal to $3 on the present stock. In addition, the directors approved a plan to pay quarterly stock dividends at eight per cent annually, paying two shares each quarter for every hundred held. The entire plan was subject to ratification of stockholders at a special meeting April 5.

The recapitalization was announced as necessary to the expansion of the business and increase of manufacturing facilities here.

Earning Reports.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Wheeling Steel Corporation and subsidiaries reported net profit of $6,443,739, against $1,028,918 in 1927.

Net earnings of Raybestos Co. last year set a record at $1,188,064, equivalent to $9.60 a share, compared with $863,945, or $7.01 in 1927.

Net earnings from railway and lake steamers of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. for the year ended Dec. 31, last, totaled $51,634,452. After the payment of all dividends declared for the year the surplus from earnings of railway and lake steamers and special income was $14,892,257.

Thompson Products, Inc., reports net earnings after all charges for 1928 of $1,074,821, equivalent to $4.13 per share, as compared to $914,490, or $3.53 per share in 1927.

The Maytag Co. reported net profit for the year ended Dec. 31, 1928, of $5,336,710.31, the equivalent of $2.39 a share of the 1,608,293 common shares outstanding.

New earnings of the National Cash Register Co. for 1928 were $7,817,571, the equivalent of $5.21 per share, and nearly $800,000 more than in 1927.

New York Sugar.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Raw sugar was easier early today. Prices declined 1-32c to 3.71c for spots duty paid under increased offerings of nearby supplies. Sales included about 100,000 bags of Cuban and 25,000 bags of Porto Rican to local refiners at the quoted price.

Raw futures opened 1 point lower to 1 point higher but reacted under renewed hedge selling and liquidation by tired longs, promoted by the easier spot tone. The list at midday was net unchanged to 1 point lower. Selling seemed to be concentrated in old crop deliveries. The new crops held relatively steady on outside buying.

Refined was unchanged at 4.90 for fine granulated, with good withdrawals but no new business.

Liverpool Spot Lower.

LIVERPOOL, March 12.—Spot quiet; prices lower; American strict good middling 11.87d; good middling 11.47d; strict middling 11.27d; middling 11.07d; strict low middling 10.82d; low middling 10.57d; strict good ordinary 10.17d; good ordinary 9.77d. Cotton Exchange Seat $45,000.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The New York Cotton Exchange membership of John W. Geary Jr., Boston, was sold to John H. McFadden Jr., vice president of the exchange, for $45,000 equaling the record price and an advance of $4000 over the previous sale. This is the third sale at advancing prices since the exchange announced last Friday it would grant corporation membership privileges.

New York Coffee.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Coffee, spot steady; demand light; Rio No. 7, 18¼c; Santos, No. 4, 24⅜c; Rio futures closed easy; approximated sales, 27,000 bags; March 16.65; May 16.60; July 15.05; Sept. 14.50; Dec. 14.17. Subscripion Time Limit Set.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Secretary Mellon announced that subscriptions for the issue of the 4½ per cent treasury certificates of indebtedness dated March 15, and maturing next Dec. 15, will be closed at the close of business today. The practice of accepting mail subscriptions received on the morning following the closing of the books will not be observed in connection with the present offering.

London Wool Auction.

LONDON, March 12.—The offerings at the wool auction sales today amounted to 9888 bales of which 7000 were sold. There was fair competition for fine greases but scoureds were irregular and in buyers' favor. Slipes were in brisk demand and American dealers took a few lots of fine quality.

COTTON FUTURES CLOSE UNCHANGED TO LOWER

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 12.—After an opening advance, cotton today turned reactionary on reports of beneficial rains in the Southwest. Selling was attributed chiefly to liquidation of Wall street or commission house long accounts, and trading became comparatively quite on the decline to nearly the 21c level for May contracts, which brought in some covering and renewed buying. The midafternoon market was steady, with prices ruling within 2 or 3 points either way of yesterday's closing quotations.

Cotton opened steady today, at an advance of 3 to 12 points, in response to relatively firm cables and renewal of Wall street and commission house buying.

A private report estimating consumption of cotton in this country for February at 594,000 bales, against 572,875 last year, no doubt contributed to the advance, which carried May up to 21.32c and the new October contract to 20.51c, or about 9 to 13 points above yesterday's closing quotations in the early trading.

Realizing was in sufficient volume to check the advance at these figures, but the market was steady, within 5 or 6 points of the best.

Private cable reported trade calling with London and Bombay buying in Liverpool and said that more cotton cloth sales were reported for China.

Buying tapered off later in the morning and prices sagged under further realizing, which may have been combined with some local selling for a reaction. May eased off to 21.20c and the new October contract to 20.30c. The active months ruled a point or two below yesterday's closing quotations at midday.

Futures closed steady; unchanged to 10 points lower: March 21.10-11c; May 21.11-13c; July 20.65-66c; Oct. 20.38-39c; Dec. 20.39-40c. Spot quiet; middling 21.35c.

Crushed Cottonseed Report.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The Census Bureau announced today that cottonseed crushed from Aug. 1 to Feb. 28 totaled 4,230,549 tons, compared with 4,028,539 tons for the same period of 1928, and cottonseed on hand at mills on Feb. 28 totaled 646,849, compared with 483,157 a year previous.

Crude oil products, 1,323,254,856 pounds, compared with 1,263,036,767 pounds last year and 125,899,952 pounds on hand, compared with 161,127,450 a year previous.

Refined oil produced, 1,100,475,389 pounds, compared with 992,089,257 pounds last year, and on hand, 567,278,987 pounds, compared with 568,666,530 pounds a year ago.

WHEAT CLOSES STRONG ON THE CHICAGO BOARD

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 12.—Wheat advanced abrupty today toward the last, influenced by scarcity of offerings and by increased purchasing on the part of houses with connections Southwest. High winds threatening damage from soil blowing were reported at a number of points in domestic wheat trade. A comprehensive summary covering foreign countries was taken as implying more or less damage to winter wheat abroad. It was announced that a special meeting of representatives of farm organizations has been called to convene next Monday in Des Moines to draft a farm relief program for submission to Congress.

Wheat closed strong 2⅝c to 2¾c net higher, Corn ⅛c to ⅝@¾c advanced, Oats ⅝c to ⅝@¾c up. And provisions showing gains varying from 2 to 17c.

Owing largely to reports of better crop conditions prevailing Southwest, downturns in wheat values here formed the rule today during the early dealings.

At noon wheat and corn both were ranging from ¼c net decline to ¼c advance.

The forecast, however, pointed to likelihood of strong winds developing again in Kansas and Nebraska. Opening ¼c to ⅝c off, wheat afterward kept near to the initial figures. Corn and oats also were easier, with corn starting at ⅛c to ⅝c to ⅝c decline, but subsequently showing some power to rally. Provisions inclined upward.

In addition to word of improved weather Southwest helping crop prospects, wheat bears derived advantage also at times today from reports that for the present at least Argentina appears to have control of European markets. In this connection, Liverpool comment received telling of large receipts, as well as of small demand together with increased deliveries. Meanwhile, consumer call abroad was restricted by the fact that thick ice in European rivers and canals still crippled transportation.

There was attention given to talk that the open interest in wheat here was at the highest point of late, suggesting a persistent intention to maintain big future delivery holdings until farm relief legislation has been enacted.

A quarterly dividend of 50 cents, payable April 15 to stock of record April 1, was declared on common stock of the Davenport Hosiery Mills, Inc., Chattanooga, Tenn.

CRUDE OIL PRODUCTION DROP REPORTED BY JOURNAL

TULSA, Ok., March 12.—An average daily decrease of 40,757 barrels in the crude oil production of the country in the week ended March 9 was attributed by the Oil and Gas Journal today largely to the proration agreement in effect in the Seminole field of Oklahoma. Nearly all fields, however, showed lower production.

The deep-well field of Santa Fe Springs, Cal., which had boosted production to record hieghts in recent months, showed a decline of 2000 barrels last week.

Oklahoma fields showed a decrease of 32,680 barrels.

DENIES FOKKER AIRCRAFT CONTROL TO BE ACQUIRED

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Reports current in Wall Street today that control of the Fokker Aircraft Corporation of America, among other companies, would be acquired by the recently organized aviation corporation were denied by James A. Talbot, chairman of the board of the Fokker Company.

"There is no truth in the report that the Fokker Aircraft Corporation is being absorbed by the Aviation Corporation or any other company," said Mr. Talbot. "Control rests with myself and my associates and is not for sale."

CORPORATION REPORTS

NEW YORK, March 12.—The Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Co. of Buffalo reported net operating losses for 1928 today of $1,293,025 as compared with $783,200 in 1927. The total number of cars and trucks sold during the year was 6491 as compared with 6786 the previous year. A. R. Erskine, chairman, stated in the annual report that when the Studebaker Corporation acquired control last August, the Pierce-Arrow Co. was in the eight-cylinder market with a six-cylinder car. That it was necessary to liquidate all inventories, and price reductions even below manufacturing costs were required. He explained that the liquidation was practically completed by Dec. 31, and the new line of straight eights was put into production in January.

The Pittsburg Plate Glass Co. reported 1928 profit of $8,468,773, equal to $3.90 a share, against $6,430,355 in 1927.

Phelps Dodge Corporation, copper producer, reported net earnings of $10,077,451 nearly three times as great as its 1927 net of $3,623,582.

SHARES SOLD NEW YORK, March 12.—Total sales on the New York Stock Exchange were 3,061,750 shares, compared with 3,626,850 yesterday, 4,430,000 a week ago and 3,913,400 a year ago. Total shares from Jan. 1 to date were 230,076,280 shares, compared with 132,084,700 a year ago and two years ago, 106,750,200.

BANK OF AMERICA STOCK SOARS $30

New York Institution Issue Bid $279—Rumor Other Banks Seeking It.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Stocks of the Bank of America, controlled by the A. P. Giannini interests, soared $30 a share today above yesterday's closing price on rumors that several of the largest New York banks were seeking it in their expansion programs. The stock was quoted as high as $279 bid, $284 asked.

Several offers for control of the bank are reported to have been made in the last few days, but as far as could be learned no deal has been closed. Mr. Giannini, head of the Trans-America Corporation, holding company of the Giannini enterprises, is in New York. Efforts to seek confirmation from him of the reports have been of no avail.

A lively contest for banking supremacy has developed in Wall street, particularly since the $2,000,000,000 merger of the Guaranty Trust Co. and the National Bank of Commerce two weeks ago.

The Bank of America, with resources of more than $416,000,000 and a record of operations going back 117 years, has been regarded as a probable factor in a new consolidation. The Chase National Bank is said to be likely to acquire it. This would result in a new banking combination with resources of $1,847,112,412, compared with resources slightly graeter than that reported at the end of 1928 by the National City Bank, at that time the biggest bank in the country.

The Goldman Sachs Trading Corporation also is said to have made a bid for the Bank of America. Goldman Sachs recently acquired control of the Manufacturers Trust Co. through merger with the Financial and Industrial Securities Corporation.

$10,900,000 GERMAN GOLD ON WAY, WALL STREET HEARS

NEW YORK, March 12.—A shipment of $10,900,000 in gold from Germany, the first of major size since May, 1924, from that country, was reported in Wall street to be on its way to New York.

The cable rate for the German mark has slumped to 23.72¾, compared to 23.74, which is generally considered as the point where gold can be imported profitably. The Reichsbank statement of March 7 shows a decrease of approximately $11,000,000 in gold coin and bullion.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The Boston and Maine Railroad resumed dividends on the old 6 per cent preferred stock today when the directors declared a quarterly dividend of $1.50. Nothing has been paid on this stock since 1920, when $6.67 was paid, covering the period from Jan. 1, 1919, to Aug. 31, 1920, at the rate $4 a year, to which the dividend rate was reduced for the period from 1919 to 1923, inclusive, under the reorganization of 1919. The dividend is payable April 1 to stock of record March 15.

To Retire Bond and Preferred Issues.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The Foote-Burt Co., Cleveland, manufacturer of drilling machines, will reduce its capital structure to common stock through retirement of all funded debt and one remaining preferred issue. The company has called for redemption on April 1 all outstanding class A $3.50 cumulative dividend stock at $55 a share. First mortgage bonds will be retired June 1.

COPPER MOUNTS TO 20C

NEW YORK, March 12.—Copper mounted to 20c a pound today, a jump of ½c, after publication of the American Metal Bureau's statistics for February, showing a further drop in stocks of the red metal on hand at refineries. Several million pounds were reported sold at the 20c for July delivery to domestic points.

The price mounted to 19½ cents little over a week a go, a gain of three cents since Jan. 1. The 20-cent level is about 7 cents above the prevailing price at the beginning of 1928.

On Road's Executive Committee.

NEW YORK, March 12.—John J. Pelley, new president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, today was elected a member of the railroad's executive committee. Edw. G. Buckland, chairman of the board of directors, was named chairman of the Hartford & New York Transportation Co., a subsidiary, and J. Howland Gardner was elected president.

U. S. BONDS AGAIN TOUCH NEW LOWS

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 12.—United States Government obligations continued under pressure in today's bond market, and carried a sprinkling of other issues into new low territory for the year. Trading was on a restricted scale and most of the changes were fractional. Time money was firm.

With the closing of subscriptions for the new Treasury 4¾ per cent $475,000,000 offering tomorrow, traders are looking for a revival of buying in the Government issues next week.

The feature of today's investment market was the placing of a $65,166,000 issue of Southern Pacific Railroad 40-year 4½ per cent bonds, carrying stock purchase warrants. This offering is in line with the recent Atchison financing through convertible debentures.

Declines were registered in such speculative issues as American International 5½s and Atchison 4½s, both declining to their lowest prices since their admission to trading.

New lows for 1929 in the rails were established by Western Pacific first 5s and Frisco prior lien 4s A. General Motors acceptance 6s ranged from 102⅛ to 101⅝, closing at 101¾, a net loss of ⅛ point.

Chilean bonds were at fractionally lower levels, except the 7s of '42 which were ⅞ point net up. At the close Frisco prior lien 4s A were unchanged from previous close.

GENERAL MOTORS REPORTED AS BUYING OPEL COMPANY

BERLIN, March 12.—The Telegrafen Union reports the sale for 125,000,000 marks of the Opel Co. to General Motors. Alfred Sloan, president of General Motors, was said to be at Ruesselheim to open headquarters. All shares of the German company, capitalized for 60,000,000 marks, were held by the Opel family. The plant has a capacity of 500 automobiles and 5000 bicycles daily.

FARM LOAN RATE RAISED BY FEDERAL LAND BANK

The Federal Land Bank of St. Louis has announced that the loan rate has been raised to 5¼ per cent from 5 per cent, effective immediately on all new loans approved. The present condition of the bond market caused the increase. This is the first change in rate since 1926. The bank here extends loans in Missouri, Illinois and Arkansas.

Wall Street News and Comment

NEW YORK, March 11.—Stocks of refined copper in North and South America decreased in February to 55,213 tons at the end of the month from 62,749 tons at the end of January and 65,466 at the end of December, the American Bureau of Metal Statistics reports. Shipments last month decreased to 148,921 tons, including 50,150 tons for export, compared with 157,189 tons in January.

While business in machine tools continues above normal, taking the industry as a whole, buying is not quite so spirited as earlier in the year, says American Machinist. Demand from the railroads shows signs of steady improvement. In the automobile industry, the call for equipment has subsided somewhat, due largely to heavy sales booked in January and February.

Stocks of slab zinc decreased in February from 45,418 tons on Feb. 1 to 40,420 at the end of the month, the American Zinc Institute, Inc., reports. Production in the month was 48,154 tons against shipments of 52,952.

New building and engineering work contracted for in the 37 States east of the Rocky Mountains, as compiled by F. W. $65,000,000 ISSUE BY SOUTHERN PACIFIC

Forty Year, 4 1-2 Per Cent Bonds Proceeds for Redemption and Other Purposes.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The Southern Pacific company has announced the forthcoming issue, subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission, of $65,966,000 40-year 4½-per-cent bonds with stock purchase warrants.

In view of the growing popularity of stocks as long-term investment, each $1000 bond will carry a nondetachable warrant entitling the holder to purchase at any time on or before May 1, 1934, three shares of the common stock of the company at $145 a share, plus accrued dividend at the then current rate. Southern Pacific has outstanding $372,380,906 out of a total of $394,451,800 authorized common stock.

The bonds will not be redeemable during the five years privilege of purchasing stocks. They will be redeemable on May 1, 1934, or on any semiannual interest date thereafter up to May 1, 1964, at 105 and accrued interest, and thereafter at their principal amount plus a premium equal to ½ per cent for each six months between the redemption date and the date of maturity.

Proceeds of the issue will be applied to the redemption on June 1, 1929, of $53,815,760 of the company's 4-per-cent convertible bonds maturing on that date, and for other corporate purposes. Net income of the company in 1928 amounted to $39,876,000 after all charges.

The bonds will be offered to shareholders to the extent of 17½ per cent of their holding, as registered on the company's books on April 8, 1929, at 94 and accrued interest.

New Securities

NEW YORK, March 12.—National Toll Bridge Co., through J. G. White & Co., will offer $2,100,000 of 6 per cent convertible bonds, exchangeable for Class A stock. Proceeds of this issue, together with previous junior financing, is for the purpose of completing three toll bridges now being constructed by subsidiary companies.

Lexington Telephone Co., through Hoagland, Allum & Co., Inc., and William R. Compton Co., offers $2,500,000 of first mortgage 6 per cent bonds with stock purchase warrants attached at 99½ and interest to yield over 6 per cent.

Public offerings of $40,000,000 of its preferred stock Wednesday was announced by Electric Shareholdings Corporation, newly formed investment trust for American public utility securities formerly held by the late Capt. Alfred Lowenstein, Belgian financier. The securities are being purchased from the Hydro-Electric Securities Corporation, of which Capt. Lowenstein was president, and Central States Electric Corporation.

General Motors Acceptance Corporation Report.

By the Associated Press.

MURDER CHARGE DROPPED AGAINST MICHAEL MEEKER

Assistant Prosecutor Says Wife Who Accused Man of Killing Son for Insurance Cannot Testify.

A charge of first-degree murder against Michael L. Meeker was dismissed in Circuit Judge Mulloy's court yesterday afternoon. Meeker was accused by his wife of having shot and killed his 14-year-old son, Michael Jr., in St. Louis County July 4, 1927, in order to collect $45000 insurance.

The charge, which was filed last November, was dismissed on motion of the Prosecuting Attorney. Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Noble, who handled the dismissal, said the action was taken because the law forbids a woman to testify against her husband, pointing out that the only tangible evidence in the case was Mrs. Meeker's sworn statement. Prosecuting Attorney Castlen stated "that was one of the reasons," but otherwise was noncommittal.

Mrs. Meeker made charges at Ithaca, N. Y., that her husband killed his son in St. Louis County to collect $4500 insurance on the boy. She related that the boy told her he was shot by his father before he died. Meeker told authorities that he and his son were held up at Clayton and Price roads and the boy was shot by a robber. The boy was not seriously wounded, but died later of tetanus, which developed from the bullet wounds.

Mrs. Meeker, who kept house for Meeker and his children prior to her marriage to Meeker, said her husband told her he would kill his son and that she begged him not to do so.

Meeker was brought back to St. Louis from Dryden, N. Y., last November. He denied that he had killed his son, stating that his wife had brought the charge against him in an effort to obtain his property. He was released on $10,000 bond in December.

DIES OF FRACTURED SKULL

How Frank Supple Was Injured Is Undetermined.

An inquest will be held in an effort to determine the manner in which Frank Supple, 50 years old, received a fracture of the skull, from which he died at City Hospital early today. Supple was found unconscious in bed in his room at the New Orleans Hotel, 12½ North Third street, yesterday.

Three Suffocated by Gas.

MARIETTA, O., March 12.—Three men were found dead in a bedroom here yesterday, apparently killed by gas. Beside the bed on which the bodies were discovered were several empty liquor bottles. Flame in a gas stove in the bedroom apparently had been blown out.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity. also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications.

A Piece of Her Mind

By Elsie McCormick

HER FIRST CAKE

I AM beginning to discover for myself that the things which most swell one's pride are accomplishments outside the range of one's usual line of work. Most of our citizens know this already, but, being a person who had never gone in for burnt leather, homemade batik or the making of wax flowers, I have just succeeded in Columbusing the idea.

What led to this belated realization has been the glow of pride which overwhelmed me during my current experiments in the production of cake. Phidias folding his arms and standing back in admiration before his great Athena could not have known a larger sense of self-satisfaction than I did when I pulled my maiden confectionery out of the vitals of the gas stove.

I felt, indeed, that it was almost too sacred to eat and that it ought to have been carried away and placed reverently in a cornerstone. The first one would have made a very good cornerstone too; much better than some of the flimsy concrete ones that go into our modern buildings.

I can see now the advantage of the amateur idea in the field of sports and other avocations. It really secures to the person concerned the sweetest fruits of his achievement. Somehow, accepting money seems to take the edge off the accomplishment and to remove much of the creative joy. If any neighbor, entranced by the odors from the kitchenette, should have arranged to buy my output of cakes, I would no longer have felt the same joy in my creative art. Fortunately, none of them did.

Two other cakes have come out of the oven since the first one, so I am becoming a practiced hand. There would have been even more than two, except for the fact that my cakes have, along with their other good points, a gift for unusual longevity.

The only difficulty about following out this new accomplishment has been the confusing terms that one discovers in a cook book. For instance, slightly giddy from the success of the cake efforts, I resolved to try my hand at cookies. Half way along in the directions I suddenly came upon these words: "Mix the dough and drop it on a baking sheet."

* * *

THAT stopped me right off. I have heard of linen sheets, muslin sheets, and the green silk sheets that the press agent says Norma Talmadge sleeps on, but thus far in my career I have failed to encounter a baking sheet. Dictionaries do not help in such matters, as they all seem to have been written by gentlemen who know of kitchens only by hearsay.

If the cook book fails me I am quite sunk, for it happens that my cooking is not at all inspirational. I follow printed directions with great care; indeed, I usually have the book so persistently before me that after I have used the recipe a few times I do not have to read the list of ingredients. All of them are on the page in person

Going back to cook-book phrases and the nomenclature of foods, I might remark that I am frequently mystified. I have wondered, for instance, about the proper name of that shredded cabbage which is so often wished on us because of the accursed presence of vitamines in its midst. It is "cole slaw" to some cook books and "cold slaw" to others. In a fine blaze of fair-mindedness my dictionary gives both.

Somehow I would like very much to know which is right. Can it be that this hybrid salad was invented by a Mr. Cole? Feeling as I do about the dish, I heartily approve of the compositor who began the custom of demoting him to lower case. I'd print his name in smaller type, too, if I had my way about it.

However, this antagonism need trouble me no longer, as my doctor has very considerately included cole (cold) slaw among the verbotens. Incidentally, I am about the only living person who has been forbidden to eat spinach, which shows that now and then I get a good break.

I also wish that some cook-book editor or menu expert would find a new name for filet mignon. Although I know better, I have absent mindedly ordered it again and again and then been thoroughly startled when it did not turn out to be a fish.

Simple Science for Everybody

By Colin G. Welles, Ph. D.

ASBESTOS

JUST when we civilized folks began most to need it, we found asbestos.

In the very nick of time, when we began to melt metals in fiery furnaces and to use red hot machinery in thousands of factories, we learned of a substance which could be obtained from ordinary rock that would protect us from heat because it neither burns nor melts.

Asbestos is used practically everywhere today. In our homes, we have it in our kitchens in the shape of "hot handles" and it shields the pipes of our furnaces. Sometimes it is built into the very walls of our houses to make them fireproof.

When the earth's crust first hardened into rock, millions and millions of years ago, some of the veins in the rock were filled with a stuff called serpentine. It is this serpentine which is the mother of asbestos.

Mined from rock in Georgia and Canada, serpentine is ground up into soft white pulpy stuff which is very light and quite tough. The pulp is then broken up, cleaned, and carded like wool for weaving into cloth. Ordinarily, fine wires are woven into the cloth with the threads of asbestos, which, being rock crystal, would otherwise be too brittle to be durable.

There are two other kinds of asbestos which are also mined from serpentine, but from a poorer quality, found in Arizona and other places. It is impossible to weave these poorer qualities into cloth, and so they are used in making fireproof building paper.

All sorts of things from stage screens to firemen's suits and shingles are made from the ancient rock which, millions of years after it first crystallized into the great crust of the earth, has come to be counted one of the blessings of civilization. Indeed, we could scarcely get along without it.

Orangeade

Always a refreshing drink to go with the party sandwiches. Two cups sugar, one quart water, three cups orange juice, one cup lemon juice. Boil sugar and water for five minutes, adding the rinds of the oranges. Strain, chill, add fruit juices and dilute to taste with ice water. This is a sufficient quantity for 12 glasses.

Apples will tarnish if allowed to stand in the air after they have been peeled. But if covered with water and stored in the icebox they will not discolor.

PROOF OF DYES

Words won't dye a dress, or coat, or sweater. It takes real anilines to do that. That's why Diamond Dyes contain from three to five times more anilines than any other dye—by actual test.

It's the anilines in Diamond Dyes that do the work; that give the colors such brilliance; such depth and permanence. It's real aniline that keeps them from giving things that re-dyed look; from spotting or streaking.

Next time you have dyeing to do, try Diamond Dyes. Then compare results. See how soft, bright, new-looking the colors are. Observe how they keep their brilliance. Your dealer will refund your money if you don't agree Diamond Dyes are better dyes.

The white package of Diamond Dyes is the original "all-purpose" dye for any and every kind of material. It will dye or tint silk, wool, cotton, linen, rayon or any mixture of materials. The blue package is a special dye, for silk or wool only. With it you can dye your valuable articles of silk or wool with results equal to the finest professional work. When you buy—remember this. The blue package dyes silk or wool only. The white package will dye every kind of goods, including silk and wool. Your dealer has both packages.

THE GARDEN IN SPRINGTIME

(National Garden Bureau)

FOR THE HEALTH'S SAKE.

THE modern study of the chemistry of food has proved that vegetables are a necessity in the diet for the maintenance of good health and normal bodily functions. It has also been shown that the diet of a very large proportion of people is deficient in vegetables, particularly green vegetables.

One of the necessary elements in the body is iron, particularly in the blood. Vegetables will supply the need. Inasmuch as the animals which live upon vegetables exclusively seem less liable to anemia than the animals which are meat eaters, chemists have decided that vegetables furnish a sufficient quantity of this element. The fresh vegetables which are usually regarded as not providing much nourishment such as spinach and cabbage, furnish valuable mineral elements and among them iron. String beans, carrots, turnips, sweet corn and peas also furnish iron.

The iron is most available when these vegetables are fresh and the one means of being certain of vegetables which are fresh and contain the full value of these valuable minerals is to grow them in the home garden. Chemists have discovered that women and children require a larger supply of iron than men so these vegetables are of unusual importance in their diet. Scientists say that the percentage of iron in the human system is three times as high at birth as it is at maturity. When the child is a little more than a year old it is necessary to provide food sufficiently rich in iron to maintain the supply. This is one of the reasons why spinach has been found an important factor in the diet of infants.

Fresh spinach is one of the most easily grown of the early spring vegetables and its quality suffers after it stands in the market. While iron is furnished by other foods such as eggs, meat and the cereals, it is provided in its most easily assimilated form in the green vegetables. The spinach patch in the spring garden is valuable both for the children and the grownups in toning up the system.

Spinach, a Wonderful Spring Tonic, Is One of the Easiest Grown of the Early Vegetables.

NAMES OF MARRIED WOMEN

By Dorothy Frooks

WHEN a woman marries a man she assumes his name. She is entitled to place the Mrs. before his full name and use it in her business life as well as her social life. Her husband's name is part of the marriage status. Since women have become economically independent, they have questioned themselves whether it would be to their best interests to accept the names of their husbands. A woman who has a name that is well known looks askance upon the change to another name which has no significance to the outside world. After all, a woman's name is her trade mark. Whether she uses an alias or nom de plume or her maiden name, if she is in business and known by a particular name, it would be to her advantage to maintain the use of the name under which she is known.

When a man and a woman are married and the condition of names interferes with the recognition of the marriage, there are adjustments to be considered for the sake of rules of propriety. No husband can insist that a wife use his name. It has been known, however, that husbands have restrained ex-wives from the use of the marriage name. There have been cases where husbands in contemplation of divorce have taken out injunctions prohibiting the wife from using the husband's name for certain kinds of work.

Recently a couple who were married registered at a hotel. The husband inscribed his name and the name his wife used. The clerk saw the two distinct names on the book. He refused to give them a room. He stated that the rules of the hotel did not permit a couple, using different names, although in fact married, to use one room.

There are rules of convention that independent people must observe. If a married couple are to share the same room, and it is imperative that the wife's trade name be exhibited, then the wife should have her name inserted as well as the Mr. and Mrs. Every hotel is willing to co-operate so that the wife does not lose any business. To avoid the difficulty, the husband and wife can be registered for one room. The wife, under her assumed name, can register for a separate room. In this way there is no irregular appearance on the hotel register. Hotels are obliged to show their registers to any one who wants to see them.

The woman who knows that she is shielded with the certificate of marriage should hesitate to put herself in the position where she would be questioned. The law may be with her, but propriety is still the mark of civilization. Exploiting the situation does not make marriage any different. When a woman is with her husband at a hotel she is away from her outside interests. If her appearance and identity must be known then the decorous thing to do is to register on another line in the hotel register.

New Skin Beauty

Sallow, Dingy Skin made Lovely —Coarse Pores become Fine— It corrects oily skin, heals eruptions and dissolves blackheads

The newest discovery in beauty culture is that creamed magnesia is much better for the complexion than any soap or cleansing cream. It beautifies the skin instantly, in the same easy way that milk of magnesia purifies the stomach. This is because skin impurities are acid. Doctors treat acid inside the body with milk of magnesia. And now, dermatologists are getting amazing results in banishing complexion faults with creamed magnesia. All you do is anoint your skin with it, massage and rinse with water. It's as simple as washing your face.

It reduces enlarged pores to the finest, smoothest texture almost as if by magic. Being astringent, it drives away the tell-tale signs of age. You will marvel at the effect of your first five-minute facial massage. It rejuvenates the skin so quickly that any woman can look lovely tonight, years younger. It's marvelous how magnesia dissolves blackheads, clears eruptions and corrects oily skin.

And because it is so mild, mothers use it instead of soap to bathe infants. It certainly is a blessing as a face wash for fine, sensitive skins that soap so easily irritates and coarsens. Being greaseless, it cannot fatten the face or grow hair. It removes make-up and extracts impurities deep-set in the pores better than soap or cold cream. It changes dull, sallow skin to radiant clearness and fades out freckles better than a bushel of lemons. Test it on those clogged nose pores that stand out so boldly. Let it whiten your neck. It will also keep your hands soft and white. Until recently, creamed magnesia was used only by New York doctors' wives, and nurses. But now the large druggists everywhere find it hard to keep enough on hand to supply the demand. To get genuine creamed magnesia, ask for Denton's Facial Magnesia. Remember, five minutes works wonders. So, get your magnesia today and look lovely tonight. It costs almost nothing to try. It's Guaranteed!

Creamed Magnesia clears the skin in the same easy way that milk of magnesia purifies the stomach

No More Ugly Nose Pores

DENTON'S Facial Magnesia

Makes poor skin lovely—keeps fine skin fine

NOTE: Do not hesitate to try this marvelous skin treatment at once. Thousands of delighted women have written they could not believe anything so simple could be so wonderful. But they were convinced when they saw so many friends suddenly get lovely complexions.

COUSIN JACK FOOLS KING EAGLE

It courage takes to fool the king.
—Old Mother Nature.

* * *

BOWSER THE HOUND had come sniffling along the old stone wall and sent Peter scurrying to safety down between the stones. Bowser sniffed at the opening between the stones. Those sniffs sent little creepy feelings all over Peter. However, Bowser knew that Peter was quite safe there and so he wasted no time; but after sniffing a short way beyond, he turned and went back to Farmer Brown's dooryard. Almost at once, Peter popped his head out. He was anxious to know if Wanderer the Evening Grosbeak was still in the apple tree close by. He was, for, of course, he was not afraid of Bowser the Hound.

"If you please," said Peter, "has my cousin, Jack Rabbit, of whom you have been telling me, any enemies out there in the West?"

"I should say so!" exclaimed Wanderer. "Do you know of any member of your family who doesn't have a lot of enemies?"

Peter shook his head sadly. "No," said he, "I don't."

"Well, your Cousin Jack has just as many as you have," said Wanderer. "And he has one or two that you don't have. There's King Eagle, for instance. I don't see King Eagle bothering you any."

"He doesn't bother me any," replied Peter. "I have never had to dodge King Eagle in my life. However, he doesn't live very near here and I suppose that is one reason."

"Well, your Cousin Jack out on the prairie—especially over near the mountains—has to keep an eye out for King Eagle all the time. With all his speed, King Eagle can move faster. You would be surprised to see King Eagle twist and turn in the air when he is following Jack Rabbit. I've seen some races of that kind that were worth watching."

"Does Cousin Jack dodge?" Peter inquired.

"I wish you could see him," replied Wanderer.

"I wish I could," said Peter.

"I watched King Eagle after Jack one day and I certainly thought that Jack's jumping days were over. But Jack knew what he was about. Yes, sir, Jack knew what he was about. There were two or three bushes some distance away and Jack headed for those bushes. King Eagle swooped for him and the way he shot down made me think that in a moment or two I would see the last of Jack. But at just the right minute Jack dodged."

There were two or three bushes some distance away and Jack headed for those bushes.

Peter nodded his head approvingly. "That's my trick," said he. "It's a good trick."

"King Eagle wheeled almost as quickly as Jack dodged and was after him again. That thing happened two or three times," continued Wanderer. "Each time King Eagle swooped I expected to see him fly away with that long-eared, long-legged cousin of yours gripped in his great claws. But each time I was happily disappointed. Then Jack reached the bushes and dodged under one of them and there he squatted."

"What did King Eagle do?" asked Peter eagerly.

"Screamed with disappointment and flew away," replied Wanderer. "He knew better than to try to get Jack under those bushes. Jack will do that every time if there are any bushes near. But he doesn't try it with Old Man Coyote. He just trusts to those long legs of his when Old Man Coyote gets after him. However, Old Man Coyote doesn't waste his breath very often in trying to run down Jack Rabbit. It is a lot easier to hunt members of Yap Yap's family."

Peter pricked up his ears. "Who is Yap Yap?" said he.

Women Seek to Buy Land in Palestine

WITH the launching of a program to raise $60,000 to apply on the purchase of 625 acres of Haifa Bay land, Hadassah, the Women's Zionist organization of America, is making its first effort to acquire a tract of land in Palestine.

The raising of the fund will be accomplished through the Jewish National Fund Council of Hadassah, of which Mrs. Frieda Gilbert Ullian of Detroit is national chairman. Heretofore the council, which is the women's division of the Jewish National Fund, the Zionist land purchasing agents in Palestine, confined itself to contributing to the general fund.

The 625 acres to be purchased by the council will be part of the tract of 8250 acres acquired by the national fund. This land is expected to have considerable value when the construction of a harbor at Haifa is begun in a few months. Hadassah has 285 chapters throughout the country and each one will be assigned its quota in raising the $60,000. The membership of the organization is 41,000.

Now You Can Reduce
2 to 4 Lbs. in a Night

Eat what you please
Wear what you please
Do what you please
Take no risky medicine

Thousands of smart women have found this easy way to take off 2 to 4 pounds once or twice a week. These women take refreshing Fayro Baths in the privacy of their own homes.

Fayro is the concentrate of the same natural mineral salts that make effective the waters of twenty-two hot springs of America, England and Continental Europe. For years the spas and hot springs bathing resorts have been the retreat of fair women and well groomed men.

Excess weight has been removed, skins have been made more lovely, bodies more shapely and minds brighter.

The Hot Springs Are Now Brought to You

Painstaking analyses of the active ingredients of the water from twenty-two of the most famous springs have taught us the secret of their effectiveness. You can now have all these benefits in your own bath. Merely put Fayro into your hot bath. It dissolves rapidly. You will notice and enjoy the pungent fragrance of its balsam, oils and clean salts.

Then, Fayro, by opening your pores and stimulating perspiration forces lazy body cells to sweat out surplus fat and bodily poisons. Add Fayro to your bath at night and immediately you will lose from 2 to 4 pounds in an easy, refreshing and absolutely harmless manner.

Your physician will tell you that Fayro is certain to do the work and that it is absolutely harmless.

Fayro will refresh and help your body throw off worn out fat and bodily poisons. Your skin will be clearer and smoother. You will sleep better after your Fayro bath and awaken feeling as though you had enjoyed a week's vacation.

Lose Weight Where You Most Want to

Fayro reduces weight generally but you can also concentrate its effects on abdomen, hips, legs, ankles, chin or any part of the body you may wish.

Results Are Immediate

Weigh yourself before and after your Fayro bath. You will find you have lost from 2 to 4 pounds and a few nights later when you again add Fayro to your bath you will once more reduce your weight. Soon you will be the correct weight for your height. No need to deny yourself food you really want. No need for violent exercise. No need for drugs or medicines. Merely a refreshing Fayro bath in the privacy of your own home.

Try Fayro at Our Risk

The regular price of Fayro is $1.00 a package. With each package you get an interesting booklet "Health and Open Pores." Your money refunded instantly if you want it.

HERE'S PROOF
Read what Fayro Baths have done for others.
"Three Fayro baths reduced my weight 11 pounds in 8 days. I feel better than I have felt for years."
"I weigh 16 pounds less and feel younger and sleep better. Fayro is wonderful."
"My double chin vanished in the magic of Fayro baths."
"My hips were always too prominent until I commenced Fayro baths. I have lost 18 pounds."
"Thank you for Fayro. I lost 11 pounds in three weeks, feel better and certainly look better."
"Since childhood my thick ankles have always been a source of embarrassment. Fayro baths have reduced them beautifully. Thank you very much."
For obvious reasons, names are not quoted, but every letter published has been authenticated and names and addresses will be given on request

If each healthful bath of Fayro does not reduce your weight from 2 to 4 pounds, we will refund your money without a question. You risk nothing.

THE WAY —OF— A WOMAN

By Marguerite M. Marshall

NAGGING HUSBANDS

"NAGGING wives"—who hasn't heard all about their iniquities? And who (of the feminine gender) hasn't wondered how long men were going to get away with the Great Illusion that women do all the nagging? This particular masculine bluff has been called at last by one valiant and candid woman. Mrs. Mary Elliott has charged in the Yonkers City Court that her husband, Robert, NAGGED her. Ask any wife if Mrs. Elliott's alleged experience is unique!

A husband may not realize that he nags. He may deny the charge vehemently, if he happens to read this piece or to hear it read aloud to him. But "to nag" is defined in the dictionary as "to annoy by petty faultfinding." What else but "petty faultfinding" are many of the husbandly comments on the home food that is set before him? And only his wife knows how much he manages "to annoy" by these comments.

He can be absurdly notional about his meals. None ever cooked is worth the fuss he can make about it—about certain proteins and starches, which he absorbs in a few minutes and which he should have forgotten in another few. A husband's nagging may, and frequently does, begin at the breakfast table—the "sunny" breakfast table.

"Can't you ever get this bacon crisp?" he demands indignantly. "Bran muffins? I hate 'em! This coffee isn't done—well, why didn't you start it sooner? I will not eat an egg unless the white is thoroughly cooked—you ought to know it by this time. Can't you ever have anything else but kippered herring? Your corn bread is always too dry. Some cream they're sending you these days—looks like skim milk to me. For heaven's sake, don't get any more maple syrup of that brand!"

No man, of course, says all of these things every morning. But he is likely to say one or more of them, and, to a woman who has set the alarm clock and risen long before him in order to prepare breakfast as carefully as she can, such faultfinding seems wearisomely petty. Really bad cooking, really unwholesome meals, a man has a right to resent. But when he scolds about unimportant details—why he's nagging, that's all.

* * *

"Why don't you teach Dick better table manners?" he inquires irritably, after the bread-and-milk bowl has been upset. When parents and children eat at the same table, it would seem that Father might share equally with Mother in the inculcation of table etiquette, but he prefers, instead, to put all the responsibility on her and then to nag her for anything that goes wrong.

"I should think you would see to it that these children do more studying," he scolds her.

Again, the obvious answer is that the man who is at home evenings simply passes the buck when he blames his wife for not enforcing, all by herself, the performance of home work. It is easier for him to nag her, when there are more E's and B's on the report cards, than to accept his share of responsibility.

Nagging is easy—that is why too much of it is done by both husband and wife. Petty faultfinding may represent merely the release of nerves too tightly strung by the inescapable irritations and fatigues of modern life, and it is a habit-forming drug. A man and woman may care deeply and genuinely—and yet nag each other. We certainly are not implying that the nagging husband is an unforgivable brute.

Merely we wish to emphasize the fact that he exists, that "to annoy by petty faultfinding" is not a strictly feminine offense, and that the touching picture of the man of the house as more nagged against than nagging is another faked masterpiece.

CLOTHES NOW FOR ALL TYPES

NEW YORK.

The recent Paris openings have presented tailored morning and sport frocks with more variety than it has been believed possible to achieve in these clothes. The ensembles are for the most part simple and well tailored, but they may be either boyish or feminine in line and trimming. It is obvious that the summer ensembles will be made with hip length coats instead of long ones in a great many cases.

The accompanying illustration shows two ensembles of widely differing types. The first, of lightweight tweed in two shades of beige, is boyish. Its simple coat is finished with a narrow collar; its skirt is pleated and its crepe de chine tuck-in blouse is trimmed with strappings of the skirt material. The other ensemble, of navy blue and lemon, is equally simple, but is feminine in line and trimming. Its jacket is finished with a scarf collar, its skirt is cleverly flared and its blouse is finished with bows.

There are some charming suits that are carried out in plain and patterned jersey and crepe de chine, usually with a cardigan jacket in some attractive small patterned lainage, with which there are often bags made of the same material as the jacket. One of these in black crepe de chine has a cardigan and bag of black jersey with a fanciful dot pattern in rose and white.

There are many clever hand-knitted sweaters to wear with simple lainage skirts for golf. The designs of these are most original and in many cases are the work of artists whose ideas have been reproduced in plain and purl in a manner that is very chic.

A summery printed crepe de chine dress in a shadow design in shades of beige has a hip length coat trimmed with a wide shawl collar of nutria. Another model of navy blue and white printed crepe has the coat made with a stitched band of plain navy blue lainage.

Umbrella Handles Unique

The familiar crook umbrella handle of wood or leather, or even of colored composition, is shown in Paris done in crystal and blue glass. This is simulated crystal of strong composition, of course, to withstand a possible fall on a hard floor or pavement. A donkey's head makes the handle of another umbrella, being in natural wood with long ears of leather.

Celery boiled and served with a cream or cheese sauce is a nice change in vegetables that is frequently forgotten.

We had dinner with a prize fighter

We were surprised to watch him eat jelly

WE HAD dinner recently with a famous prize fighter—one of the big fellows noted the world over for his perfect fighting physique. We were interested in seeing what he would eat. We heard him tell one of the waiters to bring a glass of jelly. Before the meal was over, the great fighter cleaned up more than half of that glass of jelly.

That was a practical eye-opener as to the energy value of sugar. The active body of this man craved and needed sweets.

Normal children also are athletes and their energy-consuming bodies hunger for and need sweets. All people whose daily work is of an exhausting, physical nature hunger for and need sweets.

And all others need sugar as an appetizing agent. Sugar develops the flavor of health-giving cereals, of fruits and of vegetables, of milk in milk shakes, and of eggs in egg-nog.

Every grocery store carries pure jams, jellies and preserves, and enough canned fruits and vegetables to bring health to every table. The Sugar Institute.

MADELON BAYARD

Quick Success

Few girls in pictures have made such rapid strides toward success as this charming New Yorker. Just a few months ago she was given her first job, shadowing a star. Within three hours she had a real part in the picture—"The Loves of Sunya."

Miss Bayard says: "I am told my selection was largely due to my perfect skin and lovely hair. I've really never taken much trouble with either. For my hair I use the simple method that most of the girls I know here in New York are so enthusiastic about. It's easy. All you do is put a little Danderine on your brush each time you use it.

"This method is just what a busy girl needs. It's so easy; and it keeps your hair and scalp so clean you don't need to shampoo half so often. I am letting my hair grow and I find Danderine helps make it soft and easily manageable. I can arrange it any way I want and it stays that way. All my friends are complimenting me on the appearance of my hair, nowdays because Danderine has brought out all its natural color and made it so soft and lustrous."

Danderine removes the oily film from each strand and makes dull, stringy hair gleamy, soft, easy to dress. It tones and refreshes the scalp: helps overcome dandruff. It is delicately fragranced; isn't sticky or oily; doesn't show. All drug stores have the generous 35c bottles.

How to Guide A Little Child

By Agnes Lyne

LOVE'S PLACE.

ALL the really important things a child learns he absorbs without at the time being aware that he is doing so.

This is especially true of the experiences by which are shaped the child's attitude toward sex and love. For the child's feelings on this subject are not fixed by those carefully staged moments in which parents solemnly undertake to tell their children the truth about the origin of life.

It is the overtones and undertones of the subject as they are sensed in the day to day life of the home that actually determine his emotional response in later years.

The child who grows up in a home where the demonstration of affection between father and mother is limited to the routine farewell kiss finds it difficult later on to reconcile physical intimacy with his own finest, deepest affections. Subsequent "sex education" often fails to release him from an underlying current of guilt and confusion about physical love.

For this very reason we who are parents today, and who were, for the most part, brought up in prudery and suppression, cannot lose our own guilt feelings. Although life and common sense perhaps have taught us a reasonable attitude as far as our own adjustment is concerned, the old unhappy taboos are almost sure to operate in our dealings with children. We feel vaguely that they must be protected as much as possible from something which is not quite right.

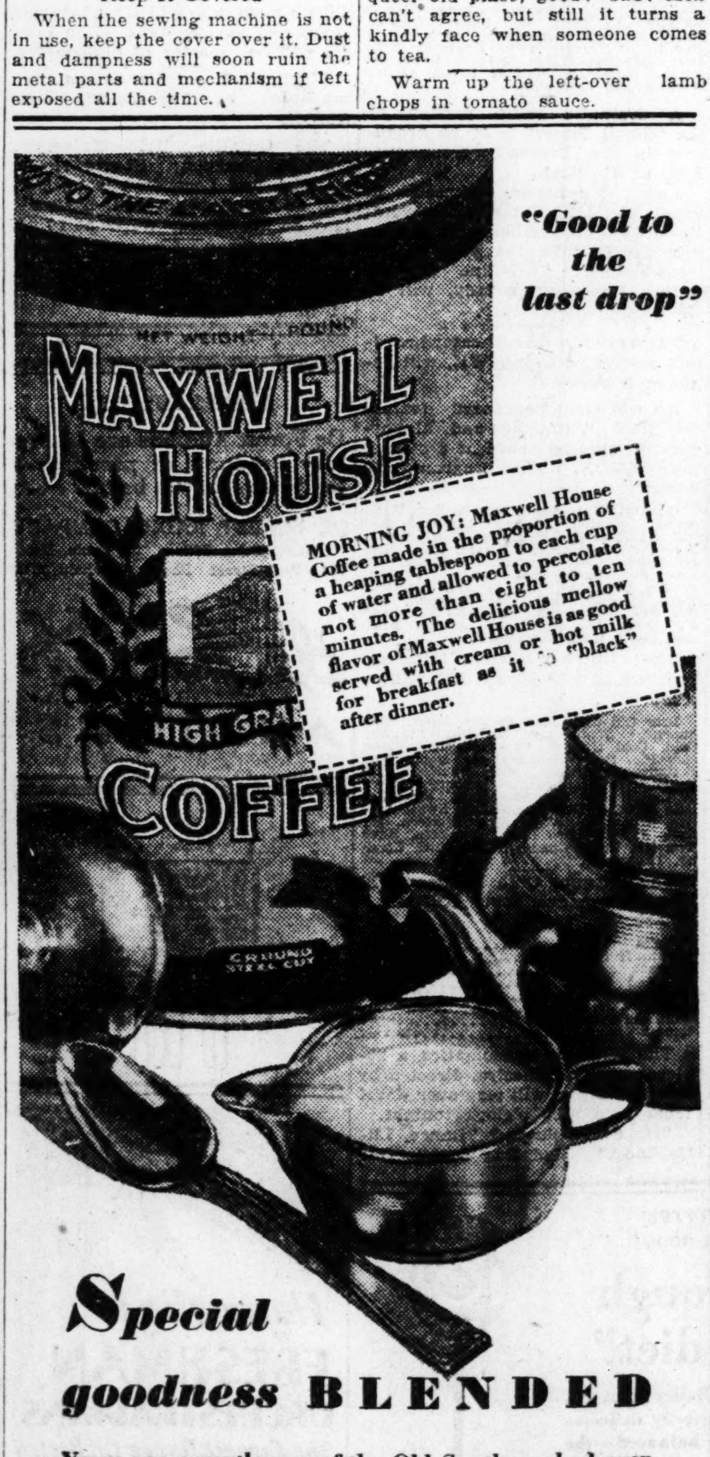
The little child should associate physical warmth and spontaneity with everything that makes his home a serene and happy place. As he grows older, and his knowledge grows, he will be able to realize the facts of sex in relation to his parents without experiencing the shock which many children feel. He will in his own life be less likely to know the unhappiness of a mind in conflict with emotion.

Luncheon Plans

When planning a luncheon menu select the foods which will be harmonious in color to make the service attractive. Chicken mousse or escalloped chicken is yellow, and with buttered green vegetables, as peas or beans, the plates will be effective. Plum, grape or currant jelly also add color.

Keep It Covered

When the sewing machine is not in use, keep the cover over it. Dust and dampness will soon ruin the metal parts and mechanism if left exposed all the time.



"Good to the last drop"

MORNING JOY: Maxwell House Coffee made in the proportion of a heaping tablespoon to each cup of water and allowed to percolate not more than eight to ten minutes. The delicious mellow flavor of Maxwell House is as good served with cream or hot milk for breakfast as it is "black" after dinner.

Special goodness BLENDED

Years ago a gentleman of the Old South worked over the blending of many choice coffee flavors until he achieved the special shade of richness which gives Maxwell House Coffee such character and individuality.

Now Maxwell House has become the best-liked coffee in America—pleasing more people than any other coffee ever offered for sale.

You will want to indulge your family in this particularly good coffee. Your grocer has Maxwell House in tightly sealed tins which preserve to the last spoonful its mellow fragrance and flavor.

MAXWELL HOUSE COFFEE

THE HUMAN BODY

By Dr. Logan Clendening

DISEASES OF SPRING—RICKETS

RICKETTS is most typically a disease of spring. The number of cases increases all through the winter and they reach the highest point in March. Then they decline, and after June practically no new cases are discovered.

It is entirely a disease of infants and children and particularly affects bones. The bones become soft and cannot endure the usual amount of stress, for in the case of the legs they sometimes are unable to bear the weight of the body and bend, so that serious deformities occur. This softness of the bones is due to a defect in the process of laying down lime salts in the growing bone. This process is apparently governed by the presence of a certain substance in the food—one of the vitamins, which is fat soluble and found in many fatty foods, but especially cod liver oil.

Cod liver oil was used for years in medicine as a tonic, particularly for children, before the cause of its efficiency was discovered. In fact many physicians used to scoff at the claims made for it. But in recent years it has been used almost exclusively for rickets both in prevention and treatment. For babies up to the age of three or four years who have to spend their winters in the north and be inside a good deal, cod liver oil is recommended to be given daily from October to May. Hess gives the dose as five drops of the pure refined oil three time a day at the age of one month, increasing the amount until the baby receives one and one-half teaspoons a day at the age of three months.

Sunlight is another thoroughly effective treatment. Rickets is nearly unique as a disease in that we have two specific treatments for it—cod liver oil and sunlight. One seems to be just as good as the other. How sunlight works is not known. Apparently the vitamins which are absent in the body in rickets and are present in cod liver oil can be manufactured by the body in the presence of sunlight. Thus milk which has no antirachitic power can be converted into an effective remedy against rickets by exposing it to irradiation with the X ray or violet ray.

The effect of sunlight is strikingly observed in dark-skinned children who are particularly susceptible to rickets. Negro babies are especially prone to the disease. Their dark pigmented skin prevents the sunlight from filtering through and changing the chemistry of their blood.

Artificial sunlight is nearly as effective as natural sunlight in the treatment and prevention of rickets.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

The World

SOMETIMES the world's a cruel place, unfriendly as can be; again it shows another face, when someone comes to tea. It's strange how such a little thing can wholly change the day, a friend's sweet smile makes pulses sing, drives fret and cares away. Sometimes the hours go lagging by, no mirth, no jollity; the clock's slow ticking seems to sigh till someone comes to tea. When someone comes to tea the fire glows very bright and red, the dancing flames leap higher, higher, to shine on jam and bread. The silver teapot's gleaming spout glows rosy-hued and bright, and when the amber tea pours out it takes a golden light. The world is such a queer old place; good? bad? Men can't agree, but still it turns a kindly face when someone comes to tea.

Girl "Trouble Clerk" Counts on Her Smile

GOING, perhaps, on the principle that "a soft answer-turneth away wrath," the Mayor of Revere (Mass.) has just appointed as official "complaint clerk" a young woman with a charming voice and a persuasive smile.

She is Louise Terminello, 19, but with two years of office experience behind her and poise and dignity beyond her years.

The number of persons who call daily at the City Hall to see the Mayor "personally" is incredible, according to veteran employes. And there are any number who have grievances, legitimate or imaginary, about anything from ash or garbage collection to erroneous tax bills.

Knots Are Decorative

Side by side with the bow which couturiers have literally plastered on dresses for a few seasons is the knot end inspired undoubtedly by Chanel. Several of these often make a hip detail at both sides of a coat or blouse and as often appear in twos and threes down dress fronts or backs. These trimmings are smartest when in self material rather than otherwise.

French Women Learn To Play Stock Market

PARIS bankers say French women have caught the fever of speculation.

In the past, market fluctuations were a closed book for the average thrifty French housewife. Nowadays many women know more about stocks than men. They bring to their transactions an ardor which sometimes leads to success, but more often carries them too far.

Old English Liquid Wax
Old English Wax for FLOORS

Where FLOORS get the hardest WEAR!

THE parts of the floor that your visitors see first—in hallways, around tables, in front of the radio or piano—are the places that get the hardest wear. Now—these places can be just as attractive and beautiful as the rest of your floor. And they can be kept lovely forever with this magic quick polish—Old English Wax.

The Wear is on the Wax

And Old English Wax is so easy to apply—whether your floors are now waxed, varnished, shellaced, painted or linoleum. Just apply a little Old English Wax—allow ten minutes for drying—then polish to glowing beauty with a clean soft cloth or a Waxer-Polisher. That's all—then your floors are safe from mars and dullness.

Because Old English Wax contains such a high percentage of imported carnauba wax—its polish is twice as lustrous and lasting as that given by ordinary floor waxes. Full directions on every can. Sold at hardware, paint, drug, housefurnishing and department stores. Made by The A. S. Boyle Co., Cincinnati, O., U. S. A.

CHAPTER TWENTY.

"Join Hands"

DURING the 40-mile ride from the Gold-Rush dance hall to the door of the Hodge house, neither Dick nor Felicia spoke a word. Her coat wrapped securely about her torn dress, her face pale, Felicia sat in the farthest corner of the car, looking, from time to time, at the set profile of the young man driving.

As they came into the city, Felicia began to cry, soundlessly, but if Dick was aware of her tears, he made no sign. He drew up the car at the curb and sat, without speaking, the engine running.

"Thank you." Felicia's voice was barely audible.

"Goodnight, Dicky."

"Goodnight."

She turned, blinded by her tears, and stumbled into the house. What had she done? She had spoiled the one thing that had any meaning in her life, wrecked her one chance for happiness!

"Mr. Lanier came in and went up to your room. O K" the night clerk greeted him.

Dick nodded. Sam was a good scout—but he didn't want to see Sam; he didn't want to see anyone.

A strange scene greeted him as he opened his door. Sam Lanier, who had found another car when Dick took Felicia in his, was smiling amiably, sitting in a chair, idly turning an automatic over and over in his big hands. J. B., sleepy, but smiling, was sitting in another chair, and Edith Feeley, in street clothes, was weeping bitterly into a handkerchief.

"Oh, Mr. Stuyvesant—"

"Shut up!" Sam's voice was curt; he looked at the woman contemptuously. "Two things always give me a pain; psalm-singing men and crying women." His eyes travelled over Dick's face. "I don't mean to be personal, Stuyvesant, but—is there anything particularly damning among your papers?"

Dick shook his head. There was nothing. He and Felicia had never written to one another . . .

"Then you'd better get out!" Lanier was again addressing Mrs. Feeley. "Spy and blackmailer—you're just about the lowest form of animal life!" He looked at his watch. "There's a train for the East in the morning. Better take that." She had moved eagerly toward the door, and he reached out and caught her arm, swinging her about. "You understand me?" he asked. "Train—for—the—East!"

Dick wondered what Lanier had told J. B. He was a silent cuss, though; at the Gold-Rush, after Dick had found Felicia, Sam had made no comment, asked no question when Dick asked him to get a lift to Reno from someone else.

"I think I'll turn in." He said good-night and went gloomily into his room.

He did not see Felicia for a week; then, again at the Coopers, he was placed beside her at the dinner table. She looked thin, almost haggard.

"What have you been doing?" he asked, in spite of his resolution to say nothing personal.

"Not much. Making friends with my son, mostly—we haven't been together so much in years!"

They were glad when dinner was over.

Dick threw himself into the business of becoming a mine owner. With Sam Lanier, he tramped up and down mountain trails, motored across desert tracks.

"Look here, Dick," J. B. addressed him, abruptly, one day. "You and Felicia are a couple of damned fools!"

Dick stiffened. "I haven't asked for any advice," he said.

"I know you haven't! But you need it and you're going to get it!"

Dick listened sulkily and sulkily thought over J. B.'s words. Well, it wouldn't do any harm to talk frankly with Felicia, as J. B. suggested. It wouldn't make any difference, either, he told himself savagely! But he telephoned her and a meek voice unhesitatingly replied "Yes" when he asked if she would drive with him.

"I've wanted so to—to try to explain," she said earnestly, sitting there in her old place beside him, in the roadster. "Oh, I'm not going to excuse myself! But—if you'll listen, Dick"——

He listened stolidly. But the sound of her voice was sweet to his ears, and the feeling of her nearness made him tremble.

He stopped the car abruptly.

"Oh, damn it all, Felicia, what difference does it make? No matter what you'd done—I love you!" His voice shook with emotion, and suddenly she was in his arms, close against his breast, and he was kissing her lips, her eyes, her hair, straining her against him.

She was crying, softly. "I'm so sorry—so ashamed! Oh, Dick darling . . ."

"And yet it doesn't seem to touch the people who live here—people like Ann and Tom," Felicia puzzled.

"It's because we haven't enough to do, we others," said Dick. "No matter how much we want divorce, there's an inescapable emotional reaction against it. A reaction we feel we must fight. And in fighting it we also somehow undermine our moral reactions. From that, the rest is easy. But you and I, Felicia—we have something that's real and fine, and we must cherish it—and each other."

"I promise, Dick!" Her eyes met his steadily. And suddenly they felt safe, at peace—definitely out of reach of the dangerous side of Reno. They had each had a taste of it; Dick with Betty Rogers, at that ghastly hotel party, Felicia with her college boy. It could not touch them again. They knew—instinctively.

Yet it lingered in the air, this recklessness, this abandonment; hovered like a perfume and descended upon—of all people—the disdainful Alexander Brett, seated alone on the hotel lawn just above Lake Tahoe. He was thinking over the reports he had received of Felicia, weighing them in his mind, wondering if it were really true that she had ceased her affair with Dick Stuyvesant.

He was leaning against a tree, hidden from the hotel by its broad trunk; a thick pine hedge formed an angle just before him, closing him in from intrusion.

Suddenly voices roused him. A man and a woman speaking as they paused, just beyond the tree.

"You darling!" said the man's voice.

Silence, utter, complete, and Alexander Brett looked about wildly for means of escape. There was but one way, past this pair, but as he turned to take it, something in the intensity of their embrace seemed to forbid interruption, even by a diplomat. Cornered, he returned to his hiding place. He could pretend to be asleep.

"Oh, my dear!" The woman's voice, liquid, melting. Suddenly its note changed. "Oh, Tommy, do you know what it means to me to feel young again! After seven years of that old man"——

Brett sat up suddenly, stiffly.

"How awful old men are!' the liquid voice went on. "Nasty! He'd—I suppose he'd kill me if he knew I loved you! He pretends to think that love is unnecessary, that one can get on without it!" Her voice rose. "Hypocrite!" she cried. "Just because he's incapable either of feeling or inspiring such feelings himself he preaches against them!"

Brett winced. Was this the way Felicia talked to Dick? Was it—could it possibly have in it a grain of truth? Was he too incapable of feeling or inspiring emotion? And was it because of that—because he feared to let her find out how completely incompetent he was at this game of making love that he tried to hold her as his wife, deny the mating cry of youth to youth in her heart? He sat very still, his head whirling with the idea.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

The Post-Dispatch reserves the right to reject any query. Personal and telephone calls or answers by mail cannot be given attention, except letters or medical questions of undoubted sincerity when accompanied by stamped addressed envelope.

M. C. C. AND LILLIAN.—Find out what school of nursing your educational qualifications entitle you to enter, by applying to the Bureau of Municipal Nurses, in the St. Louis City Hall. Or, write any of the larger hospitals for their entrance requirements.

MRS E. E.—Different papers may take waterproofing differently. The following is used on wall papers to waterproof them before or after hanging. Dissolve two parts of borax and two parts of shellac in 24 parts of water, and strain through fine cloth. With a brush or sponge apply this to the surface of the paper and when it is dry polish to a high gloss with a soft brush. Thus treated the paper may be washed without fear of removing the colors or even smearing them.

LEGAL INFORMATION

(By a Member of the St. Louis Bar Association)

C. O.—A license is necessary for a trailer, used with the automobile.

A READER H.—The man cannot get a passport on his first papers.

C. D.—You can take your child provided that you do not use force in doing so.

P.-D. READER.—All you can do is sue the man whose car damaged yours Suit would be in a Justice-of-the-Peace Court.

A REGULAR READER. — The person described as a "double cousin" would get only a single share of the estate.

H. D. K.—If the facts are as you state, the bank cannot hold you liable for the forgery. If they are attempting to do so, consult a lawyer.

REGULAR SUBSCRIBER. — Notify the agent that you are going to terminate his agency before you advertise the real estate yourself.

ASLEEP.—No bill of the kind you ask about has been passed, relating to soldiers, sailors and marines.

ANXIOUS.—If the divorce was granted to you, then you can sell your property without your wife's signature.

THANK YOU.—Dividends may be subject to the income tax, but the stocks you ask about are not subject to general property tax.

DUMB.—The money you inherited in your name would not be touched by reason of your husband being bankrupt.

R. F. S.—Your creditors could sue you for the deficiency, that is, the difference between the balance due and the net amount realized by sale of the goods. (2) They could not levy on the home so owned.

MADGE.—The father could be appointed administrator, in event of the mother's death, but he could not give a clear title to the property unless the children signed the deed.

A. F.—You can sue the storage man on his bond. He could not be prosecuted criminally, with success, unless a fraudulent intent on his part could be proved. Consult the Legal Aid Bureau in the Municipal Courts Building.

L. L. H.—Adjusted compensation insurance would be paid to the beneficiary named in the policy.

T. H. B.—The wife can claim a child's share, regardless of the will. This share is in lieu of dower.

MRS. N. R. D.—The man could not be arrested for use of the assumed name, although married under that name.

OLD READER.—The doctor can sue for a debt which is seven years old if a payment on it has been made within five years.

MRS. F. S.—The marriage is legal, although contracted under an assumed name. They should have the name of their children corrected in the vital statistics office in Detroit. This will not be expensive.

JACK H.—If your divorced wife died leaving no will, and no children or descendants other than your own child, the child would receive one-half of her estate and her present or second husband the other one-half. 2. The child could be a joint owner of property with his mother.

DUMBELL.—If there was a foreclosure and the proceeds were not enough to pay off the third mortgage in full, you could be sued on the notes you signed, for the deficiency.

TEMPORARY ADDRESS.—The man who went into voluntary bankruptcy can form a partnership and engage in business, but his bankruptcy would justify you in refusing to go ahead with the plan in question.

W. S. R.—Legally, the property owner has no right to place wire around that part of the lawn between the sidewalk and the curb of the street, as this strip does not belong to him, but to the city. 2. In such a case as injury to any person from tripping on the wire, he might be liable for damages.

R. A. B.—1. The person not an employe could legally solicit savings for the bank, as you ask. 2. It is not a violation of law for a school board to issue a teacher's salary in advance. 3. Actions mentioned would not be against the law unless there was fraud involved. 4. A docket of a Justice of the Peace is open to public inspection.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS

Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnosis or treatment of individual cases will not be given.

R. O. B.—A competent dentist could best advise you about undertaking re-alignment of the teeth at the age of thirty. If in need of the names of dentists send for them with stamped, addressed envelope.

L. L. G.—If, as stated, your condition is what is known as acidosis, or excessive acid in the system, you should be benefited by taking a preparation called Alka-Zane, in heaping teaspoonful doses in a glass of water three or four times daily, that is, an hour after meals and at bed time. This is perhaps the only thing to be suggested aside from the advice to have the care of a physician. Avoid constipation, and take plenty of out-door exercise.

A Recipe for Today

Chocolate Brownies

One-fourth cup fat, one cup sugar, one-fourth cup milk, two eggs, one teaspoon vanilla, two squares chocolate, melted, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one cup flour, one-third cup nuts.

Cream the fat and sugar. Add the rest of the ingredients and beat for three minutes. Pour into a shallow pan which has been fitted with a waxed paper. Bake in a moderately slow oven for 30 minutes. Remove from the pan, cut in strips and roll in powdered sugar.

These are rich, well flavored cakes and should not be served too often.

AS I SAY PEG, I DON'T LIKE TO TELL ANYONE WHAT TO DO BUT ON THE OTHER HAND I'M BROADMINDED ENOUGH TO ADMIT THAT I GOT THE BIGGEST SURPRISE IN MY LIFE WHEN TOLD OUR YOUNG MR WHITE SAID ABSOLUTELY NOTHING TO ME BEFORE ASKING YOU TO MARRY HIM. FURTHERMORE.....
OH THAT ASKING A GIRL'S PARENTS IS JUST A MATTER OF FORM DAD.
WELL IT IS AND IT ISN'T. I DON'T KNOW ANYTHING AGAINST THAT YOUNG MAN AND I SURE DON'T KNOW MUCH IN HIS FAVOR. HE COULD BE BRIGHTER AND HE COULD BE DUMBER...... I SUPPOSE.
YOU'VE JUST BEEN SO BUSY WITH THOSE GUINEA-PIGS, DAD THAT YOU HAVEN'T HAD A CHANCE TO REALLY KNOW JERRY.
OH, WELL MAYBE HE'LL TURN OUT ALL RIGHT. IF YOU LIKE HIM WELL ENOUGH TO IMAGINE HE'LL MAKE A GOOD HUSBAND I'LL BE SATISFIED TO TRY AND SMILE. AND HOPE FOR THE BEST.
OH DAD I KNOW JERRY STARTED OFF ON THE WRONG FOOT WITH YOU.
THAT MAY BE! ANYTHING CAN HAPPEN. I'VE ALWAYS BEEN AN OPTIMIST IN AFFAIRS LIKE THIS. WHEN ALL IS SAID AND DONE I SUPPOSE THERE'S A LOT OF THINGS TO BE SAID IN HIS FAVOR IF A PERSON HAS THE TIME AND PATIENCE TO SIT DOWN AND THINK HARD ENOUGH.

STOCK RISE IS GENERAL ON 'CHANGE

Relatively Low Call Money Rates and Large Quotas of Favorable Trade and Business News Factors.

PUBLIC UTILITIES REACH NEW PEAKS

Weekly Steel Trade Reviews Emphasize Continued Heavy Demand for Steel Products.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 13.—With relatively low call money rates temporarily allaying uneasiness over the credit situation, the stock market moved forward today in response to an unusually large quota of favorable trade and business news. Nearly all groups in the industrial division participated in the upswing, which ran from two to nearly 10 points in many issues by early afternoon.

The coppers, public utilities, steels and oils gave the best demonstrations of group strength.

Shading of the call money rate to 6 per cent again brought another outbreak of buying in the last hour, when some of the volatile issues displayed marked buoyancy. Radio (old) mounted 12¼ points, Peoples Gas 8¾ and Johns-Manville 6⅞. Contrary to the general trend, Rossia Insurance fell back 9½ points, after yesterday's jump of nearly 22 points closing 4⅝ points net lower. A. M. Byers dropped 7 points but recovered 4 of its loss at the close.

The average of 50 industrial stocks closed 2.5 points higher, 20 railroads .2 of a point better and 20 utilities 2.2 points up. Total sales were 3,330,050 shares.

Call money renewed at 7 per cent but that figure was shaded in the "outside market" where loans were reported as low as 6½. While a "money squeeze" late this week or early next week is still regarded as a possibility because of the heavy mid-month shifting of funds, Wall Street derived considerable encouragement from reports that gold shipments, totaling about $15,000,000, were on their way here from Argentina and Germany, the exchanges of which have fallen below the "gold import" points. Wall Street figures that each dollar in gold provides the basis for $10 in credit.

Favorable News.

There was another series of excellent 1928 earnings reports, led by that of the American Sugar Refining Co. Weekly steel trade reviews emphasized the continued heavy demand for steel products. Iron Age reported that "with current output close to the practical capacity of the steel furnaces, March is expected to set new records for both monthly and average daily production." Directors of the Michigan Central Railroad, more than 99 per cent of the stock of which is owned by the New York Central, declared a 100 per cent dividend as against a previous rate of 40 per cent, and extra dividends were declared on the A and B stocks of Devoe & Raynolds.

Radio Corporation issues were again heavily bought. The old stock, which has only about 10 days more of life on the "big board," ran up, and the new stock changed hands in blocks of 5000 and 10,000 shares at advancing prices. Allied Chemical soared 9 points, Pierce Oil preferred 9½, Wright Aeronautical 6, Houston Oil 8⅝ and Commercial Solvents 7. National Lead gained 5 points, but lost it and ⅞ point more at the close. Pierce Oil preferred finished 5½ points net higher.

Pacific Lighting ran up 5 points to a new peak at 85 on the announcement that the company had acquired the Southern California Gas Co. People's Gas jumped 8¾ points to 284 and Electric Power and Light 3⅝ to 68⅝, both new high records.

U. S. Steel common, Colorado Fuel, Mexican Seaboard, Midland Steel Products preferred, International Telephone and Underwood Elliott Fisher all sold 4 to 5 points higher, closing 1⅞ to 4¼ net up. Walworth moved into new high ground on rumors of expanding earnings.

Oils were in brisk demand in the early trading on reports of a sharp decrease in crude oil production last week, and expectations of favorable action toward voluntary curtailment plans, at the conference of oil executives in Houston, Tex., this week.

Closing stock prices with other tables and market news will be found on pages 34, 35, 36 and 37.
